ONE interesting characteristic of the current Stock Market is the increased evidence of general buying. The participation of the non-professional public in the market is still comparatively small; but it is growing larger. It is characteristic of these non-professional speculators not to begin buying until prices are already pretty high, and apparently prices have reached by this time the necessary stage of exaltation. It should be added, that as soon as this stage is reached, speculation for still higher prices becomes more dangerous. The bankers and the professional operators, who accumulated stocks late in the spring and early in the summer will sell them to the public, and will then wait to see how far the buying movement will go. If it goes too far they can turn around and sell the market in anticipation of the inevitable reaction. But at present such a turn of the tide is still distant. There are some disturbing factors, such as the negotiations at Portsmouth, but each succeeding week seems to add something to the excellence of the business situation in this country. One would, indeed, suspect the chorus of hopeful anticipations, which come from the financial pages of the daily journals, were it not that the situation really seems to be as good as it is generally considered. The question is: What use the railway financiers will make of this prosperity during the coming year? It is incredible that they will allow it to pass without some considerable distribution of new securities.

REAL estate brokers report almost universally that the demand for house-room is quite as good as it was last year, and that there will be very few vacancies at the end of the renting season. This applies quite as much to the higher as to the lower grade of tenements. Tenants in elevator apartment houses are showing less disposition than usual to move, because they realize the difficulty of securing other accommodations. At the same time there is not so much talk as there was last year of increases of rent. Landlords are not obliged to make concessions in order to tempt tenants; but the great increase in the number of tenements and apartment houses under construction has restored a more normal relation between the demand for house-room and the supply. Builders still have every encouragement to continue construction on a large scale; but if the present rate of building is continued for another year or two, it is safe to say that the supply will run somewhat ahead of the demand. During the current year almost $60,000,000 will be spent upon new residence accommodations in Manhattan, about $25,000,000 in the Bronx, and about $40,000,000 in Brooklyn. Speaking roughly, $125,000,000 ought to build enough house-room to accommodate something like 200,000 inhabitants, which is assuredly a larger number than will be added to the population of New York City during the same period. Of course, this enormous mass of construction was intended to meet a deficit, as well as to accommodate the current increase; and for that reason we can believe that it can be wholesomely continued for at least another year. But it cannot be continued indefinitely, as to the increase of population, for which house-room has to be constructed, that is a matter which it is difficult to determine. About 100,000 inhabitants are supposed to be added to the population of New York every year; but it is entirely possible that the State enumeration will show a larger increase than anyone has guessed. Then, in addition, living accommodations have to be provided for the 10,000 or 15,000 people who are unhoused every year by the encroachments of various kinds of business upon space formerly occupied for dwelling purposes. All things considered, the number of new inhabitantns for whom houses have to be built each year is probably over 125,000; and it will soon be 150,000. New York builders have plenty of work cut out for them.

Organization of the Real Estate Interests.

FOR many years the Record and Guide has been insisting upon the necessity of a thorough organization of the real estate interests. There was no association of property owners which could speak with complete authority in the name of real estate, and which could support its declarations with a sufficient weight of influential opinion. Some of the existing organizations serve useful purposes and accomplish excellent work in protecting the interests of the owners of tenement houses or those of the property-holders of particular districts. The Board of Brokers, also, is a representative and valuable association, which serves not only the special interests of real estate agents, but also in some measure those of the whole real estate fraternity. But its membership is not sufficiently large and representative to speak with authority in the name of the taxpayers of New York City and the State. The consequence was that when legislation was proposed at Albany, as it is during every session, which deals with real estate and mortgage taxation, the real estate interests suffered from inadequate representation; and bills were passed, at the dictation of the Republican machine, that served still further to increase the amount of taxation which real estate is obliged to bear.

The new association of property-owners, which has just been completed, should meet this necessity. It is the outcome of the mortgage tax law, the passage of which at the last session of the legislature convinced large property-owners and their representatives of the necessity of more efficient representation. It has obtained the support of practically all the important corporations and individuals whose interests are vitally connected with real estate. The names of the gentlemen who have joined the association include the officials of the title and mortgage companies, those of the important real estate trading and investment companies, and those of the agents and trustees of the large estates. In addition, of course, many large individual property-owners and operators are interested in the association. It is proposed to make it a permanent organization, with paid officials and a local habitation. It starts with every prospect of a long and useful career.

The name of the association, viz., that of the "Allied Real Estate Interests," has been happily chosen, because it suggests the broad scope of its purpose and policy. It is not an organization of the property-owners of New York City, but it will seek to rally to its support the real estate interests of the whole of the State. This idea of making it a State organization is both new and admirable. A merely local association would not have anything like as much influence at Albany as an association with a membership scattered throughout the whole of the State; and there is no reason why such a membership should not be obtained. Legislation affecting real estate taxation concerns the property-owner of Buffalo and Rochester as vitally as it concerns the property-owner of New York City. All are alike interested in the repeal of the mortgage tax law, and in the prevention of any similar project of double taxation, and all should be united for these purposes.

Of course, an organization, such as that of the Allied Real Estate Interests, would avail little, provided it confined its activity to protesting against unwise and unfair measures of taxation. Its most important function will be the dissemination of correct ideas in relation to taxation, with particular reference to the tax system of New York State. The difficulty up to the present time has been that the tax policy of the State has been dictated by considerations of party expediency and local interests, rather than by any wish to obtain an equitable and economical distribution of the tax burden. The Republicans, under the leadership of Mr. Odell, have deemed it good policy to relieve real estate entirely of the general State tax, and to raise State revenues exclusively from special taxes. For a while this policy was apparently very popular, because the special taxes were levied upon comparatively few people, and upon a comparatively narrow range of interests. But recently the attempt to obtain as much revenue as the State needs from special taxes has been more difficult; and the Republican leaders have been obliged to find the necessary revenue by taxing, in one way or another, the industry and business of the citizens of New York State. By their stock transfer tax they have placed a severe burden upon the financial privacy of New York City. By their mortgage tax law they have robbed those parts of the State in which real estate and building is active, for the benefit of those parts of the State in which it is inactive. Neither are the needs of the State revenue yet satisfied. What with the canal improvement and the constant increase of State expenditures, it will not be long before other sources of revenue will have to be found; and as the economists at Albany have come to the end of their ideas, they will have to resurrect old projects. We fully expect, for instance, to find them again proposing, before many years are out a recording tax on real estate transfers.

Under such circumstances it is obviously necessary for the "Allied Real Estate Interests" to advocate a system of State taxation which will provide the necessary revenue, without bearing too heavily upon the industries and business of the citizens of the State. It need not, of course, go too much into detail, but it must indicate the way, not only in which the necessary revenue should not be raised, but also the way in which it should be raised. We trust that it will have the money and the energy to prosecute this campaign vigorously and intelligently. Such an association, in order to be effective, requires a good deal of disinterested and persistent work on the part of its original members. Its popularity and power will depend on the services it performs, and it is to be hoped that it will at any early date reach a statement of the principles for which it stands and begin the work of disseminating them.

The Next Garbage Contract.

The daily amount of garbage to be handled in the Borough of Manhattan is officially estimated at 600 tons. As the present contract for removing it will expire a year hence, it is proposed to make certain new arrangements with the next contractor, and Commissioner Woodbury, of the Department of Street Cleaning, has drawn up a new form of contract, which has been approved by the Board of Estimate. The person or persons to whom the contract may be awarded will be required to build and put in operation and working order a plant of a capacity able to dispose of at least one thousand tons of garbage each twenty-four hours, and to begin work on the construction of the plant within sixty days after the contract has been executed.
tive as to final results.

Mr. Moffett's Mission to the Isthmus.

Two experts in Welfare Work, furnished by the Welfare Department of the National Civic Federation, sailed for the Isthmus recently, in the company of Chairman Shonts of the Isthmian Canal Commission and Chief Engineer Stevens. These men are W. E. C. Nazro, Welfare Manager of the Plymouth Cordage Company, North Plymouth, Mass., and Edward A. Moffett, editor of the "Bricklayer and Mason," New York. These experts are engaged by the Canal Commission especially to investigate the needs and opportunities on the Isthmus for the recreation of the workers engaged in canal construction, to put their conclusions in the form of definite recommendations, and to arrange to have carried into effect such plans as are adopted.

Mr. Moffett, as the editor of the official journal of the Bricklayers and Masons' Union of America, has made a special study of all subjects connected with the welfare of skilled labor in the building trades, of which there will be a great deal employed on the Isthmus. In his capacity as a national representative of labor, he will make a thorough study of the prospective conditions that will surround the mass of workmen on the canal.

New Tenants for Number One Wall.

The Merchants' Realty and Improvement Company, of which Louis Biel is president, and Edward Wise is vice-president, recently organized, has opened offices in the United Cigar Stores Company's building at the corner of Wall st and Broadway. The new company bids fair to become an important factor in the real estate business of the metropolis, as it has already closed a contract to handle the real estate interests of the United Cigar Stores Company, which operates 125 stores in the city and is said to be the largest rent payer.

Mr. Biel is one of the best informed men in New York on real estate values. For several years he has had exclusive charge of the rental department of the United Cigar Stores Company, during which time he has had hundreds of pieces of property offered him for the use of the company. He knows the city so thoroughly that he can tell instantly without referring to the map whether or not a location is a desirable one and can accurately describe the character of the neighborhood.

Mr. Biel has also kept track of values in other cities besides New York, notably in Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Paterson, Newark, Buffalo, Rochester, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago and Kansas City, in which stores are reported.

In handling the real estate business of the United Cigar Stores Company the new company will have plenty to do, as over three hundred and twenty pieces of property are either leased or owned by it. During the four years it has been in business it has been the policy of the former corporation to secure long leases of the property in which its stores are located in order to ensure the permanency of the business in desirable buildings, and also to make the owners feel that they are dealing with a responsible and far-sighted tenant. Often entire buildings are leased outright, the upper floors being sub-let for business and office purposes.

The Merchants' Realty and Improvement Company will, it is expected, deal extensively in downtown property. Already negotiations are in progress for the control or purchase of several valuable pieces of real estate in the Wall st district. In the building at No. 1 Wall st are also located the offices of George J. Whelan, president of the United Cigar Stores Company; F. A. Whelan, head of the Construction Department; and C. M. Stroock, of Platt & Stroock, who is the attorney for both companies.

The United Merchants' Realty and Improvement Co., which is, it will be seen, allied with the United Cigar Stores Co., has also taken a lease of the Astor property at the northeast corner of Broadway and 42d st, a 2-sty building, on a plot fronting about 44 ft on Broadway and 88 ft on 42d st. The ground floor has been rented to the Cigar Stores Company, and it will be extensively remodeled and refitted.

Near the New Bridge.

The opening of a new bridge across the Harlem, joining 145th st in Manhattan with 149th st in the Bronx, has drawn attention this week to a corner of this borough that is passing through a development that is very interesting because of its great rapidity. Sometimes wonder is expressed as to where all the houses that are noted in the building bureau returns are being put. A surprising share of them will be found in the district that is to be served by this new bridge. In the triangle between 7th av and the river, taking 135th st for the southern boundary, tenement houses are rising in great number. The houses that fell down last March, along 135th st, have all been rebuilt and are now being finished, and a long stretch of new work is seen in 136th st also, east of Lenox av.

In the cross streets east of Lenox av builders are noticably numerous. The features that distinguish one row from another are not particularly striking; no one would pause many minutes to study the architectural designs, but in the mass these battlements of brick are very impressive—for the money they represent, for the work they provide, for the materials they consume, and the story they tell of a great city's necessities and restrictions.

A few years more at this rate and the upper East Side will have its measure of space fully occupied, and when this present year closes there won't be much left, generally speaking, south of 145th st, except the Watts tract. On 145th st itself there will be built east of 7th av, a length of no less than 375 feet of tenements, 200 of which will belong to the Times Realty Company. Land in the vicinity of the bridge is very costly. On 145th st, between 7th and Lenox avs, fifteen thousand dollars was the price per lot recently asked for a plot.

Joseph Gordon Again a City Official.

Joseph Gordon, merchant, politician and baseball magnate, resumed his old post of assistant chief of the Manhattan Building Department on Tuesday last, when Superintendent Isaac A. Hopper appointed him his First Deputy, to succeed John L. Jordan, a general favorite of the Department, who retired from the Assistant Superintendency to go into business with his father, John Jordan, a well known west side builder.

Mr. Gordon was received with the heartiest possible welcome by the Bureau employees, by whom he was greatly liked when he was Superintendent before, under Commissioner James A. Wallace, in the closing days of the Van Wyck administration. Mr. Gordon is a resident of the 19th Assembly District, and is the popular president of the American Baseball League. He is now a coal merchant, but was for many years a practical builder. His salary as Assistant Superintendent will be $4,000 a year.

The Board of Education has given careful consideration to the matter of selecting a site in the vicinity of Public School 114, in Local School Board District No. 1, Manhattan, upon which to erect a large building to replace Public Schools 112, 114, 162 and 180, all of which are old-fashioned buildings, and no longer suitable for school purposes. Such a building is needed badly in this district, in which there are over 3,000 children on part time, with no property in course of acquisition to provide for continued growth of the population. The committee on sites having recommended that property on Oak, James and Oliver sts, adjoining Public School 114, be selected for this purpose; the Board of Education approved and intends to erect a suitable building as soon as title to the property has been acquired by the City of New York.

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Building Operations.

Contract for $250,000 Boiler House.

12TH AV.—The Consolidated Gas Company, No. 4 Irving pl, has awarded to The Louis Weber Building Company, No. 1 Madison av, the general contract for the erection of the 1-sty fireproof boiler-house, 55x100 feet, to be situated at 12th av and 132d st, at an estimated cost of $250,000.

Elevator Apartment for Upper Fifth Avenue.

5TH AV.—The Collins Building and Construction Co., 222 West End av, will build on the northeast corner of 5th av and 126th st, a 6-sty high-class elevator apartment house, 100x110 feet, for 36 families, to cost about $275,000. Plans are being drawn by Frank L. Lowe, 186 Remsen st, Brooklyn. The owners will award all sub-contracts.

George A. Fuller Co's $4,500,000 Job.

The George A. Fuller Company will commence on or about September 1st to wreck the Boreel Building, located at Broadway and Thames st, this city, to prepare for the erection by them of the 21-sty fireproof office building, which will cost about $4,500,000. Francis H. Kimball is the architect of the building, which is expected to be ready for occupancy about May 1, 1907.

Bids Wanted on Superstructure for Maryland Institute.

Henry Smith & Sons, 116 St. Register st, Baltimore, general contractor for the new Maryland Institute, to be built at the northwest corner of Mt. Royal and Lanvale sts, Baltimore, Md., is ready for figures on superstructure. The edifice will be fireproof, of stone, marble and terra cotta, and will cost from $350,000 to $400,000. John M. Carter, of 222 St. Pauls st, Baltimore, is president, and Messrs. Pell & Corbett, 31 Union Square, New York City, are the architects.

Twelve Private Dwellings for 141st St.

141ST ST.—John Hauser, 360 West 125th st, has just been commissioned to prepare plans for the erection of twelve 3-sty stone private dwellings to be situated on a plot 215x99.11, on the north side of 141st st, 35 feet east of Amsterdam av. The Picken Realty and Construction Co., of 1961 7th av, will be the owners. Further details cannot be stated as to kind of materials to be used in this issue. The architects inform the Record and Guide that only preliminary sketches have been made.

High-Class Apartment for the West Side.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE.—The West Side Construction Co., 1931 Broadway, of which Jacob Axelrod is president, have commissioned George Fred Pelham, 503 5th av, to prepare plans for a 9-sty high-class elevator apartment house, 60.11½x126 9 1-6 feet, to be built on the northeast corner of Riverside Drive and 92d st, at an estimated cost of $350,000. It will, of course, be of fireproof construction, with exteriors of brick, stone and terra cotta, electric passenger and service elevators, etc. The same owners will erect a similar building at the southeast corner of Riverside Drive and 93d st.

$400,000 Worth of Flats for Simpson Street.

SIMPSON ST.—Plans are being prepared by William D. Johnson, Westchester av and Southern Boulevard, for the erection of ten 5-sty high-class, up-to-date flats, 40x88 feet, for 14 families each, to be situated on the east side of Simpson st, 161 feet south of Westchester av, Bronx, at an estimated cost of $400,000. The buildings will be equipped with best open plumbing, marble and tile work, pressed brick and terra cotta exteriors, galvanized iron cornices, steam heat, electric lights, etc. The American Real Estate Co., Westchester av and Southern Boulevard, will be the owners.

Plans Nearly Ready for E. H. Harriman's Residence.

Carrere & Hastings, 28 East 41st st, New York, will be ready to receive figures about Sept. 25th, for the new country mansion, 33x200, for E. H. Harriman, banker, of No. 120 Broadway, to be erected at Arden, New York, at an estimated cost of $500,000. The structure is to be erected on Tower Hill, a sightly elevation of 1,350 feet. The walls will be built of stone quarried on the site. Stables, a power house, and other outbuildings will be erected. Particulars were given in these columns October 8th, 1904.

Contracts Awarded for Bronx Theatre.

FRANKLIN AV.—Herman Probst, of No. 10 West 29th st, has obtained the general contract and the West Virginia Bridge and Construction Company, 21 Park Row, the iron work, for the new Bronx Theatre, to be erected at the corner of Franklin av and 165th st, by the Bronx Theatre Company, No. 935 Home st, to cost about $175,000. The building will contain an auditorium, balcony and gallery, 116x70 feet in size, with every fireproof improvement, steam heat, electric light, having a capacity of 1,500. The company has as directors Max Wyner, 935 Home st, J. Fried, 320 Broadway, and M. and P. Wattenburger, of 3494 3d av. M. J. Garvin, 3307 3d av, is the architect. (See Record and Guide, February 18, 1905.)

Apartments, Flats and Tenements.

13TH ST.—C. B. Meyers, 1 Union sq., is making plans for a 6-sty flat, 24.7x90, for Julius Tushman, 13 West 88th st, to be erected at 519 East 13th st, to cost $35,000.

BUILDING NOTES

The American Machinery Co., formerly of No. 17 Battery pl, this city, has moved its offices to the St. James Building, No. 1133 Broadway.

James R. Moore, 156 5th av, has been selected electrical engineer for extensive alterations to Nos. 372 to 376 Pearl st, for E. Palmer, on premises, for which Ernest Greene, 5 Beekman st, is architect.

Milliken Brothers (iron, steel), 11 Broadway, New York, have under consideration the erection of mills on Staten Island, to roll structural shapes and plates. No plans have been decided upon, and nothing will be done for some months.

Ground will be broken as soon as the building fund has reached $20,000 for the new Roman Catholic Chapel for Cripples to be built on Blackwell's Island, for the benefit of Catholic inmates. $18,000 is now in hand. The structure will be ground level, so that there will be no need of stair approaches or other devices to tire the cripples. One side of the church will have no pews, being reserved for the wheel chairs of cripples. Special knobs will be put on each pew for the blind, so that each unfortunate can reach his pew without aid. (See also Record and Guide, July 22, 1905.)

Mr. Bergh has severed the old partnership with Cady, Bergh & See, as he desires to devote himself to Gothic work, and he has now opened his own offices at 189 Broadway. In taking this step he has desolved one of the oldest firms in the architectural profession. Mr. Bergh proposes personally to carry on business on the same lines which fell to him in his late firm, namely large and important structures of a city character. "The practice of architecture is necessarily intensely personal," he holds. "The stamp of the individual must be on all successful work. This is manifestly impossible in a partnership where a partner cannot always dominate, and never domineer, the assistance he receives. Frequently partnership loyalty compels him to father and defend work he cannot personally approve. To be sure, he may receive unmerited credit, but to an honorable man such credit is distasteful." Mr. Bergh proposes to take only such work as he can give zealous personal attention to.

Scheme for a World's Fair.

A movement for which the New York Central Railroad is thought to be mainly responsible has been organized ostensibly at Peekskill in favor of having a permanent world's fair at Verplanck's Point on the Hudson. The purpose is to erect enduring structures of steel, stone and concrete in which the world's progress in the arts, sciences and manufactures shall be demonstrated year after year. The financial plans provide for such reasonable annual payments upon the cost of the permanent buildings as will place the enterprise upon a solid commercial basis. The earnings will exceed those of any previous venture of the kind and will assure yearly dividends upon the capital invested.

Options have been secured upon several thousand acres for fair purposes. Committees have been appointed by the president of the village of Peekskill, the Business Men's Association of that place and by the town board of the Town of Cortland, all of which are working as a joint committee to have the fair located at Verplanck's Point.

There are two ways of reaching Verplanck's Point; by the river boats and the trains of the New York Central Railroad. How these alone could handle a world's fair crowd, is not clear.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Baragain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 ndicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before 2d figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

August 18, 19, 21, 22, 23, 24.

YOUR SYSTEM OF RECORDS?

BETTER USE OURS

It costs a dollar a mile to go to Chicago in a Special Train, but only a few cents a mile on the Empire State Express. The same is true of the RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY. Each subscriber receives for Twenty Dollars a year a service that would cost him thousands of dollars.

A system of records is as necessary to a real estate broker as the "ticker" to a stock broker. Conceivably a man might get along without either, but he would suffer immensely both in person and estate.

By means of the RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY, which occupies only a few square inches on a shelf or a desk, the real estate man is put in possession of a system of records in which he could find any particular transaction, be it conveyance, mortgage, auction sale or lease, as easily as he can find the name of one of his clients in the telephone book. It is permanent in form, ever ready and available. It does not go "out" like the office boy, or make mistakes like the stenographer.

The annual number of the RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY contains ALL the legal records for the past year concerning real estate and projected buildings, arranged alphabetically and numerically, with invaluable annotations.

These are supplemented by tables of important transactions, with typical prices, covering the past quarter of a century or more, accompanied by expert comments.

THE real estate market is already showing signs of a revival of activity. The sales reported day by day are fifty per cent. larger than they were a few weeks ago. They are comprised chiefly of flats and tenements, and such must continue to be the case throughout the fall. The investment demand for real estate must show itself capable of absorbing an unusually large number of new tenements during the next twelve months. More than twice as many buildings of this class will be offered for sale than were offered during the last twelve months; and this is an increase which will test severely the popularity of one class of investment. Fortunately, however, the new buildings will be well rented, and builders can afford to sell them at a price which will enable the investor to obtain a good return on his money. Considering the time of year, a large number of private dwellings are also being sold, but the demand for such dwellings has not as yet encouraged builders to resume their construction. One speculative construction company has, indeed, announced its intention of constructing twenty small dwellings on the Heights; but the enterprise is noteworthy chiefly because of its exceptional character. The plans filed during the present year show only one other operation of this character in this district. On the other hand, plans have already been filed for 260 tenements to be erected on Washington Heights, at a cost of not far from $14,000,000. As long as the erection of cheap dwellings attracts the capital of such a small number of builders, the few who do engage in it will come out very well; but it may be doubted whether the existing demand would absorb 200 new buildings of this class during a single year. The people of New York are acquiring the habit of living in flats; and only the well-to-do care for the comparative responsibility and expense of a whole house. Year by year the stock of private dwellings in Manhattan actually diminishes without causing any important alteration between supply and demand.

ONE sufficient indication of the assured re-election of Mayor McClellan is the confusion which prevails in the ranks of the adversaries of Tammany Hall. They cannot agree upon any effective line of opposition. Some newspapers and individuals, who, under ordinnary circumstancnes, oppose any candidate nominated by Tammany, are advocating the re-election of Mayor McClellan on the ground that in case he secures independent support, it will strengthen his hands against the worst elements in his own party and enable him to act even more independently during his second, than during his first term. The assumption of this attitude means that no fusion candidate will be able to obtain the cordial support of all the anti-Tammany groups. On the other hand, the opponents of Tammany, who believe in trying to nominate a fusion candidate, can see no hope of victory except by persuading Mr. Jerome to head the ticket, and there is no chance that they will succeed in obtaining the District Attorney's consent to such a project. Mr. Jerome will almost surely be re-elected to his present position, to which he is adapted in every way, whereas in running against Mayor McClellan he would be leading a forlorn hope. In view of the popularity of the present Mayor and his assured re-election, it seems to the Record and Guide that the efforts of the opponents of Tammany should be concentrated upon an attempt to run strong candidates for the offices of Comptroller and President of the Board of Aldermen. In a not improbable contingency, the President of the Board may become Mayor before the term expires to which new Mayor will be elected; and in any event the most effective method of securing good government for New York City is to elect an incorruptible and competent Board of Estimate and Apportionment. Unless the Mayor can count upon the co-operation of such a Board, he is powerless in all important matters of municipal policy. Consequently it is very much to be hoped that Comptroller Grout will be re-nominated, and will see his way to accepting the nomination. New York City has never had a head of the Finance Department who was more completely and intelligently devoted to the public interest.

EVIDENTLY, there will be a good deal of discussion of municipal ownership of public utilities during the local campaign this fall, but it is not so evident that any immediate good will come of it. Both parties are ready enough to come out for municipal ownership, provided the party leaders believe that a few votes can be gained thereby, but those leaders know perfectly well that a local administration is powerless to make any effectual step in the direction of such ownership. The city authorities can accomplish nothing without State legislation, which will enable them to issue the necessary bonds. Furthermore, it frequently happens that the local officials are prevented from moving by provisions of the municipal charter, and even by clauses in the State constitution. The Mayor of Chicago, for instance, is apparently able to accomplish nothing towards redeeming the platform on which he was elected, because of existing restrictive legislation; and in the case of New York, the constitutional provision restricting the debt limit to ten per cent. of the assessed valuation of real estate makes municipal ownership practically impossible. The existing debt margin is barely sufficient for the current needs of the city, and the city will be unable to construct even the necessary additional subways by the use of its own credit. Until this clause in the State constitution is either repealed or modified, it is futile to talk about municipal ownership. The only advantage which is derived from the agitation, which the subject is constantly receiving, consists in the preparation of the public mind for possible municipal ownership at some future date. If the public service corporations behave themselves, and are content with a fair rate of profit on their business, such ownership is unnecessary and undesirable; but, inasmuch, as these corporations frequently deem themselves entitled to extortionate returns, the city authorities should have the power to take any step in the direction of municipal ownership, which the public interest dictates. Such power should be considered as a weapon to be held in reserve, and to be used only in the case of an emergency. The municipal lighting plant, which the City of New York fortunately had the power to build, is an excellent illustration of the proper and necessary use of such a power; and it is a pity that the city officials are deprived a similar weapon in negotiating with the lessees of the new subways.

THE practical consummation of peace between Japan and Russia will not vitally affect the financial situation in this country, but it removes one important danger. In case peace had not been concluded, the failure of the negotiations would have had a serious effect upon the European money market, which in turn would have affected the money market of this country; and it is possible that the disturbances produced thereby, would have effectually checked any further rise in prices during the coming fall. The success of the negotiations at Portsmouth removes this danger, and it assures American bankers that they can obtain, at satisfactory sales, the money which they may need to borrow in Europe between September 1st and January 1st. Both Japan and Russia will have to do some further borrowing in order to wind up their military operations; but the cash they will have to raise will be comparatively small, and their creditors will be relieved of all apprehensions. On the other hand the termination of the war, which during its continuance has been profitable, both to American industries, and American railroads, will have a certain effect upon the business activity of this country. The Stock Market continues to behave in a re-assuring and wholesome manner. The substantial increases which have taken place in the prices of securities have been accomplished without creating a top-heavy and perilous speculative situation. The steady demand for stocks at the existing level of values is sufficient to carry the market over recurring weeks of profit-taking sales. Excessive speculation in any one stock is effectually discouraged. Every week provides an additional assurance that the farmers will have a year, not of ordinary, but of exceptional prosperity; and it seems safe to predict that while stocks cannot in many instances go very much higher, they will remain steady where they are already high; and will advance in case there is any possible excuse for advancing.

IT looks as if the agitation, which aims at the federal supervision of the life insurance companies was gaining ground. The officials of a number of important companies have announced that they will favor such supervision; and the proposal has met with less opposition than any other important scheme to increase the powers of the Federal Government at the expense of that of the States. Presumably, the politicians are beginning to understand that the proposal will be popular among the millions of policy-holders scattered throughout the Union; and the attitude of certain of the officials of the life insurance companies is probably dictated by a similar understanding. It certainly seems as if these policy-holders were entitled to Federal supervision in case they desire it. A man living in Chicago, who takes out a policy in a New York company, is beginning to realize that he himself can do nothing to improve the character of the inspection and regulation to which a company may be subject in New York State; and as long as the business of the companies is conducted so largely, irrespective of State lines, it is right that they should be supervised by a Government department, which is also not limited by State interests, prejudicies and powers. How far this National supervision can go is still a dubious matter. Lawyers are doubtful about the extent to which Congressional powers can be stretched in order to regulate these tremendously important trust institutions. But there can be little doubt that if such regulation is legally possible, it should be pushed to the limit. It would do the life insurance companies and their policy-holders no good to have one mere insurance department added to the many departments, whose rules and regulations must be observed in the conduct of part of their business. The Federal regulation should, so far as possible, supersede that of the separate States; and it should insure the two essentials of complete publicity as to the status of these institutions, and unimpeachable business methods in their management.

Features of the Renting Season.

CONCESSIONS TO TENANTS OF HIGH-PRICED APARTMENTS PROBABLE IN THE BRONX.

A note of divergence, as the diplomats say, can be heard occasionally in the tall grass of the renting field by the listening explorer of real estate conditions. In Manhattan no change from the exceedingly prosperous circumstances that have favored owners can yet be noted, but in the Bronx there are signals out that there will be an over-production of high-priced flats before very long.

Some concessions are being made to tenants already, and the expectation is that as the season advances and more and more houses are completed, there will be a further recession from high expectations. But for apartments costing not more than twenty dollars a month the requirement continues to be enormous. This is the figure which the family moving into New York from other towns hopes to find a home for, because, though more than is asked in most towns for a suite of rooms, it is still within their means. The usual renting house elsewhere is for two families; two lower floors for one family, renting for fifteen dollars or less per month, and the upper part ten or possibly twelve. A house for one family can be rented for eighteen or twenty dollars, and it will have all improvements and a choice situation.

To a family from outside, the rents of New York are simply appalling, and how to accommodate themselves thereto and retain a semblance of a comfortable home is said to be a problem painful for newcomers to solve. High-priced apartments are filled by compulsion, it is said; as few would pay the rates voluntarily. As the pressure from below lessens, vacancies in high-class houses increase.

For the Bronx the fact seems to be that the limit to the number of people willing to go that far for high-priced apartments is coming within view. In one neighborhood alone there are apartments in course of construction for twelve hundred families.

A very prominent citizen of the Bronx said this week that there was danger for the borough in too much apartment house building. More attention should be given to erecting detached private dwellings. "This sort is what the Bronx was intended for more particularly when it was brought into the city, and that should not be forgotten. The borough should not be permitted to get too strong a tenement-house reputation. I am not opposing tenement houses, but I maintain that for the good of property in general, there should be more small houses, and I know that this is not impossible commercially.

"Why it is necessary to build so many houses alike, with almost no variation except in door keys, I cannot fathom. Builders elsewhere manage to put beauty and originality into their work, but New York and Bronx speculators seem to have no feeling in the matter. If our builders would only try, the Bronx could be made a decent place to live in. I note that one large building corporation is going to try, and I predict that if they hold to their plan they win out by a large margin."

Speaking of Bronx renting conditions, Mr. J. Clarence Davies said: The indications for the coming season, to my mind, are exceedingly auspicious. There seems to be a large amount of money for investment for anything slightly under the market value.

"The percentage of vacancies is less than usual, except in steam-heated flats renting for from $30 to $50 in this section. Some slight concessions to tenants of the higher-priced apartments may be made.

"The most striking feature of the renting season is the enormous demand for apartments of five rooms, no steam heat, for not over $20 per month. The demand for these flats we are not able to supply."

ON THE WEST SIDE.

Mr. William R. Ware, of 451 Columbus av, referring to renting experiences on the West Side, remarked:

"The inquiry this year began earlier than usual, and I have already rented a great many apartments from October first, with no concessions to tenants in the form of free rent and lower rentals. In fact, I have obtained higher rentals from the new tenants.

"The percentage of vacancies this summer is much less than usual, as the majority of my tenants have renewed their leases.

"There is no over-production of apartment houses this season in this vicinity."

Regarding Assessed Valuations.

We give below a letter received from the Department of Taxes and Assessments, the figures referred to being those which we print regularly in our columns containing the recorded conveyances. The assessed valuations given by the Record and Guide are taken from the latest official documents available, which, at the present moment, cover the 1904 assessment. As to the assessments for 1905, although the work was commenced last fall, the official record is not yet printed, or available in any shape for the public, a state of affairs which is not to be taken as reflecting in any way upon the Department itself, but is due to what we believe to be a too lengthy mode of procedure:

To the Record and Guide:

Gentlemen: In your issue of August 19th, 1905, you quote the sale of 243 and 245 West 143d st, and say: Assessed land at $12,000; total, $23,000.

I beg to advise you that the assessment of the land is $16,000 and the total $27,000.

You also quote, in the same issue, 229 West 143d st, and give the assessed value of the land $6,000, total $13,000, whereas the assessment is $8,000 on the land and $15,000 for the total.

In your issue of August 12, 1905, you quote the sale of 286 West 142d st, and give the assessed value of land at $6,500, with a total of $11,500, whereas the same is assessed at $8,500 for the land and $13,500 for the total.

You also quote the sale of 144th st, south side, 100 feet west of Lenox av, 25.0x99.11, and give the asessed value of the land at $5,000, whereas it is assessed on our records at $7,500.

In your issue of August 5, 1905, you quote the sale of 125 West 137th st, and give the assessed value of the land at $8,000 and the total $22,000, whereas the land is assessed at $10,000 and the total $24,000.

You also quote the sale of 143d st, north side, 250 feet east of 7th av, 74.11x99.11, vacant, and give the assessed value of the land $15,000, whereas the same is assessed at $22,500.

The errors which you have made arise from the fact that you have given the assessed valuation for 1904, and as the assessments for the current year are made away in advance of the sales quoted, it is very unfair and absolutely incorrect to quote the previous year.

Trusting that you will give this matter your usual kind attention, in the interest of this Department, I am, yours respectfully,

CHAS. H. WOODHULL, Asst. Secretary.

Progress of the New York Central Improvements.

It will be a couple of years yet, the architects say, before bids will be asked for the new main permanent building at the Grand Central Station. A rumor that such bids would be asked for this present month was erroneous. The next work that will be undertaken in the general scheme of building construction at the terminal will be the erection of a permanent post office building in Lexington av. Nearly all the energies of the drafting force are being directed to that end. This edifice will cover the block between 44th and 45th sts, but the number of stories has not yet been decided on. The next work to be taken up by the architectural force will be the new power house at 153d st and Sheridan av, and then the car shops to be erected at High Bridge. When the present passenger station is removed the ground floor of the Grand Central Palace will be used as a temporary station for the passenger traffic. Eventually the building will be removed altogether. Long before the specifications for the new main building will be ready for contractors to bid on, the old station will be turned over to the O'Rourke Engineering Company to clear away and prepare the site; but this cannot be done until the temporary facilities fo handling business are finished.

The new station at 42d st will have two stories for the entrance of trains. Thirty feet below the level of the streets will be the terminal for the suburban traffic. The tracks leading to this suburban level will be four in number and will be depressed at 57th st. At the terminal the tracks spread out and increase at 15 platform tracks with double track loops and a storage yard. The loops provide for the easy and expeditious movement of the trains. On the upper story will be the through traffic station. The trains reaching this level will come from a distance, and will be hauled in from the gateways of the terminal, Croton and North White Plains, by powerful electric locomotives. They will come in also over four tracks to 57th st, where the tracks for this through traffic will increase to six, but will remain at a level just below the ground. At the station the tracks for through traffic are on the upper story and increase to 47, of which 20 will be platform tracks. The lowest portion of the terminal will be 60 feet under the surface. At this depth will be a series of tunnels for the ready conveyance of baggage and express matter to and from the trains overhead.

Work on the new Grand Central station is for the present confined to about the first third. This will be the eastern third of the terminal and it is being rapidly excavated for the depressed stations. As soon as it is excavated, the tracks laid and accommodation for the passengers is arranged it will be put into use and contruction will commence on one of the other thirds of the station. When the old station building is demolished the offices now in it will be moved to a new building on Vanderbilt av, which is costing about $250,000. It is called a temporary office building, but is being constructed very substantially and may be used for a long term of years, if that is deemed necessary or expedient.

The main station building will cover an area of eight acres, and the whole terminal 64 acres. The terminal facilities or the ability to handle traffic safely and expeditiously will be increased fourfold. The terminal will be able to store altogether 1,169 cars. An important development in connection with the construction of this great terminal will be that all of the cross streets from 50th to 45th sts will be opened through from east to west. The east and west in this district will not be divided in the course of five years or less as they are at present. This should have an important effect on the value of land in the vicinity of the improvements. A great deal of work has already been done on this elaborate terminal, which is designed to handle the greatest traffic in the world. It is expected that it will be completed in all particulars in about five years. At present work is under way at many points within the electric zone north of the Grand Central station, and at the Grand Central station as well.

Along the line to the north 55 grade crossings are being eliminated, the only four-track tunnel in the world has been built at Kingsbridge, which has shortened the route to Buffalo by one mile, and the line has been practically reconstructed in many places. Everywhere in the electric zone the road will have at least four tracks, in some places six tracks, and in one case eight tracks. Of course at all points in the electric zone arrangements are being made for the exclusive use of electricity to move the trains. When the terminal is completed all trains will be moved in this electric zone by electricity.

Obituary Notes.

Edwin Terry, of 138 Berkeley pl, Brooklyn, who until three years ago was prominently engaged in the brick business on the Hudson, died recently at Sault Ste. Marie, aged 76 years.

In 1882 Mr. Terry became interested in the organization of the Washburn Steamboat Company, which was established to secure more competent service in placing the brick manufactured on the Hudson on the market. One of the several steamers constructed for this company was named for Mr. Terry. On conditions which secured the object of its inception the company was absorbed by the Cornell Steamboat Company.

The Thatcher Furnace Company announces the death of Mr. Frederick B. Raymond in the Adirondacks on Tuesday, August 15, 1905. Mr. Raymond had been associated with the company since its reorganization, fifteen years ago. "He was a man of high ideals and character," is the tribute of his associates; "his lovable disposition and high business standard endured him to a large circle of friends."

William E. Stone, architect, of 55 Broadway, this city, was killed on Friday evening, Aug. 25th, on the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks at Princeton Junction, N. J. Mr. Stone was crossing the tracks when an express bound for New York struck and killed him instantly. He was forty years of age, and has been associated for several years with his brother, S. S. Stone, as architects, their specialty being the designing of country houses. He was a member of the Architectural League, and lived at No. 43 Washington square south. A widow survives him.

Matthew C. Fleming, who was Assistant Corporation Counsel in charge of tenement house affairs under the Low administration, has been appointed assistant to Counselor Charles C. Hughes for the coming insurance investigation.

Fraudulent Real Estate Schemes.

REALTY CORPORATIONS USED AS A MEANS OF SWINDLING.

A scheme to defraud Manhattan people has been brought to light by a lawsuit instituted by the Ralph Realty Company against two lawyers, named Benjamin W. Slote and Samuel Bikoff and several other individuals, to compel them to account for and to turn over to the corporation $4,000 which it is alleged they fraudulently realized from a real estate transaction.

During the past two years or so, hundreds of little realty corporations have been organized on the East Side, particularly for the purpose of dealing in Brooklyn lots. Inducements are held out to the poor dwellers of the tenement houses that by joining corporations of this kind which are usually formed with one hundred members and by paying anywhere from five to ten dollars per month for their stock, they would soon become the owners of lots and cottages. An offer of this kind to a man who is compelled to dwell with his family in an East Side tenement and pay from twenty to twenty-five dollars per month for little tenement-house apartments are certainly enticing, and so these victims fall into line easily.

Usually the moving spirit of such an enterprise is a lawyer; he organizes the company and after collecting from these people two or three monthly installments, which by this time aggregates perhaps a thousand or two thousand dollars, he already perhaps has in his possession propositions from various parties to sell blocks of land to the company upon easy installments and this is where the "get rich quick" scheme comes in.

He gets an offer perhaps of a hundred lots at a hundred dollars each, and makes a secret agreement with the sellers by which the company is to be charged two hundred dollars for a lot and he is to receive the difference, which makes about $10,000. Being the moving spirit of this corporation, and the majority if not all of the stockholders of that little company being men of no experience whatsoever, he has no difficulty in getting the corporation to make the purchase of the hundred lots for $20,000, payable in monthly installments out of the monthly payments made by these stockholders of the company, and so with a stroke of his pen he as made $10,000 on a real estate transaction. The agreements between the gentleman and the owners of the lots is usually to the effect that he is to receive one-half of every installment made by the company.

These poor people after making a number of monthly payments, finally realize that they have been "done," that the lots are situated somewhere beyond civilization, that they are nearly worthless and that it would take them years and much more money than they would ever be able to raise in their present condition to realize their hopes, so they cease making further payments and lose whatever amount they have paid in, and the spoils are then divided between the organizers of the company and the seller of the lots. Thousands of the East Side people have been fooled in this manner. In this action, the Ralph Realty Company alleges that the two lawyers, to wit, Benjamin W. Slote and Samuel Bikoff, together with another man named Samuel Feldman, who were directors of the company, have entered into a secret agreement with a concern that owns some lots in Jamaica, whereby the concern was to charge the company for the lots $4,000 more than the price and this $4,000 should be turned over to these three gentlemen. The company relying upon the representations made by these gentlemen has purchased the lots and has paid in several thousands of dollars, and now has learned that these two lawyers, Slote and Bikoff, and their associate Feldman have been getting from time to time exactly one-half of the amount that the company has paid on account of these lots. The Ralph Realty Company has retained Lawyer Charles Dushkind to take proper steps to recover the money that the company has been defrauded of and to bring these people before the proper authorities, hence this action to compel Slote, Bikoff and Feldman to return, to account for, and turn over to the company all the moneys they have received out of this fraudulent transaction.

Mr Dushkind says that since he has been retained by this corporation a number of other similar corporations have come to him with similar complaints. In one instance, a company named The Arcadian Realty Company was induced to purchase a block of lots for $42,000, for which the seller was to receive only $30,000, and the remaining $12,000 was to be divided up among these promoters. Some of the people connected with the promotion of the Ralph Realty Company are also connected with the Arcadian Realty Company, but the fraud practiced by the Arcadian Realty Company was so gross and palpable that no sooner did Mr. Dushkind take the matter in his hands than this gentleman volunteered to release the company of this $12,000. Mr Dushkind says that in addition to the civil action that he has brought against these people, he will soon have the case in proper form to present it to District Attorney Jerome for criminal prosecution and also to the Bar Association with a view of instituting proceedings to have them disbarred.

Biggest Yet.

The Record and Guide Quarterly containing the records of real estate transactions from April 1 to June 30, 1905 is now ready for delivery. This is the largest quarterly we have issued. It contains 403 pages. The first yearly volume of the Quarterly containing the records for a whole year had only 390 pages, and the second only 437.

The total assessed valuation of real estate legally exempt from taxation in the City of New York for the year 1905 is $1,035,809,577.

Elevator Contracts.

The Marine Engine and Machine Company, with offices at 126 Liberty st, this city, has obtained the following contracts: For the new Municipal Building at Washington, D. C., seven large electric elevators of the tandem type, with a capacity of $3,000 lbs. at a speed of 300 ft. per minute. One freight elevator for the New York Post Office and two electric passenger elevators for the new 14-sty fireproof building to be erected in Cincinnati, Ohio, to be known as the Harrison Building, owned by the estate of L. R. Harrison and for which Gustave W. Drach is the architect.

Tidewater Company's Big Mill Contracts.

The Tidewater Building Company, of this city, has a large and well organized force at work on the manufacturing plant which it is erecting for the Underwood Typewriter Company, at the corner of Capital av and Woodbine st, Hartford, Conn. The combined frontage of the several buildings aggregate eight hundred feet. They are of mill construction, of modern type, with concrete foundation, brick walls and brown stone trimmings. The office building is of ornate design and the plant will cost when finished about $500,000. Work was commenced on July 1, 1905 and the buildings are expected to be finished about February 1, 1906. The architect is Isaac A. Allen, Jr., of Hartford, Conn.

A judgment for $5,051 was obtained by default on Thursday by the Fourteenth Street National Bank against the Trood Realty Co. The latter is not indebted in fact to the creditor and a stay of proceeding was granted to it yesterday by the Supreme Court and proper steps have been taken to vacate the judgment. Dr. R. J. Sachies, Secretary, Trood Realty Co.

Class Publications a Growing Necessity.

(From the Wall Street Summary.)

The columns of the great daily newspapers are so burdened with miscellaneous items that it is little wonder that their editors are compelled to leave to the more serious publications the task of keeping the business man informed about those events of really vital importance to himself. Other editors have not been slow in taking the field. Periodicals in great numbers have grown up, all intent on furnishing business men with the news in the own particular sphere. The business man of to-day realizes their worth. For general news he will get his Times or Sun, Tribune or Evening Post, World or Herald, but for information of more vital importance to himself, he will depend upon a class publication. If interested in finance, commerce and industry, he will read The Wall Street Summary; if in iron, The Iron age; if in real estate, The Record and Guide; if in scientific matters, The Scientific American, and so through a long list of excellent periodicals. Manifestly publications of this sort are better appreciated by their thousands of readers than they are in the offices of the general newspapers. That is not "tiresome reading" which furnishes a man with facts and suggestions which help him in his business. The importance of the class periodical keeps pace with the growth of commerce and industry.

Architectural Record for September.

When anyone looks through the pages of the "Architectural Record" for September, the question must come into his reflections, why it is that we here in New York, of all cities, continue to miss so many of the really enjoyable fruits of architecture? Why must the average man go to the country to really live? Isn't there anywhere in the outskirts of this money-mad center a suitable suburb for "Some California Bungalows," which look so very pretty and inviting in the pictures of the magazine? They make one feel like dropping everything these hot summer days and leaving for California at once, just to live in one of the romantic cottages. That is, one thinks that way until he turns over a few pages, and begins to read about "The Japanese Room in the Marquand House," (by Russell Sturgis), when a contrary current of wishes and ideas sets in, and the conclusion presently comes that old New York has its charming side also. Other interesting chapters in the magazine are, "A New Series of Stage Settings for Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet," by Frank Chouteau Brown. "Decorative Painting in Mantua, Italy," by Alfredo Melani; "The American Pantry," by Katherine C. Budd, and a story about the new Chapter House at Cornell, with a department of Notes and Comments, and many high-grade illustrations interspersed.

Devery to Build a Hotel.

William S. Devery, former chief of New York police, is having plans prepared for a large building to be erected on his property on Mott av, Grove and White sts, Far Rockaway, directly facing the railroad depot.

The building is to comprise a hotel, banquet hall and offices, and it is expected to be finished by next summer. The former chief has recently become quite interested in Far Rockaway realty and only a week ago paid $24,250 for a plot in Bayswater.

—That 42-sty hotel project for Albert J. Adams, which the daily papers expatiated upon this week, belongs, so far as we can ascertain, to the category of those lovely castles in Spain that we own but have never actually visited in the flesh, which have beautiful green lawns sweeping down to a pearly river, gemmed with flowers and statues and cooling fountains; a castle whose marble halls are filled with priceless treasures, where no sorrow ever comes, and all is peace and love. Mr. Merritt, the architect who was named, knows nothing about it, nor did any body at Mr. Adams' office know when inquiry was made, and as these were the reputed sources of the report, it can only be explained as a pleasantry of the imagination.

—So desirable and pressing is the widening of a portion of West 59th st that a petition is again being circulated among the owners of abutting property asking for the improvement. The section now referred to is that between the Circle and 9th av, and the natural operation would be to take the additional width needed from the north side of the street. Between the house lines 59th st is only sixty ft. wide, and part of the extremely narrow roadway is taken up by car tracks, so that the heavy traffic through here is oftentimes congested and usually accomplished with difficulty. This movement is independent of the former proposal for widening East 59th st as well as this single west side block, which has been abandoned on account of the enormous expense. But the improvement of merely the block between the Circle and 9th av would not be as Metropolitan values go an extraordinary undertaking. On the north side of the block there are but twenty-two distinct pieces of property, fifteen of which are 5-sty tenements and one a 4-sty. Copies of the petition can be found at the offices of M. & L. Hess, 907 Broadway, and Theodore Rogers Brill, 351 West 59th st.

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Building Operations.

Contract for a Broadway Alley Hotel.

BROADWAY ALLEY.—Mrs. M. T. Johnston, 253 East 61st st, will build at the northwest corner of Broadway Alley and 26th st an 8-sty fireproof hotel, 20x98.3 ft in size, for which Owen Costello, care of owner, has obtained the general contract. Two old buildings will be demolished. There will be an exterior of pressed brick, Vermont marble coping, galvanized iron skylights and cornices, elevators, steam heat, electric light, plastic slate roof, etc. Thain & Thain, of 4 East 42d st, are the architects.

Steel Contract Let for $800,000 Apartment House.

AMSTERDAM AV.—The Ripley Realty Co., 900 7th av, owners and general contractors to build the new 12-sty elevator apartment house, 119.2x92.2, at the southeast corner of Amsterdam av and 73d st, have just awarded to the Hay Foundry and Machine Co., of 141 Broadway, the contract for structural steel work. No other contracts have yet been let. The new edifice will be arranged in suits for housekeeping purposes for forty-five families, with four families to each floor. The exterior will be of light brick, limestone and terra cotta, and the interior will contain marble, tile, electric passenger elevators, and every possible improvement.

A. R. Whitney, Jr. & Co., to Build 45th St. Hotel.

45TH ST.—A. R. Whitney, Jr., & Co., 135 Broadway, have just obtained the general contract to build the new 9-sty fireproof hotel, 65x77, which The Home Club Co., 62 Cedar st, will erect on East 45th st, Nos. 11 to 15. Excavating has just been started, and the structure will be pushed as rapidly as possible. The exterior will be of Indiana limestone, brick and terra cotta, with tile roof, stone coping, galvanized iron skylights and cornices, steam heat, electric light, passenger elevators, etc. William C. Fisk, 62 Cedar st, is president and treasurer, and John A. Keppelman, 62 Cedar st, secretary. Messrs. Gordon, Tracy & Swartwout, 244 5th av, are the architects.

New St. Thomas's Will be a Competition.

5TH AV.—It has just been decided that plans for the rebuilding of St. Thomas's Episcopal Church, recently destroyed by fire, at 5th av, the northwest corner of 53d st, will be selected in competition, among well-known invited architects, and the award will be made through a committee of the board of trustees of which the Rev. Ernest M. Stires, rector of St. Thomas's is the head. The new edifice will be of brownstone, of high Gothic design, and cost half a million dollars. The wardens are George Maculloch Miller and James C. Fargo, and the vestrymen are Anson R. Flower, Henry H. Cook, Clarence M. Hyde, Charles H. Stout, John T. Atterbury, H. C. Fahnestock, Alexander M. Hadden, James T. Woodward and D. O. Mills. Plans for the temporary church have been filed with the Building Department.

Apartments, Flats and Tenements.

ELM ST.—Horenburger & Straub, 122 Bowery, are making plans for a 6-sty 22 family flat, 25.1x87.6, for Michael Briganti, 19 Marion st, to be erected at 164 Elm st, to cost $25,000.

71ST ST.—Geo. Fred Pelham, 503 5th av, is making plans for a 6-sty 22 family flat, 25x89.2, for David Lenten, 40 East 98th st, to be erected at 439 East 71st st, to cost $28,000.

BAXTER ST.—Bernstein & Bernstein, 24 East 23d st, are making plans for a 6-sty tenement, 25x87, for I. Lipman, 70 Elm st, to be erected at No. 137 Baxter st, to cost $25,000.

MOTT ST.—Wm. Sommerfeld, 19 Union sq, is making plans for a 6-sty 10-family tenement, 25x83, for Rocco M. Marasco, 57 Houston st, to be erected at No. 164 Mott st, to cost $10,000.

132D ST.—C. B. Meyers, 1 Union sq, is making plans for a 6-sty 33-family flat, 50x86.11, for Samuel Greenstein, 432 East 121st st, to be erected on the south side of 132d st, 100 feet west of Park av, to cost $45,000.

127TH ST.—Plans are being drawn by Geo. Fred Pelham, 503 5th av, for three 6-sty 23 family flats, 40x87x90, for A. E. Silverman, 1401 Madison av, to be situated at the southwest corner of 127th st and Broadway, at a cost of $125,000.

81ST ST.—Adolph Mertin, 33 Union sq, is making plans for a 6-sty 27-family flat, 50x89, for Charles R. Fleischmann, 141 Broadway, to be erected on the south side of 81st st, 225 feet west of West End av, to cost $30,000.

BUILDING NOTES

The high price of lath is the subject of comment among builders.

L. G. Morphy, has been appointed assistant to C. J. Parker, Principal Assistant Engineer of the New York Central & Hudson River R. R., with headquarters at the Grand Central Station, 42d st, this city.

George H. Burgess, heretofore Assistant Engineer of the Northwest system of the Pennsylvania R. R., has been appointed Assistant Engineer of the Erie R. R., in charge of the recontruction of the terminals and docks at Jersey City.

Messrs. Carpenter & Blair, 569 5th av, have completed plans for the temporary church building to be erected for St. Thomas's on the old site on 5th av at the northwest corner of 53d st. The Andrew J. Robinson Co., 123 East 23d st, has the general contract.

Under a plentiful supply, quotations for Hudson River common brick are moderate. During the frequent rains, which prevented brick-laying in the city, but not shipping material from the manufacturers' yards, a large stock accumulated in the market. So numerous are the cargoes awaiting delivery that boats are being delayed by difficulty in getting berths. Sales continue large under the easier prices, with expectation on the part of dealers of an advance in values if favored by fair and steady weather.

Lord & Hewlett, 16 East 23d st, Manhattan, have been selected in competition as architects for the new Masonic Temple to be erected at the northwest corner of Lafayette and Clermont avs, Brooklyn, to cost $300,000. The officers of the Masonic Guild are Theo. A. Taylor, president, 615 Fulton st, Brooklyn; George Freifeld, vice-president, 277 Broadway, Manhattan; Charles A. Tonsor, treasurer, 213 Clermont av, Brooklyn; Frank W. Robbins, secretary, 149 Leonard st, Manhattan; Abel Cook, chairman Executive Committee, 93 Nassau st, Manhattan.

In the design of the new stables for Arnold, Constable & Co., at 7th av and 16th st, a contributor to the September Architectural Record, "R. S." sees reminiscences of the Italian palazzi and the big street fronts of Ferrara and Bologna, struggling with the disposition to build a very simple brick building. The casings of the windows in the architectural basement—both the square ones and the oculo above them are terra-cotta casings with some little pretension in the way of adornments added to the run of continuous mouldings, but the casings of the great doorways are not so elaborate and the window-heads of the windows in the wall above are as simple as possible, easy to build of brick at flat arches, although in this case they are cast in one block as a terra-cotta lintel. And this simple building gives one a chance to notice and to say how very different the familiar old business of rustication is when treated in brickwork. One gets to abhor rustication when it consists in dressing the faces of handsome blocks of stone with little splays or rebates around their edges; but when every seventh course of brickwork is recessed three-quarters of an inch or so in order to draw a line of shade on the front, how sensible that seems and how pretty is the effect! If it were not for the too cumbersome parapet, what a good building would this 3-sty "horse hotel" afford!

For a New Brooklyn Station.

Plans are now in progress, by the Long Island Railroad Company, 126 Broadway, Manhattan, for a fine new 2-sty brick, terra cotta, passenger station, 40x125 ft, to be erected on Hanson pl, near Flatbush av, Brooklyn. Plans are by the company's force, and estimates will be received by them. No awards for the work have been made.

Mr. James H. Hyde to Build a New Place at Bay Shore.

The estate which James Hazen Hyde, through R. K. Corneille & Co., of Bay Shore, has sold to Louis Bossert, of Brooklyn, who is a manufacturer of door sash and blinds, has a frontage of 2,800 ft. on the South Country Road, just west of the village of Bay Shore, and extends from the Bay to the railroad. Comprising the property are more than 400 acres of land, a large house of English achitecture, a fine spacious stable, large carriage house, numerous outbuildings and cottages for men employed about the place. In the erection of the carriage house alone $80,000 was expended. About five years ago a large addition was built to the mansion.

Extending from the bay almost to the South Country road is a canal, which was built by Mr. Hyde at a cost of $16,000. Among the other beauties of the Hyde estate are a fine fishing preserve, several deer preserves and a lake containing swans. On the place also are a herd of ten elk, a valuable aviary of canaries and parrots and a few rare white deer.

All of these possessions, together with the farm implements and everything pertaining to the place except the furniture in the mansion, are included in the sale. Mr. Bossert has an option on the purchase of the furniture.

Henry B. Hyde, the founder of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, built the mansion and acquired the estate about thirty years ago. Oak and mahogany form the finish of the interior of the mansion. Many fine and rare trees are on the grounds, and the conservatories on the place are extensive. About $750,000 was spent upon the place by the Hyde family. The selling price is said to have been $400,000.

Mr. Hyde absolutely denies that it is his intention to make France his permanent home or to leave Bay Shore at all. It is believed in Bay Shore that he contemplates building a less pretentious country home somewhere in the vicinity.

Progress of the Blackwell's Island Bridge.

The Blackwell's Island Bridge will be finished about the first of January, 1908. Chief Engineer Nichols of the Bridge Department, being asked for a statement concerning the work, said: "Excellent progress has been made with the manufacture of the structural steel material at the shops during the past year and there is now delivered at the island about 6,000 tons of material. The false work for the erection of the iron has been in position ready for use, but the failure of the American Steel Castings Company to deliver the castings for the pier on the island has prevented the erection of any of this steel work now stored on the island. It is expected these castings will be obtained about the first of next week and that the erection can then proceed with great rapidity. The contractors have erected very efficient machinery on the island for handling material and as soon as the castings are obtained they will at once erect their steel traveler which will be used to place the steel work on the island span and the island cantilever arms in position. As to the progress to be expected during the coming fall, and subsequently, I see no reason why the Blackwell's Island Bridge should not be completed before the first of January, 1908. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment at the suggestion of the department has authorized the acquisition of property in the path of the approaches on both sides of the river; to Second av in Manhattan the approaches in Queens were 160 ft. wide, but these have been increased to 250 ft., so as to give us in addition to the land required for the bridge a good wide street on either side. We hope to let the contract for the approaches this fall so as to have them ready for the bridge when it is completed."

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE, BUREAU FOR THE COLLECTION OF TAXES, NEW YORK, September 1, 1905.

TAXPAYERS WHO DESIRE TO OBTAIN THEIR bills promptly should make immediate written requisition (blanks may be procured in the borough offices), stating their property by Section or Ward, Block and Lot or Map number, making copy of same from their bills of last year.

If a taxpayer is assessed for personal tax, the requisition should also request bill for such tax.

Each requisition should be accompanied by an envelope bearing the proper address of the applicant, AND WITH RETURN POSTAGE PREPAID.

In case of any doubt in regard to Ward, Section, Block or Lot number, taxpayers should take their deeds to the Department of Taxes and Assessments and have their property located on the maps of that Department and forward to the Deputy Receiver of Taxes with the requisition a certified memorandum of their property, which will be furnished by the Department of Taxes and Assessments.

Taxpayers in this manner will receive their bills returned by mail at the earliest possible moment and avoid any delay caused by waiting on lines, as required in case of personal application.

The requisition must be addressed and mailed to the Deputy Receiver of Taxes in whichever borough the property is located, as follows:

JOHN J. McDONOUGH, No. 57 Chambers street, Borough of Manhattan, New York.

JOHN B. UNDERHILL, corner Third and Tremont avenues, Borough of The Bronx, New York.

JACOB S. VAN WYCK, Municipal Building, Borough of Brooklyn, New York.

FREDERICK W. BLECKWENN, corner Jackson avenue and Fifth street, Long Island City, Borough of Queens, New York.

JOHN DE MORGAN, Bay and Sand streets, Stapleton, Staten Island, Borough of Richmond, New York.

After receiving the bills, the taxpayer will see that they are properly rebated, then draw check for the net amount to the order of the Receiver of Taxes and mail bill and check, with an addressed envelope, with the return postage prepaid, to the Deputy Receiver in whichever borough the property is located.

Checks should be mailed as soon as possible after the bills have been received by the taxpayer.

All bills paid during October must be rebated before payment.

DAVID E. AUSTEN,
Receiver of Taxes.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, tile and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Baragain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$50,000 ndicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before 2d figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

August 25, 26, 28, 29, 30, 31.

YOUR SYSTEM OF RECORDS?

BETTER USE OURS

It costs a dollar a mile to go to Chicago in a Special Train, but only a few cents a mile on the Empire State Express. The same is true of the RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY. Each subscriber receives for Twenty Dollars a year a service that would cost him thousands of dollars.

A system of records is as necessary to a real estate broker as the "ticker" to a stock broker. Conceivably a man might get along without either, but he would suffer immensely both in person and estate.

By means of the RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY, which occupies only a few square inches on a shelf or a desk, the real estate man is put in possession of a system of records in which he could find any particular transaction, be it conveyance, mortgage, auction sale or lease, as easily as he can find the name of one of his clients in the telephone book. It is permanent in form, ever ready and available. It does not go "out" like the office boy, or make mistakes like the stenographer.

The annual number of the RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY contains ALL the legal records for the past year concerning real estate and projected buildings, arranged alphabetically and numerically, with invaluable annotations.

These are supplemented by tables of important transactions, with typical prices, covering the past quarter of a century or more, accompanied by expert comments.

MR. JAMES HILL'S statement that he is a conservative bull, provided there is no over-speculation, is a fair estimate of the prevailing situation in Wall street. The obvious comment is, however, that there does not, at present, seem to be any danger of over-speculation. There are certain powerful banking and other interests behind the present market, which are apparently determined that whenever speculation shows a tendency to become excessive it must be discouraged with a strong hand. The consequence is that several times in the course of the last year the same story has repeated itself. The market will go up continuously for several months, until the speculative structure becomes a little top-heavy. Then on one excuse or another a re-action always takes place and a certain fraction of the previous gain is lost. In this way the condition of the market is kept sound, and the possibility of any repetition of the experience of 1903 is avoided. Just at present the excuse for the re-action is the danger of tight money; and it is undoubtedly a sufficiently good excuse. It is entirely possible that in spite of large railway and industrial earnings, and excellent crops, the scarcity of loanable funds will keep the market down during the next few months; and it is more than possible that the banking interests prefer that it should be kept down during that period. But should no change in the general situation take place in the meantime, it will in that case be gathering momentum for a further rise late in 1905, or early in 1906. There will be large issues of new securities during the coming winter, and it will be desirable to float them on a bullish market.

REAL ESTATE trading already shows a broadening tendency. Several comparatively large transactions have been announced during the past week; and in addition a fair volume of the ordinary speculative operations in flats and apartments have been recorded. Private dwellings continue to sell prosperously, and it looks as if they would sell still better somewhat later. Many people living in New York have made a great deal of money during the past year; and this circumstance always has a noticeable effect upon the demand for residences. This demand will be increased by the steady conversion of dwellings on the side streets along the line of Fifth avenue into business buildings. A great deal of this kind of conversion will take place during the coming year. It will be encouraged by the excellent character of the local business situation. The hotels and the retail stores have both enjoyed a very prosperous summer, and they are likely to enjoy a prosperous winter. The retail trade of New York more and more profits from the fact that so many well-to-do Americans, living elsewhere, make their purchases in the metropolis; and it is after a year of remunerative business that this fact counts. There are not likely to be any additional removals of big stores into the Fifth avenue district, and progress there, filling of the side streets with small shops will go on all through the [illegible]ated rate. The new wholesale district will [illegible] houses and apartments [illegible] influences. Indeed, it is probable [illegible] jected, and all require brick, [illegible] from Fifteenth to Twenty-eighth street will constitute one of the largest fields of building activity during the coming season. Already the announcement is made that a fifteen-story building is to be erected on the site of the Hotel Kensington, on the corner of Fifteenth street and Fifth avenue; and this is one of the few corners still available for improvement on the avenue south of Twenty-third street. The new loft buildings will soon have to be erected north of Twenty-third, and the question is where can they go, because Broadway and Fifth avenue are, for the most part, already pre-empted and there is not so very much room on the side streets. They will have to go farther east, or farther west, rather than farther north.

THE Record and Guide is always surprised at the lack of interest which is displayed by the citizens of New York in the vital problem of important street improvements. The efforts which a few societies and individuals have made to interest public opinion in a comprehensive scheme of street improvement and embellishment seems to produce very little result. One municipal campaign succeeds another, and neither Tammany nor its opponent deems the matter of sufficient importance to make its bulk large in its program of municipal public works. The report of the City Improvement Commission, which was made last winter, provoked very little interest. At a time when schemes of this kind are arousing enthusiasm in cities all over the country, and when many of these cities are taking serious steps to realize these schemes, New York remains comparatively indifferent. Yet with New York, it is not a matter merely of making the city a more attractive place of residence and of temporary sojourn; it is a matter which vitally affects the city's economic future. The street system of Manhattan is inadequate at the present time to the demands which are made upon it. Vehicular and surface traffic of all kinds is subject to intolerable delays. Owing to bad planning, some thoroughfares are crowded, others to which a portion of the traffic might easily be diverted, are practically deserted. Large parts of the city are made partly unavailable for business, because of the difficulties of communication. In the meantime, every year of delay is making the curing of these evils more difficult and more expensive. Real estate, which the city will need, will go up in price. Sky-scrapers are being built at important points. It seems impossible to put through a street improvement which is as obviously necessary as the widening of Seventh street. In addition, several legal obstacles exist to effective action on the premises; and when action is decided necessary, it will take years to remove these obstacles. Ten years from now, when the subway system has been extended, and when the population of the city will have increased by 6,000,000, or more, people will suddenly realize that the prosperity of the city has been imperilled by the lack of foresight which has been shown about this fundamental task of providing for freedom of movement through the streets of Manhattan.

THE statement by President Orr, of the Rapid Transit Commission, that contracts for the first extension of the Subway system will probably be let with six months, is good news. It is over four years since the necessity for such extensions was fully recognized, and no matter how the excuses are for this long delay, public opinion, especially among property-owners, is impatiently demanding actual beginning of the work. It is no exaggeration to say that new subways are more necessary to-day than the first subway was in 1899. During the last six years an enormous increase has taken place in the population of New York, and an equally important redistribution; and it so happens that this redistribution has so far taken place, somewhat independently of the existing subway. Of course, the great building development in the Bronx would have been impossible without the improved means of transit offered by the tunnel, but so far as Manhattan is concerned the great increase in population has taken place on the East Side; that is, in a district unaffected by the underground railroad. At the present time the tenement house district of the upper East Side and Harlem is the area of greatest building activity, and it is at the same time the area in which population is pressing most heavily on the space available for habitation. This is the district which already supplies much more than half of the income of the elevated roads, needs early relief more than any other part of the city; and it is very much to be hoped that the contracts for the Lexington and Third Avenue subways will be the first ones which will be let. It should be possible to build a Lexington Avenue extension to the present line from Forty-second street north within two or three and in case its completion is delayed for a period longer than three years, the effect upon the population of Manhattan will be serious. By that time the Brooklyn subway will be in operation, the Williamsburgh Bridge will have been made much more useful, and, possibly, trolley cars will be running from New Jersey into Manhattan. The Rapid Transit Commission should take care that the interests of Manhattan are not prejudiced by these improved means of communication to other Boroughs.

Washington Heights and the West Side.

IT is interesting to remark how different the real estate development of Washington Heights is proving to be from that of the West Side. The two sections of the Manhattan have many similar characteristics. Both of them lie along the line of Broadway. Both of them were marked for habitation, not by a poor class of tenement house population, but by comparatively well-to-do people. Both of them enjoy the advantages of a fine water front, and of other natural surroundings, which might well tempt the most desirable class of residents. In fact, Washington Heights is really an improved edition of the West Side. Yet, owing to the radical changes which have taken place during the last twenty years in the haracter of real estate operations in Manhattan, the two sections are apparently destined to develop along entirely different lines.

In the beginning the property-owners on the West Side made concerted and a well-planned attempt to turn a large part ' that section into a handsome residential district, many treets were restricted to improvement with a good grade of ivate houses. In Seventy-second street builders began to ect the same class of residences which had been erected at v earlier date on Fifth avenue. West End avenue, from Seven-wort le considering whether some united effort on the part of property-owners to maintain a higher class of improvement in certain districts would not be profitable? The notion of building up a really expensive private residential district must, of course, be dismissed, but at the upper end of the Heights, we believe that if property-owners would agree to build nothing but good dwellings on the streets and elevator apartment houses on the corners, such an agreement would be profitable for all concerned. On the West Side the plans of the early builders did not wholly succeed, but that is no reason why an attempt should be abandoned on the Heights to raise by agreement the character, and consequently the value, of certain neighborhoods.

IT should be strange indeed in case Tammany should endorse the candidacy of Mr. William Travers Jerome for the office of District Attorney. We all know how unsparingly and savagely Mr. Jerome has denounced the influence of that organization upon the political life of New York City; and some of us will remember how bitterly and unjustly Mr. Jerome attacked Comptroller Grout, when, during the last local campaign, he accepted Tammany's endorsement of his re-nomination to the Comptrollership. The further progress of this matter will be watched with utmost interest by all people who enjoy novel political complications. Whether, however, Tammany does or does not endorse Mr. Jerome, there can be no doubt that such an endorsement would be good politics on the part of Tammany Hall. If Mr. Jerome should be re-elected without its endorsement, his victory would constitute a blow at the prestige of the organization, which would mar an otherwise complete triumph. Then Tammany has nothing to fear from Mr. Jerome's re-election. The District Attorney has, during his term of office, made some trouble for the Police Department and for the gamblers, but he has not done anything at all to injure Tammany. All that it would lose by endorsing him would be the patronage of the office, whereas its gains would be considerable. The endorsement would be a plain declaration that Tammany is not afraid to place the authority held by the District Attorney of New York County in the hands of its bitterest enemy.

Ventilating the Subway.

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

I have seen a great many articles in the different papers relative to this question, but have failed to see anything written by a ventilating engineer, who seemed to understand the subject he was writing about. On June 23 I wrote the following letter to the Rapid Transit R. R. Co., and sent them a plan showing the method of installing the fans:

Gentlemen: I was referred to you by vice-president's office of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co. with reference to a proposed suggestion for relieving the much-talked-of "bad air" situation in the subway. While I do not agree with some who claim the subway is an "pneumonia tube," neither do I believe that the air is so impure as to endanger the public health to any extent; yet we all know there is a disagreeable odor, noticed especially when entering the stations from the outer comparatively pure air, and while waiting for the trains in the stations.

Now, my suggestion of a quick and comparatively inexpensive way to remove the objection, so the people will patronize the road, is to ventilate the stations. On Broadway, above 59th street (where there are openings provided near the stations), place two 6-foot exhaust fans driven by electric motors in each of these openings, as shown on our plan enclosed (there being two of the openings to the street near each station about 6 feet 8 inches x 13 feet 6 inches). These four fans will deliver about 250,000 cu. ft. of air per minute.

When there are no trains passing and the air quiet, fans will draw the most of the air from the stations. As the fresh air will come into the stations through the entrances, the least resistance will be from these points; of course, some air will also be drawn from the subway in the other directions, near the fans. It will be necessary to place some deflectors near the entrances to prevent short circuiting and insure entire air in the station being moved. When trains are passing the fans they will then discharge the air brought to them by the rapidly moving trains. If the stations are thoroughly ventilated, the objections will be largely removed and the people will patronize the subway as much in summer as in winter.

I have not examined the other stations where outlets will have to be provided, but will be pleased to do so if requested.

I would recommend that one of the stations on Broadway be equipped with four fans, which can be done on short notice at a cost of $2,500. While it is no experiment, it would give those interested an opportunity of seeing that good results could be obtained in this way.

Very truly, (Signed) D. M. Quay.

I also sent practically the same letter to Mr. Barclay Parsons, chief engineer of the Interborough, with a plan accompanying it.

Mr. Geo. R. Rice, chief engineer of the Rapid Transit R. R. Commissioners, very courteously replied to my letter on June 28 as follows:

conditions. We have openings every few hundred feet, where fans can be placed, and I think that I could demonstrate to you that we have not been behind in studying this problem. Should you wish to call, I should be glad to talk it over with you. Very truly yours, (Signed) George S. Rice, Chief Engineer.

You will notice in my letter of June 23 that the four exhaust fans referred to will discharge 250,000 cu. ft. of air per minute. This would change the entire air in the stations as often as is necessary to give as pure and as fresh air as there is outside, and remove a large amount from the subway besides, while all that is necessary to properly ventilate the stations, for the reasons that the rapid movement of the trains between the stations keeps the air in motion, and carries a considerable amount to the fans near the stations. These fans will discharge the greater part of this air while it is brought to them instead of drawing so much from the stations, because there is the least resistance at this point for the time being.

The cars that are being filled to a certain extent with the impure air while passing between the stations will be at least partially filled at the stations with the fresh air that is constantly flowing in to take the place of the impure air that is being constantly removed by the fans.

The passengers notice the disagreeable effect of the air in the stations while they are waiting for the cars coming as they do from the outside fresh air, and as the air is not in motion in the stations, except when an express train is passing, under the present conditions. But with the fans in operation the stations will be constantly filled with fresh air in motion, and all the perceptible difficulty will be removed, and this can be accomplished at a comparatively small expense. Especially if you consider the cost of building partitions between the uptown and downtown tracks, as has been suggested. There is a very serious objection to this in addition to the cost. You have no doubt noticed that when an express train is passing a local traveling in the same direction that the air forced into the local by the express often is sufficient to blow your hat off, from the front end of the car, showing that the resistance of the air is greatest in front of the trains, where it is not in motion. Now, if you reduce the subway to half its present size by building the suggested partition, the resistance will be so great that few sensitive women will venture to ride in the local trains, clothed in summer attire especially, and no one can read a paper when an express is passing.

On June 29 Mr. J. B. McDonald is reported in the Herald as suggesting that a system of water pipes be installed to spray the subway with water. I wrote Chief Engineer Rice my opinion of that on June 30th, as follows:

"Since writing you to-day, my attention has been called to the suggestion of Mr. John B. McDonald published in yesterday's Globe. As the air in the subway contains too much moisture at present, the spraying of the air, as suggested, would be about the worst thing that could be done; also the rapid movement of the express trains would carry this spray into the cars and injure the clothes of the passengers. The present high temperature and the spray of water would cause vapor which would give the passengers a 'free vapor bath' while traveling."

If the Engineers of the Rapid Transit Commissioners and Interborough Co. have been studying this question of ventilating the subway for several years it is not much to their credit, especially if they claim to be Ventilating Engineers, and if not, it is time some experienced Ventilating Engineers were employed who could make a success of the job.

Brick Building In and Around New York.

A brick manufacturer said that if business continued as it is now he would make money enough to recoup his losses in previous years, says a New York letter in the Clayworker: According to well informed builders, the New York market was never better than it is now. Immense public works are in process of construction which require an almost unlimited quantity of brick. In addition there are semi-public works now being built which require vast quantities more. Nor is the end yet. New projects are constantly being discussed or planned which will consume further untold quantities, while the building operations which are now being developed, or which are under consideration for the coming twelve months, will be sufficient to consume all that many yards can make, without considering the other structural work which has been mentioned.

Nor is this wonderful development confined to New York city. All through its suburbs, on Long Island, in Westchester county, on Staten Island, and in New Jersey, the same marvelous development is noted. Huge factories and workshops are being built on the Hackensack meadows and others are projected. In Newark, N. J., nine miles from New York, the development of this character is more important than has been known for many years. And these great manufactories mean that many dwelling houses must be built to accommodate the workmen employed in them. All will consume many thousand, probably many million brick.

The new subway has opened up much hitherto undeveloped country in Westchester county, and the construction now in progress there is beyond comprehension unless one has seen it. All through the upper part of New York City, great flat houses and apartments are in course of construction or are projected, and all require brick. What has always been called Staten nions of th not growing so fast, but the growth there is beyond precedent for that region. Aside from the development in Newark, other parts of New Jersey, adjacent to New York, are developing equally as fast. Bergen county, for instance, which twelve years ago was a sleepy Dutch community, has developed so fast that former residents rub their eyes and wonder whether they are awake or only dreaming. Railroads and trolley lines have penetrated almost every corner, and along these routes of travel thus opened, new villages and individual houses have sprung up as if by magic. And all have laid the brickmaker under tribute to supply building material in one form or another.

Suppose one goes away from New York and visits other portions of the eastern part of the country. It will be found that substantially the same thing is true. Development beyond the wildest dreams of the projectors of successful enterprises has resulted from movements started only a few years ago, and development beyond the wildest dreams of those now managing these enterprises will result from the redoubled efforts of the men now in charge. It is up to the brickmaker to be ready to supply the unprecedented demand which is certain to accrue from these influences and tendencies.

Dutch Art Revival in Old Town.

An office building for the Bush Terminal Company, which is situated at Broad, Pearl and Bridge sts, and is near completion, is a new note in downtown architecture, quite distinct from the prevailing commercial tone. The first thought on seeing it is that the architect has expressed a clever appreciation for the historic value of the site, and performed a real public service by reviving and perpetuating memories of the Dutch regime. Further observation develops the acknowledgment that, apart

The daily consumption of water in Manhattan and the Bronx is about 285,000,000 gallons, and under normal conditions the old dam would supply the city for several months, as there is a constant inflow. The new Croton dam was not completely filled this year, and is being cleaned. Next year, when it and the old dam are filled, New York will have a water supply of about 20,000,000,000 gallons.

The Gorham & Tiffany Buildings.

Two business buildings of very exceptional importance were opened to the public this week on 5th av, one by Tiffany and the other by Gorham, who are leaders in the jewelry and silverware trades respectively. Both are emigrating from the Union Square neighboorhood. As indicating a trend in real estate, the changes represented by the new constructions are extremely significant, which is a subject that has been repeatedly discussed in these pages.

The new Gorham edifice, about which the Record and Guide has probably hitherto said less than about the other, is eight

A Distinct Departure in Building Methods.

Atlantic City has never been famous as a place where fire would have trouble in gaining quick and disastrous headway. As a result of the lessons taught by the big blaze of three years ago, however, a building is now going up there which will be not only absolutely fireproof, but which embodies many novel structural features. This is to immediately adjoin the present Marlborough Hotel on the boardwalk.

The new building, which is being put up by the National Fireproofing Company, will make a new record for quick construction. On June 17th the big block of ground on which this building is being reared was absolutely vacant. On November 1st the completed structure, containing 250 rooms, and rising to a height of six floors throughout and to nine floors in a central dome, will be turned over to its owners ready for decoration and furnishing. Completely equipped, the hotel will open its doors on February 1st.

Stretching 425 feet back of the boardwalk, this new building varies from 50 to 125 feet in width at different points. One of its features will be a great sun parlor extending around the front part of the building on the second floor. This sun parlor will have an outlook up and down the boardwalk. It will be 25 feet wide, and will contain six fireplaces of unique design, thus making the parlor particularly attractive in winter. There will also be a sun parlor stretching entirely along one side of the building. In fact, the entire second floor will be enclosed only with glass on one side.

The structural part of the building is composed largely of hollow tile reinforced by a special steel bar. There are no large steel girders or beams in the structure. The outer walls are to be of hollow tile with pebble-dashed exterior finish. The use of hollow tile building blocks and fireproofing in this wholesale manner marks a distinct departure in building methods.

Another noteworthy feature of this hotel will be the fact that every room will have a bath and a bay window. The hotel structure rests on 1,300 piles, which were driven into the sand to a depth of 20 feet, considerably below the water line, by jettying. That is to say, holes were bored for the piles by powerful streams of water. No excavating had to be done at all. Engineers say, however, that the bath of salt water which the wood piles obtained in this jettying process will make them virtually everlasting when strongly surrounded by the abutting sand below the level of low water.

The Metal Workers' Strike.

The most serious attack that has yet been made against the arbitration agreement is the open strike of the sheet metal workers. Though this is a very important trade, including as it does tinsmiths of all kinds, tin roofers, stove and furnace men and metal door and sash makers, the consequence to the building trades at large is not yet very serious, because it will scarcely stop other branches, and there are various ways of getting around the difficulties the strike creates. The worst feature is that the outbreak shows that the element in the unions unalterably opposed to arbitration is still active, and in this case effective. Last night a meeting of the General Arbitration Board was in session considering what course it was best to pursue. This board being composed of both masters and journeymen, will be impartial. The executive committee some days back discountenanced the strike and ordered the men back to work, but defiance was the answer. In view of the solemn obligation which the union took to abide by the orders of the arbitration board, this action does not appear creditable. The strike is against the Employers' Association of Roofers and Sheet Metal Workers of New York and adjacent cities and was ordered to enforce a demand for an increase in wages from $4 to $4.50 a day. Before the strike was ordered the employers offered to pay the sheet metal workers $4.25 a day up to the end of the year and $4.50 on and after Jan. 1, but this offer was rejected and no opportunity was given for the Arbitration Board to act.

Street Railways in Manila.

A long step forward in the Americanizing of the Filipino was celebrated recently at the official opening of the Manila Street Railway. The plant of the Manila Electric Railway & Light Co. not only serves the purpose of supplying adequate transportation and lighting service to Manila, but it justifies the belief of the White Co.'s engineers that it was possible to educate the Filipino so that he could undertake skilled work as well as that of an ordinary laborer. It is extremely gratifying to note that many Filipinos are now employed in the capacity of carpenters and machinists, as well as conductors and motormen on the cars.

For just two and one-half years some 1,500 to 2,000 of the "little brown men" were occupied in erecting the power house and car barns and installing a complete electric system. Their wages ranged from 50 to 70 cents per day, varying according to their occupation. The Filipinos were well satisfied with this small sum, because it was almost twice as much as they were accustomed to receive under Spanish rule. The main trouble was to keep them at work steadily. With their increased wages they felt that two or three days of consecutive labor was quite sufficient. By allowing them to observe innumerable feast-days, and letting them take a rest in the middle of the day when the heat was intense, the foreman found that they were more willing to work.

A hard problem was to find a wood for ties and poles, and also for the car bodies, which would withstand the assault of the white ant and be practically weatherproof. As an experiment, three kinds of wood were used for ties; the native wood called molave, California redwood, and an Australian wood. Further experimenting has been done by treating the ties with preservatives such as creosote, jodelite, solignum and carbolineum. The rails were painted with asphaltum, and in low lying ground were laid in concrete.

The only wood which seemed to be ant-proof was teak, and the cars were built of this material, combined with steel of a heavy design, which was carefully protected with rust-proof paint. Teak is a dense hard wood which needs no chemical treatment. It is difficult to work with tools and to steam bend, and has such a beautiful appearance that the cars were finished in the natural color wherever possible.

The Manila climate is intensely hot, and hurricanes are a common occurrence. The majority of the equipment consists of open cars, but several convertible and semi-convertible cars are being used for experimental purposes. Absolute simplicity was the keynote of the designs for the cars, so that there would be no difficulty in keeping the cars clean. The heavy driving storms occur so frequently that extra precautions were taken to secure the comfort of the passengers. All cars are vestibuled and equipped with curtains of Pantosote mounted on extra heavy slats, which will resist the strongest wind. The gutters, water ducts, and cables for curtains are made of non-rusting metals, and the dash boards of extra heavy steel. There is a considerable overhang to the monitor roofs, and the ventilation is so arranged as to readily dispose of any water which may collect.

The Manila Electric Railway repair shops are thoroughly equipped to design and build their own cars, and are conducting experiments with a view to using native woods. The present equipment consists of 95 passenger cars furnished with Westinghouse two-motor equipments throughout. On account of the lower price of teak wood in Europe most of the car bodies were purchased there, but the trucks were purchased in America. The power house contains 4 Westinghouse turbo generators which produce approximately 4,000 H.P. Electricity for general power purposes, and lighting is furnished by the company as well as the power for the street railroad. The power house, car barns, and other buildings are built entirely of steel and concete, all metal being painted to guard against deterioration.

Viewed as a whole, or in detail, the plant of the Manila Company, which was built and is being operated by J. G. White & Co. of New York, is fully up to the most advanced standard of American practice, and it is a matter of no small importance that the Filipinos should have in their capital city such an object lesson and training school in up-to-date mechanical engineering.

A Criticism from England.

The London Builder, of the 12th ult., gives expression to some opinions of the recent building disaster at Albany and the Darlington disaster in this city, which have the merit of being interesting, but are under the disadvantage of being based on a distant and indistinct view of the scenes and occurrences:

"The immediate cause of the collapse is said to have been the incredible folly of workmen—engaged in constructing a new front to the building—who had removed some of the main columns without inserting temporary substitutes. We cannot understand why workmen are allowed to tamper with so important a structure except under expert direction. That sort of thing would certainly not be allowed in England, and we are reluctant to believe that it was permitted in the present instance. Without exact particulars of the construction and of the extent to which the supporting members were removed, it would be impossible to draw any reliable conclusions. We are inclined to believe, however, that the columns must have been of cast iron, for if of mild steel they would have given some warning of impending failure, and it is not impossible that the complete destruction of the building might not have occurred. The collapse of the Hotel Darlington, New York, during construction about a year ago was due to defective and badly-erected cast iron columns, which failed owing to lack of lateral support, and the whole building crumpled up. Something of the same kind seems to have taken place at Albany, and, if we are correct in supposing that cast iron was used for the columns, there is additional reason for mistrusting this material, especially in connection with high buildings of the skeleton type, where inferior workmanship, or anything altering the calculated stresses, produces results far more serious than those to be anticipated for mild steel."

Obituary Notes.

Theodore W. Daley, a contractor and builder of Middletown, N. Y., and formerly a Building Inspector in New York City, died suddenly on Aug. 23d at Goshen. N, Y., of heart disease.

Bruno W. Berger, of the architectural firm of Bruno W. Berger & Son, with offices in the Bible House, this city, died suddenly on Friday evening, Sept. 1st. Mr. Berger had been associated in business with his son Frederick for many years, and was 53 years of age. The business will be continued by his son.

Max Vogel, of 315 West 79th st, New York, 42 years of age, and for twelve years a prominent builder on the upper west side, died suddenly of heart failure on Saturday, September 2, at his residence. Mr. Vogel had been driving, and returning home exhausted died without warning. He was a member of the West Side Association. Among several noteworthy buildings which he erected and owned, are "The Hudsonia" at Riverside Drive and 79th st, Claremont Hall, at Broadway and 112th st, and Minerva Hall, 365 West 118th st.

Jno. Williams, Inc.

Probably no firm in this country is more widely and favorably known to architects, sculptors and artists than that of Jno. Williams. During many years this concern has produced bronze and iron work of a very high order, indeed, they may be said in a peculiar sense to be identified with and responsible for the great development which has taken place in the last generation in bronze casting in this country. Founded by Jno. Williams, it has prospered greatly since his wise management, and is today one of the most solid firms in the country.. Recently it was deemed wise to incorporate the company, and the following will be the officers who will have its management in their hands: President, Jno. Williams; vice-president and general manager, Jos. Mitchell; manager wrought iron department, H. B. Stillman; secretary and treasurer, William Donald Mitchell. With this able management the future success of the concern seems assured.

—Structural steel work is now coming on rapidly, and Fifth av, north of 14th st, has a number of examples. On the northwest corner of 15th st, the 15-sty Stuyvesant building, 62x150, is well advanced, from plans by A. S. Gottlieb, for Jacob Rothschild. J. B. & J. M. Cornell are doing the steel work. On the southeast corner of 16th st the 15-sty Knickerbocker building, also for Mr. Rothschild, has reached the fourteenth tier, with the masonry following closely. The Phoenix Iron Company has the steel contract, but the Eastern Construction Company is doing the erecting. It is to be a typical modern loft building, thoroughly fireproof, and furnished throughout with modern conveniences. The cost is estimated at $500,000. The Hoffman estate, with offices at No. 4 Warren st, is excavating for an 11-sty store and loft building, on a plot measuring 124x160, at the northwest corner of 17th st. On the southwest corner of 18th st Charles A. Cowen & Co. are the general contractors for a 15-sty mercantile building, for which Robert Maynicke is the architect. A corporation called the "Fifth Avenue and Eighteenth St Co." is the owner. The ironwork is up to the fourteenth story, and the stone work is going through the sixth. The plot, measuring 60x160, was formerly occupied by the Hotel de Logerot. On the northeast corner of 19th st excavating has begun for the Lord & Taylor building, by the O'Rourke Engineering and Construction Co.

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Building Operations.

Notable First Avenue Improvement.

1ST AV.—H. D. Baker & Brother have sold for Hillman & Golding the block front on the west side of 1st av, between 99th and 100th sts, a plot 201.10x100. The buyers, Kleinfeld & Rothfeld will erect 6-sty tenements on the site.

Contract for a South St. Store Building.

SOUTH ST.—George A. Varney & Co., 156 Fifth av, have received the general contract to build the 5-sty stone and business building, 60x87, which J. N. A. Griswold, of 106 Wall st, will erect at Nos. 78-81 South st, from plans by F. H. Bosworth, Jr., 1170 Broadway.

V. J. Hedden & Son's Co. to Build $100,000 Residence.

The V. J. Hedden & Sons Co., 1 Madison av, New York, have obtained the general contract to build a 3-sty stone and frame residence for T. M. McCarter, of Little Silver, New Jersey, to be erected at that place, at an estimated cost of $100,000. Plans were prepared by Architect W. G. Lawrence, of 3 West 29th st, New York, and Messrs. Brinley & Holbrood, 156 Fifth av, are landscape architects.

Convent Releases a Block Front on the Heights.

CONVENT AV.—Leopold Weil has sold for the Convent of the Sacred Heart to Sonn Brothers the remaining forty-five lots bounded by Convent av, St. Nicholas terrace, 129th and 130th sts. The plot fronts 584.8 ft. on 130th st, 216.10 ft. on Convent av, 500.6 ft. on 129th st and 200 ft. on St. Nicholas terrace. The buyers contemplate erecting a 10-sty apartment house on the St. Nicholas terrace front.

C. F. Bond, Inc., to Build Nicholas Residence.

64TH ST.—C. F. Bond, Inc., 136 Liberty st, has obtained the general contract to build the new 4-sty and attic town residence, 25x66.5, which Mr. Morton C. Nicholas, of 3 East 76th st, will erect at Nos. 55-57 East 64th st, at a cost of about $60,000. The structure will be semi-fireproof, with a front of limestone and light brick, equipped with all modern appliances, including elevator, etc. C. P. H. Gilbert, 1123 Broadway, is the architect.

Plans Under Way by Miss Josephine Wright Chapman.

Plans are being prepared in the office of Miss Josephine Wright Chapman, 57 West 10th st, New York City, for a number of noteworthy suburban residences. Among a few for which plans have been completed are three 2½-sty stone and frame structures, 25x30, for Paul H. Drenger, of Greenwich, Conn., to be erected in that city, at a cost of about $15,000. Chester Sherman, of Greenwich, has obtained the general contract. Miss Chapman is also preparing plans for a 2½-sty stone and frame residence, 60x70, for Jacob W. Ferris (address care of the architect), to be erected at Greenwich, at a cost of $15,000. This contract has not yet been let, and figures will be received in a few days. She has also been commissioned to prepare plans for a 3-sty brick and stone club house, to be erected at Lynn, Mass., for Lynn's Women's Club, at an estimated cost of $80,000. All the latest clubhouse equipment will be installed. No contracts have been issued.

Plans Nearly Ready for Church and Parish House.

114TH ST.—Cady & See, of No. 6 West 22d st, state that plans will be ready for bidders in a week or two for the new 5-sty brick church and parish house, 50x100, with a 40x70 feet extension, to be erected on the north side of 114th st, 95 feet east of 1st av, to cost about $65,000. The building will be erected by the New York City Church Extension and Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of 150 Fifth av. The exterior will be of brick, with an asphaltic composition roof, galvanized iron and copper cornices, steam heat, electric light, and one old building will be demolished. Following is a full list of officers: Samuel W. Bowne, Rose and Pearl sts, president; C. G. Andrews, D. D., 47 Brevoort st, Brooklyn, vice-president; and Frank Mason North, 150 Fifth av, secretary. Officers are: A. H. Brummell, 410 Grand st; John S. Huyler, 64 Irving pl; C. H. Fowler, D. D., 150 Fifth av; G. Waldo Smith, Bayside, L. I.; Wm. H. Falconer, 100 Fourth av; John E. Adams, D. D., Stamford, Conn.; J. D. Slaybach, 27 William st; P. M. Walters, D. D., 178 Warburton av, Yonkers; J. S. Chadwick, D. D., 1326 Pacific av, Brooklyn; Warren A. Leonard, 1245 West 125th st; and Charles R. Saul, 147 Columbus av. No contracts have been awarded.

Architect Selected for Fifth Avenue Structure.

5TH AV.—Samuel Sass, of 23 Park Row, has just been commissioned to prepare plans for the new 15-sty fireproof store, loft and office building, to be erected on the site of the Kensington Hotel, on the northeast corner of 5th av and 15th st, by The Richman Realty and Construction Co. of 56 Liberty st. Work of demolishing will not be commenced until about January 1, 1906, upon the termination of an existing leasehold. The first story and basement will be used for store purposes, the second to eleventh, inclusive, for lofts and offices, and the four upper stories for offices. There will be three passenger and two freight elevators, and a refuse chute with an opening on each floor. There will be steam heat, electric light, wire glass, with an exterior of stone. The building will cost about $600,000. No contracts have yet been awarded. On the northwest corner of 5th av and 15th st, Jacob Rothschild, of the Hotel Majestic, is building a similar building, from plans by Albert S. Gottlieb of 156 5th av. This building, called the "Stuyvesant," is similar in design, construction and character to the "Knickerbocker," now building at 5th av and 16th st, also for Mr. Rothschild, by the same architect.

Apartments, Flats and Tenements.

7TH ST.—Harry Zlot, 230 Grand st, is making plans for a 6-sty 17 family flat, 25x77.10, for Rockmore & Gleich, 391 4th av, to be erected at 202 East 7th st, to cost $25,000.

MANHATTAN AV.—Clarence L. Sefert, 242 West 49th st, is making plans for a 6-sty 35-family flat, 100x65.6, for the Eden Construction Co., 242 West 49th st, to be erected at the southwest corner of Manhattan av and 110th st, to cost $54,000.

THOMPSON ST.—Cohen & Craft, 171 Broadway, will build on the west side of Thompson st, 100.2 feet north of Broome st, a 6-sty 34-family flat, 39.8x87, to cost $40,000. M. Zipkes, 147 4th av, is making plans.

THOMPSON ST.—M. Zipkes, 147 4th av, is making plans for two 6-sty 33-family flats, 37.7x87, for Cohen & Kraft, 171 Broadway, to be erected on the west side of Thompson st, 137.9 feet north of Broome st, to cost $60,000.

Dwellings.

Messrs. Buchman & Fox, 11 East 59th st, New York, are taking bids on a 2-sty residence, 60x30, for George Thurmauer, 35 Park pl, to be erected at White Plains, New York, at a cost of $25,000.

HOBOKEN, N. J.—Ross & Booraem, 47 Cedar st, New York, are taking figures on a 3-sty brick and stone residence, 30x50, for Mrs. A. Behrens, of Hoboken, to be erected in that city. Estimated cost, $40,000.

THIS illustrates the bronze Marquise of Hotel St. Regis, New York, Messrs. Trowbridge and Livingston, Architects, considered by connoisseurs to be the finest of its kind in the world. Over twenty tons of bronze were used in its fabricating, the massive brackets alone weighing a ton each. This wonderful achievement in art metal work is but one of many for which this firm is famous and of which they are the pioneers and leading manufacturers in this country.

The Hecla Iron Works is recognized as the first and foremost concern in the manufacture of Architectural Metal Work in the World. Its plant is the largest and most complete, and the quality of its work is considered the standard, the world over.

North 10th, 11th and 12th Sts., from Wythe Ave. to Berry St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Alterations.

BROOME ST.—E. G. W. Dietrich, 320 Broadway, has plans ready for extensive alterations to the 5-sty loft building southwest corner of Broome and Elms sts, for P. P. Acritelli, Worth and Mulberry sts, to cost about $12,000. A new electric elevator, toilets, partitions, store fronts, and stairways, will be installed. No contracts have been awarded.

Churches.

LENOX AV.—No architect nor plans have yet been chosen for the new Temple Israel of Harlem, to be erected at the northwest corner of Lenox av and 120th st, on plot 100x100 Daniel P. Hayes, 141 Broadway, president of the board, states that sketches are now under consideration but that no definite selection has been made. (See Record and Guide for Aug. 12, 1905.)

Miscellaneous.

Charles Bartonkeen, 1604 Chestnut st, Philadelphia, Pa., is taking figures on the general contract for a 1-sty brick passenger station, for the Long Island Railroad Co., 120 Broadway, New York, to be erected at Lawrence, L. I.

The New York Steamfitting Co., 137 Elm st, has obtained the contract for steam equipment, at $230,666, of the new customhouse, this city. J. C. Robinson, of Chicago, has the contract for interior furnishings, at $1,039,281. The contract for the installation of elevators has not yet been awarded.

ORANGE, N. J.—All bids received on Aug. 30th for the erection of the new Orange High School, at Orange, N. J., have again been rejected. Plans will be revised and refigured. Building will be five stories, 85x160 feet in size. Herbert D. Hale, 92 William st, N. Y., is architect; Frank Sutton, 9 Wall st, consulting engineer; and Dr. C. Herbert Richards, of Orange, is chairman of the board.

Estimates Receivable.

Donn Barber, 24 East 23d st, New York, is taking figures until Sept. 20th for the 8-sty brick, stone, steel fireproof office building, 144x200, to be erected at Hartford, Conn., for the Travelers' Insurance Co., of which E. S. Dunham is president. Previous particulars have been given in these columns.

N. W. Hausman, 336 Fulton st, Jamaica, L. I., is still taking bids on the general contract for the 7-sty fireproof office building, 25x125, which the Queens County Trust Co., 372 Fulton st, Jamaica, will erect at the northwest corner of Fulton and Union sts, Jamaica.

FORT WASHINGTON RD.—Guy Lowell, 42 East 23d st, architect, and M. Schenck, 196th st and Fort Washington rd, are taking bids on electric wiring for the new $100,000 residence in course of erection for C. K. G. Billings, of 54 Wall st. The mansion is situated on the westerly side of Fort Washington rd, about 360.8 feet north of 181st st.

The Jersey City Board of Freeholders will call for bids about October 15 for the erection of the new Court House, to be erected at Baldwin and Newark avs, Jersey City, from plans by Hugh Roberts, of No. 1 Exchange pl, Jersey City. Bids recently received for excavating have been rejected as too high, and will be readvertised. Messrs. Chambers & Hone, 60 New st, New York, will be the steel engineers.

LEXINGTON AV.—Figures are wanted on mason work, carpenter work, terra cotta, plumbing, heating, electric wiring, switchboards, elevators, engines, steel, marble, etc., by William J. Taylor, 5-7 East 42d st, general contractors, for the new 11-sty apartment house, 170x100.5 feet, to be erected at the southeast corner of Lexington av and 66th st, from plans by Messrs. B. H. Simonson and Pollard & Steinam, associated architects, of No. 234 5th av. A stock company, of which F. A. Richardson, 27 West 67th st, is president, are the owners. Full description has already been given in these columns.

5TH AV.—The Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, 5th av and 46th st, closed last spring on an order from the Building Department, declaring it unsafe, will be opened again for worship in the near future. The entire building has been repaired, renovated, and strengthened, and the interior will be repainted and decorated. The Rev. Dr. R. P. Johnston is pastor.

BUILDING NOTES

The Platt-Baker Company, formerly the Life Saving Window Company, has removed its offices to No. 12 East 23d st.

Indications are that the strike of the structural ironworkers, which has affected operations of the American Bridge Company to some extent, will be settled within a short time.

At a meeting of the American Steel Foundries Company, held on Thursday, Sept. 6, Robert P. Lamont was elected First Vice-President to succeed George B. Leighton, and George E. Scott Third Vice-President, to succeed W. V. Kelley.

It is stated that the George A. Fuller Company, Fuller Building, Broadway and 23d st, New York, will be the general contractors to build the new $100,000 theatre to be erected at Baltimore st and Custom-house av, Baltimore, from plans by J. B. McElfatrick & Son, 1402 Broadway, New York. The Columbia Amusement Co., of 1358 Broadway, N. Y., is the owner.

DeLemos & Cordes, Fulton and Nassau sts, Manhattan, have been commissioned to prepare plans for a 4-sty fireproof factory building, 100x200 ft, for the Arabol Mfg. Co., of No. 100 William st, to be erected on 51st st, between 2d and 3d avs, Brooklyn, at a cost of nearly $100,000. The officers of the company are: Edward Weingarten, President, and Charles E. Seitz, Secretary. No contracts have yet been awarded, and it will be some weeks yet before plans are ready for figures.

Mr. Gage, of the John Peirce Company, in the injunction proceedings this week to restrain the Bridge Commissioner from awarding the contract for the superstructure of the Manhattan Bridge, contended that the contract was illegal, inasmuch as it gave the engineer the option of using either nickel, steel, or high carbon steel for certain portions of the work, and also because it permitted the engineer to be the sole arbiter as to the character of the bridge and the expense to be incurred. The Pennsylvania Steel Co. was the lowest bidder.

Mowbray & Uffinger, 95 Liberty st, Manhattan, have been commissioned to prepare plans for a large woodworking plant to cover two city blocks, to be erected near the Long Island railroad tracks, Long Island City, for the Brunswick-Balke-Collander Co., 227 4th av, New York City. There will be a tower, main building and wing, dry kiln, wagon and storage sheds, etc. The company has a factory at No. 401 E. 8th st, New York. Contracts have not yet been made for the work. A. F. Troscher, 227 4th av, is treasurer for the company.

The corner stone was laid on Labor Day for the clubhouse and educational building which the Workmen's Educational and Home Association are building on the north side of 84th st, 101.8 feet west of 2d av, for which the Thompson-Starrett Co., 49-51 Wall st, is the general contractors. The building will be five stories, with 60 feet frontage, by 100 feet depth. Two buildings adjoining, occupying a portion of the site, will remain, and the yards will be turned into a summer garden, 65x40 feet. The cost is estimated at $130,000. F. W. Fischer, 23 East 23d st, is the architect. On the first floor will be a restaurant, clubrooms, and the offices. The second floor will contain a singing hall, gymnasium and ballroom. Here will also be some of the dining rooms. On other floors will be libraries, meeting rooms for societies and unions, and schools for children, which are one of the especial cares of the organization. In the basement will be billiard rooms and bowling alleys. The association has a membership of 1,200.

The new Bribery Law is aimed at purchasing agents and others who collect graft for the performance of regular duties and accept it to the injury of their employers. The profits of janitors from the coal and groceries bought at the janitor's favorite shop by families in their houses are well understood. It is hard to say how far the system of petty rake-offs extends. The Saxe bill will make the men who collect them more careful in future and will make the collection of evidence of the law's violation more difficult. It will also awaken the consciences of some people to the fact that the additions they have been accustomed to make to their income are unlawful, and therefore dishonest.

More Long Island Ferry Improvements.

It is authoritatively stated that the Long Island Railroad Company contemplates even greater and superior improvements at the Long Island City side of the 34th st ferries than are being carried out on the Manhattan side. These improvements will cost at the lowest present estimate $150,000, and will be started when the Manhattan improvements are finished. Plans have not yet been drawn. Balanced bridges will be built like those to be constructed on the Manhattan side.

An official who is closely associated with the company thus described the balanced bridge: "The bridge is fastened at the shore end and is free on the outboard end to raise and lower to meet the boat. The bridge is counterbalanced with weights hung over what are termed gallows-framed frames. Those weights are within two or three tons of the weight of the bridge, say the weights are thirty-eight tons and the bridge forty tons, just sufficient when the gearing is released to let the bridge fall to meet the boat. The hoisting of this unbalanced two or three tons is to be done in Manhattan by electric motors, thus doing away with the cumbersome pontoon and which in times of ice has given great trouble as the boats pile ice up against the pontoon, which makes it difficult at times to reach the bridge."

Tax Assessor Favors an Exemption Law.

CONVINCED THAT ESTABLISHED SYSTEM OF TAXATION IS WRONG IN PRINCIPLE.

Mr. Durbin Van Vleck, a tax assessor in Brooklyn, having been asked for his views upon the proposition to exempt from taxation residential improvements costing $3,000 or less, over and above the cost of the site, gives expression to some interesting views:

"There is nothing, in my opinion, that would inure more to the benefit of the people at large than the passage of the proposed $3,000 exemption bill. I would make it applicable to all kinds of property, business as well as residential.

"My experience in the tax department which stretches over about seven years, or practically since consolidation, has confirmed me in the opinion I had arrived at by a purely theoretical study of taxation before I had any practical knowledge of the question. My study had resulted in my non-acceptance of some of what might be called 'the established canons of taxation,' of the legislator and the executive.

"In the borough of Brooklyn, with which I am most familiar, there are twelve men detailed to assess the real estate of that territory. These have the assistance of clerks, whose experience and advice in the field are valuable, but the responsibility for the assessments rests on the deputy alone.

"In the division of the work among these twelve men arbitrary geographical lines must to a certain extent be followed—the boundaries of the sections as laid out on the land map. This division results in assessment districts so large as to include as high as 25,000 parcels of real estate in some districts.

"As the charter requires the deputy to commence the work of assessing the first week in September, and to have his books proved and ready for the inspection of the taxpayers the second Monday in January, the magnitude of the work some of the deputies have to do may be imagined. As at least a month is required to prepare the record books for the inspection of the public, it leaves about three months in which to do the field work. As part of the season is one of inclement weather, the amount of time the assessor can devote to each piece of property may be guessed at approximately. * *

"It seems to me that a better rule to follow in taxation than to tax all property is to remove the taxes from the things we desire to have and industries we desire to encourage. The correct principle is recognized in saloon tax, a dog tax and a liquor tax. All these are taxed because they are not desired. Apply the rule the other way round. Exempt from taxation the things we want and the industries we desire to encourage. We do this with churches, colleges, hospitals, Y. M. C. A. buildings, etc.; why not with houses, factories and stores."

A NOTE OF DIVERGENCE.

Among other real estate authorities but little interest and support could be found for the Exemption proposition. Some said they would like to see the bill which it is proposed to introduce in the Legislature before expressing any opinion. Said one gentleman: "I want to know more about it before making any remarks. To me it seems like a phase of the single tax theory, and if so it is a far-reaching proposition. So far as exemption of a certain class of buildings is concerned, I think that of itself would be unfair. Our tax laws are founded on equity, and exemption is a violation of that principle."

Albert E. Davis, former president of the North Side Board of Trade, believes that a shortage would be created by such an exemption, which would cripple the government and retard public improvements, unless some other means of revenue be devised. Further says Mr. Davis:

"The proposed exemption ought logically to encourage the building of small homes and to reduce the rents of apartments, both of which would be desirable; but some one has got to pay for this, and unless the more valuable properties such as office buildings, hotels and the like are not now paying their just share of taxes, and can be correspondingly increased, I fear the suggestion is not practicable. I believe that real estate bears more than its share of the expense of government, but that is another question."

It will be included in the site of the new building to be erected at this point. The company now controls a plot having frontages of 111 feet on Rector st, 171 feet on Trinity pl and 188 feet on Greenwich st.

The Lower Fifth Avenue Boom.

The Richman Realty and Construction Co. bought from Jonas Sonneborn and the estate of Myer Guggenheim the Kensington Hotel, at the northeast corner of 5th av and 15th st. The plot has a frontage of 39 ft. in the av and 125 ft. in 15th st, with an L 61 ft. deep. Upon the termination of the lease now on the premises next January the Richman company will demolish the hotel and improve the plot with a 15-sty store, loft and office building.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

CHRYSTIE ST.—Lena Rosenzweig has sold to Isaac Silverman 23 and 25 Chrystie st, a 6-sty tenement, on plot 37x70.

18TH ST.—Porter & Co. have sold for P. Henry Dugro to "Huyler's" 134 and 136 East 18th st, two 5-sty buildings, on plot 50x92, adjoining the southeast corner of Irving pl. The buyers will erect a 10-sty addition to their factory adjoining.

20TH ST.—M. & L. Hess have sold for the Pacific Realty Co. 32 West 20th st, and for S. Edward Nash 34, adjoining, to the State Realty and Mortgage Co. The buyers recently acquired 36 and 38, adjoining, through the same brokers, and now control a plot 100x92.

39TH ST.—Walter D. Starr has sold for Albert Shick to Irving I. Kempner 419 West 39th st, 5-sty flat, on lot 25x98.9.

45TH ST.—S. Steingut & Co. have sold for Martin Engel 532 West 45th st, a 5-sty tenement, 25x100.5, to Freda Hart.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

PROSPECT AV.—J. Clarence Davies has sold for Luder Hanken 1817 Prospect av, a 2-sty frame dwelling, on lot 25x100.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

Charles R. Faruolo & Co. have leased for Romeo H. Schile for a term of five years the 6-sty building 295 Bowery to Charles R. Faruolo.

Families finding it difficult to rent desirable quarters, many of them are buying. A good deal of the activity in dwelling houses is attributed to this fact.

Lenox av, north of 116th st, is to be repaved and put in good condition. The Metropolitan and Interborough companies, under pressure, have concluded to do this.

The William Rosenzweig Realty Operating Co. are offering for sale a number of desirable plots, all of them in good neighborhoods and ready for immediate improvements. A detailed advertisement will be found on another page of this issue.

Considerable activity has also been felt in the Prospect Park South section of Brooklyn during the last few weeks. There are many people out there buying homes, and the place is realizing the original idea of Dean Alford and becoming an exclusive, high class residential district.

In Williamsburg and through Central Brooklyn and Ridgewood the builders are active, and many new houses are going up. For the most part the two-family dwellings shows the greatest popularity, with apartments next. The former is monopolizing the attention to the south.

M. Morgenthau, Jr., has continued his house party on the St. Lawrence River for another week, whither his partner Mr. Arthur J. Sporborg, has gone. Mr. Morgenthau will return to his desk next Monday, Sept. 11, ready for business, refreshed and recuperated by his delightful sojourn in one of the most beautiful of American summer resorts.

In Brooklyn, large tracts are still changing hands with a surprising frequency. The McLaughlin Real Estate Co. is perhaps the largest holder of property in the new section, and its deals, both retail and wholesale and sometime on the instalment plan, have amounted to millions. Under its attention Ocean Parkway is coming rapidly to the front as a high class residential district. Coney Island av is believed to be destined for a business thoroughfare.

Chas. H. Schnelle, formerly at 115 Broadway and 1223 Lexington av, has recently removed to a larger office at 1326 Lexington av, near 88th st. Having been connected with Yorkville real estate interests for the last twenty years, he is well posted in that section. He will make a specialty of appraising and management, besides doing a general real estate and insurance business. Since last spring Mr. Schnelle has made many sales in that vicinity, having also made the sale to the Y. M. C. A. of several apartments to be used for dormitories. Mr. Schnelle is the financial secretary of the Real Estate Owners' Association of the Twelfth and Nineteenth Wards.

107TH ST.—E. V. Pescia & Co. have sold for Pascal Romanelli the 5-sty double tenement 203 East 107th st, on lot 25x100.

116TH ST.—Arnold & Byrne have sold for S. Nettle to Louis Bernstein 132-134 West 116th st, two 5-sty double flats, on lot 64x100.

128TH ST.—A. W. Constantin sold for a Mr. Aronson to Gesine Karnahrens 161 and 163 East 128th st, a 6-sty flat, on lot 41x100.

133D ST.—Louis Lese has bought through George Brettell & Sons 42 to 48 East 133d st, four 3-sty dwellings, on plot 80x100. The sellers are David N. Carvahlo, John B. Patterson, Richard W. Horner and Mary E. Dobbins.

MADISON AV.—Frederick W. Loew is reported to have sold the Brunswick apartment house, an 8-sty structure, at the southwest corner of Madison av and 89th st. The building has frontages of 25.8 on the avenue and 138.10 on the street, and includes two L's on the street about 64x100.

PARK AV.—Simon & Wallach have sold for Louis Seidman and Louis N. Adler to the Goodspeed Realty Company the northwest corner of 115th st and Park av, a 6-sty apartment house 40x75; also for the same sellers the 6-sty tenement 105 to 109 East 115th st, 50x75.

ST. NICHOLAS AV.—The McVickar Gaillard Realty Co. has sold for L. Pierce to the Broadway Mortgage Investing Co. 11-15 St. Nicholas av, a 5-sty apartment house with frontage of 88.8 on the av.

1ST AV.—C. A. Helfer and M. Kohn & Co. have sold for Bernard Klingenstein the northwest corner of 1st and 94th st, a plot 100.8x100.

THE BRONX.

COURTLANDT AV.—Samuel Williams has bought from Louis G. Friess through M. Shwitzer 821 and 823 Courtlandt av, southwest corner of 159th st, two 2-sty frame dwellings, on plot 48.5x98.3.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE, BUREAU FOR THE COLLECTION OF TAXES, NEW YORK, September 1, 1905.

TAXPAYERS WHO DESIRE TO OBTAIN THEIR bills promptly should make immediate written requisition (blanks may be procured in the borough offices), stating their property by Section or Ward, Block and Lot or Map number, making copy of same from their bills of last year.

If a taxpayer is assessed for personal tax, the requisition should also request bill for such tax.

Each requisition should be accompanied by an envelope bearing the proper address of the applicant, AND WITH RETURN POSTAGE PREPAID.

In case of any doubt in regard to Ward, Section, Block or Lot number, taxpayers should take their deeds to the Department of Taxes and Assessments and have their property located on the maps of that Department and forward to the Deputy Receiver of Taxes with the requisition a certified memorandum of their property, which will be furnished by the Department of Taxes and Assessments.

Taxpayers in this manner will receive their bills returned by mail at the earliest possible moment and avoid any delay caused by waiting on lines, as required in case of personal application.

The requisition must be addressed and mailed to the Deputy Receiver of Taxes in whichever borough the property is located as follows:

JOHN J. McDONOUGH, No. 57 Chambers street, Borough of Manhattan, New York.

JOHN B. UNDERHILL, corner Third and Tremont avenues, Borough of The Bronx, New York.

JACOB S. VAN WYCK, Municipal Building, Borough of Brooklyn, New York.

FREDERICK W. BLECKWENN, corner Jackson avenue and Fifth street, Long Island City, Borough of Queens, New York.

JOHN DE MORGAN, Bay and Sand streets, Stapleton, Staten Island, Borough of Richmond, New York.

After receiving the bills, the taxpayer will see that they are properly related, then draw check for the net amount to the order of the Receiver of Taxes and mail bill and check, with an addressed envelope, with the return postage prepaid, to the Deputy Receiver in whichever borough the property is located.

Checks should be mailed as soon as possible after the bills have been received by the taxpayer.

All bills paid during October must be rebated before payment.

DAVID E. AUSTEN,
Receiver of Taxes.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Baragain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 ndicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before 2d figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

Sept 1, 2, 5, 6 and 7.

YOUR SYSTEM OF RECORDS?

BETTER USE OURS

It costs a dollar a mile to go to Chicago in a Special Train, but only a few cents a mile on the Empire State Express. The same is true of the RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY. Each subscriber receives for Twenty Dollars a year a service that would cost him thousands of dollars.

A system of records is as necessary to a real estate broker as the "ticker" to a stock broker. Conceivably a man might get along without either, but he would suffer immensely both in person and estate.

By means of the RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY, which occupies only a few square inches on a shelf or a desk, the real estate man is put in possession of a system of records in which he could find any particular transaction, be it conveyance, mortgage, auction sale or lease, as easily as he can find the name of one of his clients in the telephone book. It is permanent in form, ever ready and available. It does not go "out" like the office boy, or make mistakes like the stenographer.

The annual number of the RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY contains ALL the legal records for the past year concerning real estate and projected buildings, arranged alphabetically and numerically, with invaluable annotations.

These are supplemented by tables of important transactions, with typical prices, covering the past quarter of a century or more, accompanied by expert comments.

IT may be doubted whether there will be very much money made by the advancing prices of stocks during the next six weeks or two months. Such advances cannot take place except by the large use of borrowed money; and considering the heavy demands which will be made upon the money market throughout the fall, it is probable that the banks will discourage the engagement of much money for speculative purposes. Such a condition as this might not avail, in case good securities were cheap, but as a matter of fact they are tolerably high. They may not be so high that another year of very prosperous business would not warrant a still higher level; but they are so high that any general public participation in a bullish speculation can hardly be expected. It is surely better to wait until the pending borrowing is over, and until it is possible to estimate the benefit which the country will obtain from the sale of its large crops at very high prices. Those benefits may be very large indeed, and may justify a number of railroad companies in increasing their rate of distribution to their share holders. It may also mean so much business to the larger industrial corporations that their preferred stocks will become good six or even five per cent. investments. In this case there will be an abundant justification for advancing prices throughout the winter. But a premature speculation might well deprive the American business community of at least some of these benefits.

THE legislative investigation of the big life insurance companies is undoubtedly convincing the disinterested public opinion of the country that these companies should be conducted under very different laws. What the investigation shows is that the assets of the companies are practically at the disposal of certain large banking houses, who use them as a vehicle for disposing of their securities. That the connections of the companies with the banking houses is for the most part profitable, is irrelevant. A trust fund, such as the assets of one of these companies, should not be used under any circumstances as an aid to doubtful speculative operations; and it would not be necessary to use them in this way were it not that the new business of the companies is written at such a large cost. At present the companies need to get from 4½ to 5 per cent. on their assets, because they are obliged to pay such large commissions to their agents, and so long as they pay these commissions, stricter regulations as to investments would undoubtedly mean a diminished return to policy-holders. But if the life insurance business were conducted under much the same laws as savings banks, the decreased return on their assets would be counter-balanced by decreased expenses. Of course, such a change could not be made without the adoption of a few standard policies; and the insurance companies would have to mantain bureaus of publicity, which would necessarily cost a good deal of money; but the advantages and the necessity of life insurance are so well understood now that a general reduction of their agency expenses on the part of the big companies might well be achieved without any large loss in the total number of policies written. The companies would recommend themselves to public approval, not by speechful, energetic and expensive canvassing, but by the returns they could offer to a policy-holder upon his investment. It will be strange in case some such outcome as this, whether under State or Federal regulation, is not the result of the current investigation.

MASONS and bricklayers are complaining that the increasing popularity of various methods of reinforced concrete construction is depriving them of a great deal of work. such is undoubtedly the case, and inasmuch as the use of reinforced concrete is only beginning, and will assuredly increase still more rapidly in the future, the brick-layers will doubtless have additional cause for complaint. But if so it will be, at least to a certain extent, their own fault. No doubt reinforced concrete construction is bound, on its own merits, to come into large and varied use, but its use will certainly be accelerated in the vicinity of New York by the unnecessarily high cost of brick-laying. Little by little the brick-layers have been able, by the strength of their organization, to force up their wages, until they are now paid at the rate of 70 cents an hour for an eight-hour day. If the brick-layers themselves actually profited by these high wages they might be considered as justified, but as a matter of fact the enlarged cost of brick-laying which results therefrom does not increase the income of the brick-layer. The high average wages attracts to New York more brick-layers than are needed; and the consequence is that the mechanics lose, by lack of employment, what they gain by high wages. Of course, they do not have to work as much for the same amount of money, but as long as they are not overworked that is a very doubtful advantage. In any case the net result is that brick-laying in New York costs much more than it need; and this fact will count aganist brick construction, now that it is confronted by the completion of a new and excellent method of building. Of course, the mechanics will not voluntarily reduce their own wages, and in the course of time this fact will have a considerable effect upon the amount of brick bought and laid in New York City.

AN interesting item that has lately been drifting homelessly through the papers reports that Charles M. Schwab destines the home which he is building on Riverside Drive for a public museum, when he can no longer dwell there. The item seems not to have been contradicted, and it is interesting in its reminder that hardly a splendid private house has been bequeathed to the American people. There is a new idea for our philanthropy! With the increased appearance of very elaborate, costly and beautiful houses filled with artistic treasures, which are not allowed to stock it like a museum, but which are severally fitted to their immediate surroundings —so that they become a part of its essential furniture—or, as in the case of a chimneypiece or stairway, of the house itself —the problem of what to do with it when the owner has gone is bound to be more and more pressing. Adequately to maintain such a home makes very heavy demands, not only on the purse, but on the love of art—a demand that not many heirs can satisfy. There may, also, be no heirs; while to separate the house and its treasures, willing the latter to a public museum, is to rob them of their setting and so to destroy a good part of their value. If we have not had this kind of philanthropy before, it is because we have only lately, with the rise of vast fortunes, commenced to build this sort of houses. In Europe many a private palace has become by such means public property; and to name over the most famous museums is to recite the names of families and homes—as Pitti, Uffizzi, Luxembourg, and Chantilly. That in the possibility of such a future for his work, the architect must find vastly increased incentive and inspiration, scarcely needs a saying; nor need one explain that the citizen who leaves to the public the product of his artistic taste and judgment in collection and arrangement leaves much more of his personality than he who bequeaths to it only stocks and bonds.

IT appears certain that a demand for a moderate revision of the tariff is increasing, rather than diminishing, within the ranks of the Republican party. So far it has been successfully resisted by that large section of the party which is afraid to raise the issue, but it is improbable that this resistance can be successfully continued. The new Congressmen did not have the courage to tackle the question of revision, but unless we are very much mistaken, the Republicans of the next Congress will, in case they control that body, find it advisable to revise some of the tariff schedules before the Presidential election of 1908. There can be no doubt that such a revision would, be for the Republicans, extremely good politics. There exists throughout the country a strong undertone of dislike with the high schedules of the existing tariff. Consumers believe that these schedules enable the manufacturer in many cases to exort unfair profits. They may not have sufficient confidence in the Democrats to entrust the revision to the leaders of that party; but their confidence in the Republican party would be greatly increased provided the Republican leaders showed themselves equal to the task of a sensible and fair revision. It would indicate that the party policy is not controlled exclusively by the manufacturers of New England and Pennsylvania. The Republicans have long been claiming that the tariff should be revised by its friends; but if the friends of the tariff never revise it public opinion will come to believe that a tariff revised by its friends will never be revised at all. In that case public opinion will eventually decide that the task of revision must necessarily be entrusted to the enemies of the tarif. The Republican leaders, provided they wish to justify their claim that theirs is a genuinely national party, cannot afford to let the tariff alone. Even people who believe in the protective principle must see that protection can be carried too far, and that the national interest demands a reduction of certain duties for the sake of encouraging the foreign trade of the country.

The Population of New York City.

THE official figures, showing the results of the recent State census, are still incomplete, but some unofficial figures have just been given out from the Secretary of State's office at Albany which probably indicate with some accuracy what the existing population of New York City really is. Hitherto the estimates of increase for the last five years have been at the rate of about 100,000 a year, which would give a total population at the present time of almost 4,000,000. The Record and Guide has, however, always believed these figures to be an underestimate, and has recently stated its reasons, founded chiefly upon the scarcity of living accommodations in every Borough, for believing that the actual population would prove to be considerably larger. As a matter of fact, the unofficial estimate just given out from Albany places the population of the city at 4,265,000, which is an increase of over 800,000 since the National census of 1900. The difference is both large and important. If the number of inhabitants of New York is increasing at the rate of 160,000 a year, builders can evidently proceed with much more confidence to erect tenements at the present rate, than they could in case only 100,000 people were annually being added to the population of the city. During the current year, living accommodations are being built in the several Boroughs of Manhattan for about 250,000 new inhabitants, and at this rate of production, over-production of living-room would result by next spring, in case the accepted estimates were correct; whereas, according to the revised estimate, house-room could be safely provided at the existing rate for at least another year. Assuming that the revised estimate is correct, it must mean that the current rate of increase is almost 5 per cent. a year, or almost 50 per cent. in ten years. This looks somewhat steep, considering the rate of increase from 1890 to 1900; but there can be no doubt that since 1900 New York has been adding to its inhabitants much more rapidly than it did during the previous decade. If the population of New York is increasing at the rate of almost 5 per cent. a year, and if such an increase is to be continued until 1910, it means that when the next National census is taken New York will contain about 5,250,000 inhabitants, and that in 1920, even allowing for large diminutions in the rate of increase, the population of the city will not be far from 7,000,000 people, or twice as many as there were in 1900. It will be realized consequently what a collossal task confronts the builders of the city. During the next fifteen years they will have to provide house-room for about 2,750,000 people, as well as supply the increased space which will be required by all kinds of business. Moreover, while an increasing proportion of this population will live in the outer Boroughs, improved means of communication with Manhattan will enable this vast number of people to do business and to spend money in Manhattan more readily and more frequently than they do at present. What effect a population of 7,000,000 will have upon the values of real estate in the central business and amusement districts of Manhattan, we shall leave our readers to guess.

According to the estimate mentioned above, the population of the Bronx is increasing more rapidly than that of the other Boroughs. The increase in Manhattan has been about 314,000, or at the rate of 3 per cent. a year. The increase in Brooklyn has been 228,000, or at the rate almost of 4 per cent. a year. The increase in Queens has been 90,000, or at the rate of over 10 per cent. a year. The increase in the Bronx has been 165,000, or at the rate of 16 per cent. a year. The figures for the Bronx seem very large; but the rate of increase is not any bigger than it was from 1890 to 1900. If the estimate is correct, and there is no falling off between 1905 and 1910, the Bronx will possess a population, in 1900, of not far from 700,000. It is improbable, however, that the existing means of transit with that Borough are capable of serving a population of 700,000, and unless they are materially enlarged, before 1910, the Bronx will probably find that by that year Queens will be equaling, if not surpassing, her rate of increase. Before 1910 the Long Island Railroad tunnel, the Forty-second street tunnel, the Blackwell's Island Bridge and the new Subway to Brooklyn will all be carrying passengers, which will mean a large diversion of population to the other side of the East River. In the meantime, the Bronx transit facilities, while they may be somewhat increased, will not be increased to anything like the same extent. But the set-back would only be temporary. With anything like a fair chance, the Bronx will get the largest part of the over-flow from Manhattan, and while that Borough is not likely to have a population of 700,000 by 1910, we should not be surprised in case the Federal enumerators found some 600,000 people living within its boundaries.

Mr. Van Vleck Answers His Critics.

Editor Record and Guide:

My attention has just been called to the "note of divergence" from the views expressed by me on the proposed law to exempt improvements on real estate to the amount of $3,000. One of my critics whose identity is not disclosed said: "To me it seems like a phase of the single tax theory, and if so it is a far-reaching proposition. So far as exemption of a certain class of building is concerned, I think that of itself would be unfair. Our tax laws are founded on equity, and exemption is a violation of that principle."

As to the likeness of the proposition to the single tax theory, I can only say that, if I understand that theory, the proposed law is far removed from it. The single taxers propose to abolish all taxes except those levied on land, including tariffs, internal revenue, personal taxes and every other kind except a land tax, so that the proposed $3,000 exemption can hardly be compared with Henry George's theory. And what is more to the point, the proposed amendment to the law should stand or fall on its own intrinsic merit, and not because of its likeness or unlikeness to any theory heretofore propounded.

So far as exempting a particular class of buildings, I do not so understand the proposition. It applies to all improvements, which certainly means all buildings. To confine the law to certain kinds of buildings savors of unfairness, just as the exemption of churches is unfair to the non-religious, of which we have a very great many in the community. If our tax laws are founded on equity and exemptions are a violation of that principle, it seems that there are so many violations that the equity has disappeared.

I would ask if the mortgage tax, the personal property tax, the liquor tax, the tax on corporations, on bank stock, etc., are all in accordance with the equitable scheme of our legislators? It seems to me that equity is the last thing considered, and that the main endeavor has been to tax whatever was likely to yield a revenue without too much protest; that the rule followed is that laid down by a celebrated statesman years ago, that the best system of taxation was that by which the greatest quantity of feathers could be plucked from the goose with the least squawking. As a matter of fact, our taxation is utterly without system, the result of many compromises between conflicting selfish interests.

Mr. Albert E. Davis, former president of the North Side Board of Trade, admits the effect of the proposed law to be desirable, in that it would encourage the building of small homes and reduce rents. To the average person this would seem to be the greatest desideratum. Rents are constantly rising, due to the increase of population, improvement in transit facilities, etc. The man whose rent-paying capacity is fixed on a certain figure, say, for instance, a motorman or conductor, must keep moving further away or occupy less and less desirable quarters because of this upward tendency in rents. This is a good thing for the owner of the houses, but is hard on the tenant. The proposed exemption would help the tenant without hurting the landlord. The latter would in the natural course of events give the tenant the benefit of the $3,000 exemption.

Of course, Mr. Davis comes to the nub of the whole question when he speaks about a corresponding increase in the amount others would have to pay to make up the deficiency caused by the exemption. Such deficiency would be met by a larger tax rate, and everything else that paid taxes would have to bear its due proportion of the increase. The point to consider is: Is it worth while?

To answer this question we must weigh the advantages and the disadvantages. More houses and cheaper rents on one side; a general increase in the tax rate on the other. We do not hesitate to increase the tax rate for the attainment of other desirable objects, such as public parks, bridges and subways. All these have a tendency to increase rents. These we must have, but I contend that even more important than these is it necessary to retain and increase our home-earning class. It is growing less all the time. To provide an exemption of $3,000 on improvements would cause the biggest kind of boom in suburban property. Thousands who cannot now afford to own their own home would find themselves able to purchase the land and build a house for $2,500 or $3,000, because they would have to pay no taxes on the money invested in the house. The owners of suburban property now in course of development should favor this scheme for this reason. Their tax bills would be slightly larger, but the increase in sales would more than offset this.

Of course Mr. Davis should understand that all kinds of improvements would have a share in the benefits of the change, as each would be exempt to the extent of $3,000. In conclusion, I would say that if this proposition does nothing more than arouse discussion it will be worth while, because there is nothing that is of more importance than the system of taxation, and nothing comparatively speaking about which the average person knows less than the underlying principles of taxation.

DURBIN VAN VLECK.

The Tax Exemption Measure.

Editor Record and Guide:

In discussing the plan to exempt taxes on improvements to the extent of $3,000, it has been asked how the shortage of revenue created by this tax exemption is to be met. The supposition that there will be a shortage is correct, but this will be only temporary, and will be offset by the increase in revenue caused by the erection of more houses and the increase in land values.

Furthermore, if the large buildings were assessed according to their full valuation, more revenue would be turned into the treasury than there is now. It is a notorious fact that very many of the more expensive buildings are assessed away below their full valuation. Very many instances can be cited. The tax duplicate shows this, and it can be easily ascertained by any one who will take the trouble to look it up.

The Mortgage Tax law which is now in operation will produce revenue that will be enough and to spare; besides, if the public service corporations were to pay to the City and State the taxes which are due, we could not only exempt improvements to the extent of $3,000, but I verily believe twice this amount could be exempted.

If this $3,000 exemption from taxation measure should become a law, there would be a great boom in the building industry. This would add greatly to the revenue of the State. It would also add to the general wealth of the community, for as the production of buildings increases, so does the general wealth of those connected directly or indirectly with the building industry increase. And so it will be all along the line; for as the earning capacity of those engaged in the building industry increases, so will their purchasing power increase, thus creating wealth in other industries.

Not only will the $3,000 exemption from taxes on improvements be beneficial as a fiscal measure, but it will be so morally. Take it to-day down in the tenements, where little children are dying for the want of proper nourishment, where grown people are huddled together like so many cattle—what a great boon it would be to these people if they could go into the suburbs where they could have a little home surrounded with a little bit of God's green earth.

The danger to the Republic lies in trampling on the masses. Prisons and brothels are filled by those who have had little or no show in the struggle for existence. If this $3,000 exemption from taxation becomes a law it will, to a great extent, relieve these people and open up to them a vista of a new and happier life. Yours truly,

EDWARD POLAK.

Officers of the Allied Real Estate Interest.

The Allied Real Estate Interests of the State of New York have organized with the following officers: Edward Van Ingen, president; B. Aymar Sands, treasurer; Allan Robinson, secretary. The Board of Directors consists of eighteen members, nine of whom are apportioned to New York city and the remaining nine to other sections of the state. The following directors have been elected: Frank Bailey, Brooklyn; Edmund L. Baylies, New York; Charles S. Brown, New York; Wm. H. Chesebrough, New York; Watson T. Dunmore, Utica; C. F. Garfield, Rochester; Cyrus E. Jones, Jamestown; Alfred E. Marling, New York; E. O. McNair, Buffalo; Allen L. Mordecai, New York; John Otto, Jr., Buffalo; Allan Robinson, Buffalo; B. Aymar Sands, Buffalo; George S. Tarbell, Ithaca; Edward Van Ingen, New York; W. Bayard Van Rennsselaer, Albany.

In addition to the Board of Directors there will be an Advisory Committee which will consist of one hundred members chosen from all parts of the state and representative of the different interests connected with this organization. This committee is now being formed.

New Treatment for Apartment Fronts

The picture herewith is one of a row of five high-class apartments to be erected on the east side of Cauldwell av, 100 feet south of 156th st, Bronx, for Messrs. Sider and Stolar, of Bath Beach, to cost $250,000. Maximilian Zipkes, 147 4th av, the architect, has arranged to make these houses truly synonymous to their name ("Raschen Court"). Raschen being derived from the German "Roeschen," meaning a rose. The colors of the fronts have been carefully selected to meet the conditions. The first story, top story and ornaments of terra cotta will be white; the brick work will be a light shade of red, and the iron gates, railings and cornices will be finished in green. All of these details have been studied by Mr. Zipkes. Special attention is called to the omitting of the usual flat cornice on top of the building, which has heretofore marked the apartment house of New York. In getting away from this galvanized iron bracket and balastrade, the brick work is carried straight up and the skyline broken in graceful curves of terra cotta. Another feature is the French bay windows at either end. The iron balcony on top has also been placed to relieve the eye from the usual monotonous stretch of windows without a break. Contracts awarded are, for terra cotta, to the Perth Amboy Terra Cotta Co., Perth Amboy, N. J., and brick, to Pfotenhauer & Nesbit, 1133 Broadway.

Obituary Note.

Patrick J. Andrews, Superintendent Hopper's Chief of the Plumbing Division in the Manhattan Bureau of Buildings, who died on Saturday last at his summer home in the Delcassian Fishing Clubhouse at Rockaway Beach, was one of the best liked of the many officials of the municipal service. He was born in Dublin, Ireland, in 1858, and came to America six years later; was educated at De La Salle Institute, and began business successfully as a contractor. He had a natural fondness for politics and took an active part in campaigning, and was twice sent to the Legislature from Leader Thomas J. Dunn's district. When the new Department of Buildings was organized under the charter of 1897, Commissioner Thomas J. Brady, its head, selected Assemblyman Andrews as his chief of the Light and Ventilation Division, a responsible and important post, which Mr. Andrews continued to hold under the succeeding administrations of Commissioner James G. Wallace and Superintendents Perez M. Stewart, Henry S. Thompson and Mr. Hopper, his geniality, courtesy and considerate rule winning for him the hearty goodwill of all the attaches of the Department. He also served as ex officio member of the Examining Board of Plumbers. His funeral on Tuesday at the Church of St. Vincent, Ferrer, was very largely attended.

Season's Business in the Bronx

The Proof Will Be Seen in the Fall—Another Big Lot Market Expected—Dwellings Rather Than High Cost Apartments Demanded.

With the arrival of the first fall days, and the near approach of October, which marks the close of the official renting season, there is inquiry as to how the builders are making out, especially in the Bronx, where the first sign of a falling off in a pressure for flats and apartments would be observed. This great city of ours in its onward course may be likened to a ship, in which The Bronx represents the head sails, Manhattan the main sails, and Brooklyn and Queens the top sails. So long as the head sails keep full the helmsman knows that he is on the right course, but when they begin to tremble it is a sign that they are losing the breeze.

Since the first of January plans for more than sixteen hundred buildings have been filed in the Borough of the Bronx, and presumably nearly all of these houses have been started; almost twelve hundred since the first of April, and about seven hundred since the first of May. Thus far this year the number of buildings for which plans have been filed exceeds the record for the corresponding period last year by more than six hundred. These statistics are especially significant when considered in connection with the wonderful lot trading in the Bronx which began just before the opening of the Subway last fall and continued through the winter, during which period thousands of lots found new owners. Old estates were broken up, laid out into streets and sites, and made ready for builders in the spring. Lots in favorite locations were sold over and over again by speculators, each time at a profit, until quotations were so high that speculation stopped and left the last buyers wondering if builders enough would come in the spring to take their ground. The snow was yet deep on the fields, the winds were cold and seemed to have a mournful sound to the topnotch buyers. Builders had not yet come along in force, and hence for a time there was anxiety as to how the Great Speculation would result.

GREAT EVENTS.

It will be realized more in the future than at present that the City of New York is passing through an era of great events in real estate and building. In 1902, following the enactment of the tenement house laws, occurred the Great Declension in Building. Speculative work almost ceased. Nineteen hundred and three was the year of "the Great Lockout," when, acting on the advice of the Record & Guide, the Employers made a stand against unlawful dictation and graft in the building trades, with the result that the grafting delegate went down and Arbitration was enthroned. Nineteen hundred and four saw "the Great Speculation," and Nineteen hundred and five "the Greatest Building Season."

When spring opened about five thousand lots, as was commonly estimated, were on the market, in the Bronx. It was of course conceded, long before this number had accumulated, that a large part would be left over for another year, but the problem was which would be taken and which left. Experts predicted that for such as the builders when they began operation would find well placed with reference to transit lines, there would be an immediate sale at a good profit, and as for many others, if the owners could afford to carry them for a year or two, there would also be a profit.

Thus far the season has justified reasonable expectations. Already the number of plans filed equals the total number for the whole year of 1904, and is more than double the number for the whole year of 1903. Before the year closes it is estimated that plans will be filed in the Bronx, if the same buoyant feeling continues, for about twenty-three hundred buildings. Thus far about six hundred are flats. (On September 1st the exact number was 564 flats, 654 frame dwellings, 114 brick dwellings.) Twenty million dollars is the estimated cost of the flats, $2,800,000 of the frame dwellings, and $778,000 of the brick dwellings.

Many citizens of the Bronx will note the statistics of dwellings with satisfaction, for it is on the multiplication of this style of houses, in agreeable designs, that they believe the real popularity of the Bronx depends. Moreover, the figures represent the utilization of sites apart from flat centers, costing less but more choice in popular estimation. They also stand for better distribution over the territory of the borough than do the flats and apartment houses, for the usual effect of a new bunch of flats is to drive to a quieter neighborhood families which are financially able to live in private dwellings, because flats mean a multitude of children in the streets. As flats have no yards, the only place for them to play in is the street. This is the foundation of the so-called real objection to children. Landlords love children as other people do, but not too many on one block, so to speak—or not in large blocks.

Of the houses started this year a portion have been completed, as it has been a period of peace in the trades, and of no interruption to the supplies of materials, and of easy building money. Naturally those that will be finished before the first of October will fare well. The real proof of the season's work will come later in the year.

A BRISK LOT MARKET IN THE FALL.

Referring this week to the situation in the Bronx Mr. R. E. Simon, of E. J. Phillips & Co., said he looked for a brisk lot market this fall. "Builders are selling their houses rapidly, from the plans," he said, "and have taken deposits. They will be getting their cash in full about October first and will then be in the market for more lots. The demand for housing is greater than the building now in hand or that can be undertaken this year will supply. Renting is extremely satisfactory. I have been informed that concerning one hundred apartments at 140th st and St. Ann's av, finished on the first of September, fifty-nine have thus far been rented at an average rate of four dollars and sixty-three cents per room."

ON DANGEROUS GROUND.

A prominent broker and agent in the Tremont section said: "The renting season in the Bronx is now in its initial stage, yet the inquiries for apartments have been many, mostly, however, for apartments of from four to five dollars per room. I believe the builders are treading on dangerous ground in erecting so many high-grade and high-priced apartments.

"The time will come, and I hope it is not far off, when they will be needed, but not now. Some can be used, but the supply must not become greater than the demand. Just where the line should be drawn it is difficult for any one to state. Builders must be alert and realize in time when to stop.

"The rents have been slightly increased this fall for low cost rooms, for middle and high cost rooms they have remarked about the same. In fact, the tendency has been to lower the higher cost flats; those say, that run about $7 per room. There has been a good steady demand for dwellings, but the supply does not nearly meet the demand. Very many more can be used. The rent therefore for them has been advanced."

—The sale this week of the large "Powellton" apartment house on Broadway, at 72d st, recalls a famous summer hotel of the same name that stood on the Hudson at Balmville many years ago. In the early half of the last century it was a resort particularly for officers of the army and navy, national statesmen and authors, many of whom settled permanently in the neighborhood and formed a delightful colony. Among these were Admirals Strong, Bell, Leroy, Graham, Case and Rodgers, Bancroft Davis, Browne the sculptor, Headley the historian, Andrew J. Downing the architect and horticulturist. "Peter Parley," N. P. Willis, Judge Monell, Bryant's co-editor and executor; Prof. Green and Prof. Henry, eminent scientists of their era, and others whose names are for the moment forgotten. The "Powellton" House was owned by the Powell family, after whom the swift steamboats, "Thomas Powell" and "Mary Powell," were named. Mary Powell was the wife of Thomas Powell the early steamboat magnate, and sister to that Lieutenant Ludlow who fell with Lawrence on the ill-fated Chesapeake, and lies buried in St. Paul's churchyard. Balmville took its name from the Balm of Gilead tree, which is still standing near the site of the old hotel, and is the largest tree in the Hudson river valley. The "Powellton House" was destroyed by fire in 1870.

—Impossible as it may seem to the world now, the improvements of the Pennsylvania, the New York Central and other railroads in and about New York are only the beginning of great things. After any amount of reflection no one will affirm that upon the completion of the great works now in hand that the New York Central will never do anything more. There may be a spell of rest, but human history teaches that it must go forward. We shall not set the bounds at a decade, but probably within fifteen years, steam locomotives will have passed from its main lines, and the Hudson will be crossed by a tunnel between 42d st and the West Shore division at Weehawken, that will be built by the New York Central. The commuting area and the passenger traffic within it are certain to be multiplied for all the railroads. There will be a million people living on Long Island, outside the limits of Old Brooklyn, when the Pennsylvania's tunnel improvements have been finished not many years. The six tracks which the New Haven will have through the metropolitan suburban section will be another strong influence for residential growth along the Sound. In a word, twenty-five years hence the great community of which Manhattan is the nucleus will have a radius of fifty miles, and the daily journey to and fro will be as easy as was the trip to Harlem twenty-five years ago.

Nothing in the way of building has been done, since the purchase of site, for the great amusement park on the Harlem Ship Canal.

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Building Operations.

Huyler's Factory to be Enlarged.

18TH ST.—Messrs. Schickel & Ditmars, 111 5th av, have been commissioned to prepare plans for a 10-sty fireproof addition to the Huyler factory to be erected on a plot 50x92, at Nos. 134-136 East 18th st, adjoining the southeast corner of Irving pl, for James S. Huyler, the well-known candy manufacturer. Two 5-sty buildings on the site will be demolished. No contracts for any of the work have yet been awarded.

Contract for Another Broadway Garage.

BROADWAY.—The Fleischman Construction Company, 170 Broadway, has received the general contract to build the garage, salesroom and office building on the northeast corner of Broadway and 57th st, for the Auto Import Company, Broadway and 58th st, from plans by Oscar Lowinson, of 18 East 42d st. The building will have 4 stories and basement, and measure 50x100 feet. At the southwest corner of Broadway and 56th st, the Decauville Automobile Co., 136 West 38th st, are building a similar structure, to cost about $125,000, for which The Church Construction Co., Flat Iron Building, Broadway and 23d st, are general contractors, and Raymond F. Almirall, 51 Chambers st, architect.

Syndicate to Build Ten-Story Business Structure.

LAFAYETTE ST.—A syndicate, organized by Israel Lippman, of 201 East 108th st, has bought through S. H. Stone, 100 Broadway, the plot 100.7x95.5xirregular, at 66 to 72 Lafayette st, on which will immediately be erected a 10-story fireproof business and loft building, to cost about $300,000. The structure will be the first of its character to be erected on Lafayette st (formerly Elm st), now widened. As a great thoroughfare for traffic, free from car tracks, Lafayette st will no doubt become a future centre for warehouses and lofts, devoted to wholesale business. The building will have high ceilings, sixteen feet on the first and second stories, and twelve feet on all other floors. The exterior will be of limestone and brick, with electric elevators, steam heat, etc. Schwartz & Gross, of 35 West 21st st, are making the plans. No contracts have yet been awarded. The work of demolishing and building on the site commenced on Tuesday of this week.

BUILDING NOTES

John Jordan has withdrawn from the firm of John Jordan & Son, and John L. Jordan will continue the business.

Commissioner Chadwick, of the Board of Water Supply, says that in the next two or three years one thousand civil engineers will be needed by the board.

A handsome bronze fountain has been erected in the Botanical Garden, Bronx Park, in front of the Botanical Museum, and has been very much admired by the many visitors to the garden.

The improvement to the approaches of Baird Court, in the Bronx Zoological Park, which includes an entrance at the northerly end and a flight of granite steps, will cost $80,000.

Ely J. Reiser & Co., 311-327 East 94th st, has received the contract for installing interior wood work for Hegeman & Co., (drugs) in the new Times Building, Broadway and 42d st.

H. F. Stratton, who has been connected with the principal office of the Electrical Controller & Supply Co., at Cleveland, O., has accepted the position of New York representative of the same company with offices at No. 136 Liberty st, New York.

Application for a separate charter will be made at the coming November convention of the American Federation of Labor by the Steam, Hot Water and Pipe Fitters and Helpers' International Association.

The old Walsh brickyard at New Windsor, on the Hudson, has been sold to the owners of the adjoining property, and will not again be used in the brick business. The yard has a valuable river frontage of a thousand feet.

Contention has arisen between the housesmiths and bridgemen and the metallic lathers over jurisdiction on work. Both belong to the one union. and efforts are being made by the other trades to adjust the difficulty, which, however, does not prevent work going on.

Bridge Commissioner Best asked the Board of Estimate for $1 000,000 for the construction of the underground terminal of the Williamsburgh bridge, and for the construction of a connection of the "L" structure in Brooklyn with the "L" structure on the bridge. The Board appropriated $500,000 toward the project.

Work was resumed on the contract for the improvement of Mosholu Parkway early in the spring and has progressed rapidly ever since. The contract will be completed in October of this year. On the bridges over the railroad tracks and Webster avenue on this parkway the work has been completed.

A glass court addition to the birdhouse in the Zoological Park, which is to be built, will consist of a glass house addition, with cages for the birds; and it is designed to build these cages in such a way, furnishing plenty of light and air, that the surroundings may be as realistic and comfortable as possible for the birds. The new pheasants' aviary has been completed.

It was stated at the office of the George A. Fuller Co., Broadway and 23d st, general contractors for the new United States Realty and Construction Company's building, to be erected on the site of the Boreel building, Broadway, and Thames st, that no sub-contracts have yet been awarded, not even excavating. Work of construction will not be commenced for some indefinite time yet. The Chandler & Phoenix Construction Co. has the contract for demolishing the old structure. Francis A. Kimball, 42 Broadway, is the architect.

The first annual outing and games of the employees of Cosgrove Brothers, stone contractors, was held at Duer's Whitestone Pavilion last Saturday. The steamer Isabel left the foot of 50th st and North River at 10.30 a. m., and after a delightful sail, which produced keen appetites, a sumptuous breakfast was served. The games which followed were hotly contested and resulted in certain dark ones winning. In the evening about two hundred sat down to dinner. Remarks were made by the members of the firm. In all respects it was a very pleasant occasion.

Anticipating expulsion by the General Arbitration Board, the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, at a hurriedly called meeting on Wednesday morning, decided to refer their dispute with the employers of the craft to arbitration, and at the same time called off the strike. The arbitration board had fully determined to lock them out and organize a new union. The jobs are now all manned again. Whether an advance in wages is to be granted will be decided only after orderly arbitration proceedings. This new victory for Arbitration strengthens the cause and is renewed assurance of the ability of the Building Trades Employers' Association to keep the peace.

It is proposed to remove the rock on the north side of the Municipal Building, on Tremont avenue, in Crotona Park, so that the slopes will be similar to those on the Third avenue side; also to continue the wall now built on Third avenue around Tremont avenue for a distance of about 350 feet from the corner. It is also proposed to build a flight of stone steps, and an approach to the tax office in the Municipal Building from Tremont avenue. This would obviate the necessity of going all the way around to the Third avenue approach to reach the tax office. Plans and specifications have been prepared, and application has been made to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for funds to put through this important and essential improvement.

Manhattan Rentals.

Seven hundred and sixty-one buildings have thus far this year been completed in the borough of Manhattan, as of date September 14. In this number are included all manner of buildings. In this borough renting proceeds very satisfactorily to owners. Advances over last year are being obtained, and this does not mean merely for such houses as were finished last year too late for the regular renting season, and consequently accepted reduced rates temporarily, but for old houses as well.

Brokers generally in this borough report a firm maintenance of rates at the highest levels. Concessions in this borough under present circumstances are the rare exception, but are said to becoming frequent in the Bronx for apartments above a certain grade. In Brooklyn everything is being rented to the same degree as last season, though it is expected that another year's building will make an impression.

Speaking of conditions in Manhattan, a leading broker and agent, Mr. Slawson, of Slawson & Hobbs, said: "In regard to the reductions of rents last fall and early winter in the houses which were then being completed, I cannot speak, as I am not familiar with the situation, but assume if there was any reduction it must have been trifling.

"I do not anticipate concessions will be made late this year to any extent. Of course a few builders might desire to carry their houses filled through the winter and make slight concessions, but it will not affect the market any.

"My idea of the postponement of building in the Washington Heights region is that it was due to the delay in completing the Underground. I expect to see renewed activity when the road is really running."

In regard to the private house situation on the West Side, Slawson & Hobbs express the following views in one of their announcements:

"In our campaign of education on West Side real estate as a field for profitable investments we have not given as much consideration to private dwellings as the subject merits, simply because the percentage of people interested is so much smaller than that of the people who are interested in income-producing properties.

"Yet, the private house situation is growing daily in importance both from the homeseeker's as well as from an investment and speculative standpoint. The great influx of newcomers to the West Side and its own normal increase in population, together with the almost total suspension of private house construction for the past three years, have brought about an unusual situation and a great dearth of private houses. As supply and demand always set the price, and the present supply being away below the demand, it is perfectly logical that this condition should create unusual speculative investment opportunities in the private house line.

"Here is a concrete example of the speculative phase of the situation: Recently we sold for a client a house in West 84th street for $50,000 which he bought through us two years ago for $45,000. Five years ago the same house was sold for $42,500. There are scores of similar instances of legitimate increase in value on our records. The great advance in the rents of private houses is too well known to require comment."

—A chart showing the increase of the population of the cities and towns lying between New York and Philadelphia has been issued in the interest of the financial side of the electric railroad companies in New Jersey. The record goes back to the year 1790, when the aggregate population of New York and Philadelphia was 81,522. At the present time the aggregate is 5,404,180 for these two great cities and Jersey City, New York, Elizabeth, New Brunswick, Trenton and Camden added, or 61,417 per mile. The increase in population of New Jersey in the past decade has been greater than that of any other State, except a few far western States. The percentage of increase has been: New Jersey 30%, Illinois 26%, Massachusetts 25%, California 22%, New York 21%, Pennsylvania 20%, Missouri 16%, Indiana 14%, Maryland 14%, Ohio 13%, Maine 5% and Kansas 3%. Therefore New Jersey has had a greater increase of population relatively than any state that has settled conditions. The population of Manhattan Island, New York City, increased 35%. Philadelphia increased 24%. There is every reason to expect the same steady rate of increase for many years to come.

A NEW TITLE COMPANY

Shortly to Begin Business at the Corner of Dey and Greenwich Streets—The Modern Method of Examining Titles.

There are now five title guarantee companies in the city of New York. Philadelphia, with only one-third as much bond and mortgage business to draw upon, has twelve. The newest company here is the "Equitable Title Guarantee Company," which has leased the building at the northeast corner of Dey and Greenwich streets. The Van Courtlandt Bank and the Gotham Safe Deposit Company will share the building with the new Equitable. The selection of this location is significant of the new importance the neighborhood is taking on, for the finishing of the prospective tunnel terminal will make it a very prominent center.

At the head of the Equitable as president and general manager, is Mr. Frederick F. Nugent, whom we remember as the founder of the Lawyers' Surety Company and also of the Guardian Trust Company; therefore a gentleman intimately acquainted with real estate and financial affairs, as is well known. Mr. Nugent also assisted in organizing the American Surety Company, the State Trust Company, the Twenty-third Ward Bank and the Dollar Savings Bank. Mr. John B. Hibbard, the real estate operator of 156 Broadway, is secretary of the new company, and Mr. William J. Hart, of 507 Madison av (William T. A. Hart's Son, undertakers), treasurer. Beside these executive officers, the other members of the board of directors are:

L. H. Andrews, 38 Park Row, Vice-President and Director Alpers Pharmacy; Director Home and Land and Mining Co.; Director Kress & Owen Co.; Director American Oil Engine Co.; Member of the Diplomatic Corps; Counselor of Legation for the Republic of Colombia.

James Bowers, Caldwell, N. J.; capitalist (manufacturer of corsets).

Harry R. Culbertson, New York; with R. G. Dun & Co.

Ira G. Darrin, Long Island City, N. Y.; counselor at law.

Charles P. Ellis, 217 E. 72d street, New York; capitalist.

James H. Havens, 508 W. 142d street, New York; President Havens Building and Operating Co.

Arthur S. Hoyt, President and Director Eastern Boroughs Land Co.; President and Director Merchants' Land and Development Company; Starch Manufacturer; Pure Gluten Company.

Charles W. Reeve, 219 Keap street, Brooklyn, N. Y.; President Rockland County Traction Company.

Louis C. Schliep, 318 Broadway, New York; Treasurer Guardian Savings and Loan Association.

David B. Sickels, 100 Broadway, New York; Trustee Union Dime Savings Institution; Director Twenty-third Ward Bank; Director Universal Trust Co.

Myndert A. Vosburgh, 149 Broadway, New York; Director Old Dominion Fire Insurance Co.

Samuel H. Wandell, 69 Wall stree; counselor at law.

The capital stock of the company is $250,000, which it is intended to increase to $500,000. The charter authorizes the company to examine titles to real property and chattels real; to procure and furnish information in relation thereto; make and guarantee the correctness of searches for all instruments, liens or charges affecting the same; guarantee or insure the payment of bonds and mortgages, and guarantee the owners of real property and chattels real, and others interested therein, against loss by reason of defective titles and other encumbrances thereon.

The development of the business transacted by title companies is one of the most remarkable monetary phenomena of modern times. Upwards of $271,179,450 was loaned on realty last year in Greater New York, which, taken with the real estate transfers amounting in value to over $700,000,000, produces the enormous figures of $1,000,000,000. How much of this business was transacted by the title companies has not been computed; but it is apparent that, with the increasing demand for titles and mortgages that are guaranteed, the possibilities for business in this department are exceedingly large.

The sole business of the Equitable is title insurance and the insurance of bonds and mortgages. A policy of title insurance insures an owner an absolutely good title free from all incumbrances. Moreover, should any defects be found at any future time the company is under obligations to make them good. If any suit is brought against an owner who has a guaranteed title, the title company is bound to defend the title at its own expense. If an owner sells the house, the company is bound to see that the buyer shall not avoid his contract by reason of any defect in his title.

In the case of mortgage investments, what is desired by the investing public is an investment that will be as safe and secure as a government bond, where the interest will be paid promptly and all care and trouble of collecting the interest, watching the payment of taxes and assessments on the property, and keeping the fire insurance in force, will be undertaken by the guarantee company. That the guarantee companies have been able to meet this demand is shown by the continued and steady growth of the business and the widespread sale of guaranteed mortgages, to all classes of corporate and individual investors.

Mortgages on property in the City of New York have always been considered most desirable investments, but there are difficulties, for people of other parts of the country, connected with such investments, when made without the assistance of the guarantee companies. They are obliged to guess at values, to run the risk of being imposed upon, to take the chance of depreciation in the value of the property, of possibly the taxes and assessments remaining unpaid, and of fire-insurance policies lapsing.

A guarantee company makes it not only practicable for non-resident investors, but entirely safe, to lend on a New York City mortgage. For women and young people unused to large monetary transactions this is a great advantage, and is unquestionably one reason why in recent years so much outside money has been going into New York real estate.

A guarantee company, such as the new Equitable Title Guarantee Company, insures a client at every step of his transaction, whether it be in the purchase of a mortgage or in the purchase of a deed. The speed with which the company is able to do its work permits of rapid speculation in houses and lands at critical stages of the market. Thus by removing all doubt of safety or soundness of title, and by eliminating the former long delays in the process of taking title, guarantee companies have given currency to the most stable form of investment in the country. In a word, they have put New York real estate in a position second to no other form of investment and have made it as it were current collateral.

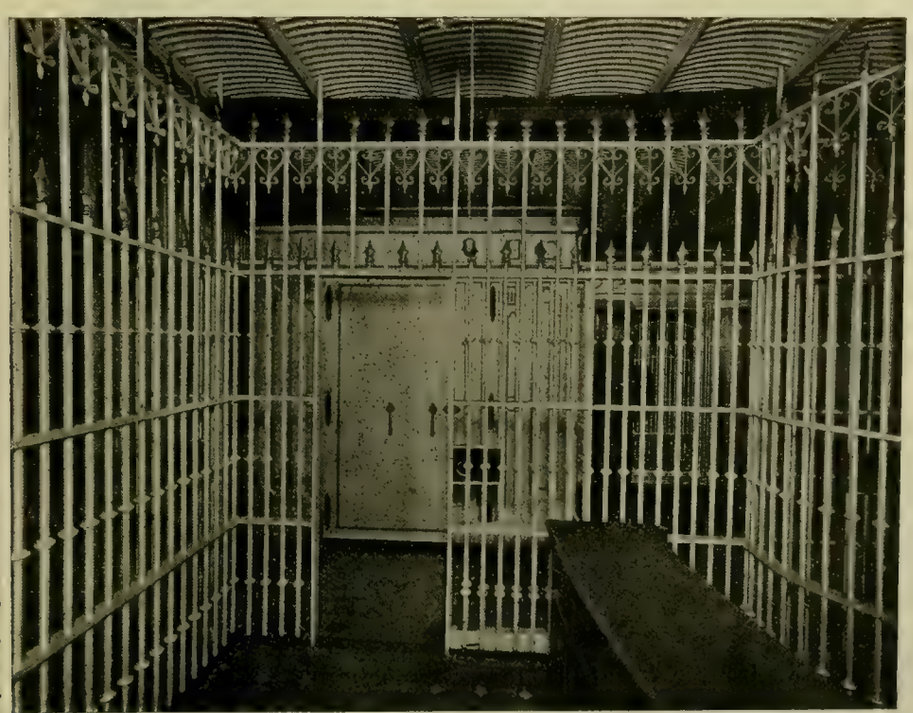
In the Equitable all questions of title are submitted to a committee of counsel composed of men of the highest character and skilled in the knowledge of real estate conveyancing. Real estate purchasers are able to obtain through the company access to the most prominent lending institutions in the city. The company offers to investors in bonds and mortgages the choicest first mortgages on real estate; and as it invests its own money also in this way, it is enabled by the sale of these mortgages to turn over its capital several times a year.

While the business of such companies is conspicuously profitable, the risk to the stockholder is reduced to a minimum. There are practically no losses. A title company with first-class facilities and records need never make a mistake concerning the character of a title, or of a mortgage.



Every safeguard that experience can suggest has been thrown around the guaranteed mortgage, which everybody knows is the simplest and most convenient form of investment possible. The security is a specific piece of property, tangible, immovable, whose value is almost certain to increase with the growth and prosperity of the city.

When the mortgage falls due, the property is again subjected to careful and close scrutiny before the mortgage is extended; and if payment of the money is demanded, the company bears all legal expenses incurred in enforcing expenses. A search is made every year to ascertain whether taxes, assessments and water rents are paid, and if not, the company is bound by its guarantee to see that they are paid.

By reason of guarantee of payment, the mortgage becomes a negotiable security, and can be readily sold and is available as collateral. The guaranteed mortgage is always good, always worth what is paid for it, and is always paid.

Thus is placed at the service of every investor the experience and skill of a corporation whose sole business is title insurance and the insurance of bonds and mortgages. Its interests are conserved by men of prominence in various business circles, safeguarded by the laws under which it is organized, and managed by trained officers.

There are branch offices of the Equitable Title Guarantee Company at Long Island City, Jamaica, Rockville Center, Richmond Hill, Yonkers and Staten Island.

Millionaires' Colony at Great Neck.

A few years ago the territory now covered by a succession of imposing houses and private parks was given over to small farms and sleepy little villages with little or nothing to suggest that the greatest city in the new world was only an hour's ride on the railroad. In the sheltered waters of Little Neck Bay and Cow Bay a few oyster ships rode at anchor, with now and then the yacht of some enthusiastic amateur sailor devoting a week or so to a cruise in Long Island Sound. Inland, the hollows between the rolling hills, from the summits of which one can look across to the rising smoke of the city, were devoted to market gardening. The shore front of Great Neck, the first of the high points of land which run out from the north side of the island into the Sound, is now occupied by a grade of houses that would appear to advantage on Newport's Shore Drive, and the inland farms are being rapidly absorbed. Expresses carry the new owners from the city to the Great Neck station without a stop, and automobiles tear up and down the sixteen miles of macadamized road.

Among those who have homes on the neck are George B. Wilson, late president of the American Snuff Company; W. Astor Chanler, Paulding Farnham, W. Gould Brokaw, Joseph and Russell Grace, E. B. Stair, Astor C. Clarkson, H. P. Booth, C. Paul Travis, Frank Dickerson, A. F. D'Oench, William Roesler, Charles C. Gignoux, H. F. Thomas, brother of E. R. Thomas; A. H. Alker, Cord Meyer, Roland Mitchell, James E. Martin, Ellis W. Wainwright, Henry S. Kerr, Rosewell P. Eldridge and H. L. Hoyt.

American Electric Railway Equipment in Cuba.

The Havana Central Railway Company, of Havana, Cuba, has placed orders with the foreign department of the General Electrical Company for complete electrical equipment of a network of interurban electric railway lines radiating from Havana and covering an extensive territory inland. The system will consist of a central powerhouse in Havana, and eight outside sub-stations, together with line material for about 125 miles of trackage, and rolling stock for passenger and freight service over the entire system.

The power house in Havana will furnish 5,000-kw. of 19,000 volt, 25-cycle, three-phase current generated by two 2,000-kw. generators and 1,000-kw. Curtis steam turbine generators at 2,200 volts and stepped up through air-blast transformers to the line voltage. The transmission lines will parallel the various lines of the railway to the sub-stations, where step-down transformers supply low voltage to rotary converters furnishing 600 volts direct current to trolley lines and feeders.

From Havana one branch will run southeast to Rosario, a distance of about 40 miles. Sub-stations will be located at Cuatro Caminos, Lomas de Candela and Providencia. A second line will run from Havana 17 miles south to Bejucal, with a sub-station on the line at Santiago de las Vegas. A third line running southwest from Havana to Mariel will have a length of 37 miles and branch lines running north and south to El Carmelo, Santiago de las Vegas and Tuira de Melena, amounting to about 30 miles in addition. Sub-stations on the line to Mariel will be placed at Marianao, Hoyo Colorado and Tuanajay and at San Antonio Melena.

The rolling stock for passenger service will consist of twenty-four 30-ton cars, seating 50 passengers and equipped with four motors geared for a maximum speed of 40 miles per hour. The freight service will be handled by two 40-ton locomotives equipped with four motors geared for a speed of 17 miles per hour when hauling a 300-ton train.

Weschester Road Gets Mount Vernon Franchise.

On last Friday night the Board of Aldermen of the city of Mount Vernon voted unanimously in favor of granting the application of the New York, Westchester and Boston Railroad for a perpetual franchise to cross over or under the streets of the city. The Westchester company hos given a bond to begin work in the city within sixty days. In the Bronx the Westchester Company's construction work is already rapidly approaching Mount Vernon.

Centers of Bronx Activity.

Two distinct quarters of the borough may be referred to as presenting an interesting contrast in the season's work. One is the neighborhood around St. Ann's avenue and 138th street. A very remarkable flat-house development is going on here, which is in no wise due to the opening of the Subway. Nor was it one of the theaters of feverish land speculation last fall or at any time. A year ago lots could be purchased in the vicinity for four thousand each, which have since been sold for seven. Builders have simply come in quietly and gone to work, for no other apparent reason than that there seems to be a pressure of population toward the east, and toward Port Morris, needing to be supplied. In the last five years the population has grown very rapidly toward the East River, where there are still big acreages of vacant land. In the neighborhood referred to can be counted within a few blocks fifty or more flat houses in course of erection, nearly all of the five-story type. The new law flats in this section rent for four dollars per room, when heat is provided, but many old flats are rented for fifteen a month. Another interesting quarter is around the intersection of Prospect and Westchester and Longwood avenues, where a large tract of land was put on the market last fall. Within a year about seventy-five houses have been wholly or partly built. The whole section indeed, in which there are hundreds of buildings, has been built up within five years. A notable improvement is the large Manhasset apartment house, on the corner of Prospect and Longwood avenues, which is fully finished, and is handsome and well appointed. From forty to seventy dollars is asked for apartments in the house. In the next block to the east, which is Dawson street, both sides of the avenue are built up of handsome 3-sty dwellings, which are well rented, mostly to two families in a house; thirty dollars being the mininum rent for an upper part.

Study of Interior Decoration

The Museum of the Arts of Decoration, in Cooper Union, represents an important department of work that is allied to building and real estate—house decoration. The number of visitors to the museum, while not yet very many, have increased from 2,681 in 1903-1904 to 5,542 in 1904-1905, while 170 workers and 3,731 students have practically used the museum as a working studio.

"Since January 1," writes Miss Hewitt in the Forty-sixth Annual Report of Cooper Union, "four outside schools have sent classes regularly, with masters, to study from the actual objects.

"These schools are: The New York School of Applied Design for Women, Thursday afternoons. The School of Decorative and Applied Art, Wednesday or Friday afternoons, and working on other days. The Newark Technical School, Monday evening. The Young Men's Christian Association, Class in House-Furnishing and Interior Decoration, one Thursday and two riday evenings, with a professor giving an ambulant lecture on style, illustrating it by the objects. The same schools have applied for regular days and hours for the school year of 1905-1906, the School of Decorative and Applied Art, bringing a second class from Brooklyn.

Gradually but surely the sympathies of the wealthy for art are being broadened from a fancy for oil paintings and statuary merely into other forms of art having to do with the decoration of the home. Architecture, mural painting, furniture, tapestries, ornamental plaster, and color designs, are all destined to receive more attention as the study of beautiful things becomes more and more popularized in a way, and the ability to gratify cultivated tastes increases.

Bowman's Flat House.

William F. Bowman, of Hempstead, L. I., a well known builder, who has erected a number of houses in Flatbush, says that in spite of all the objection that has been made about a flat house being built upon East 16th street, near Beverly road, he intends to erect such a building there and has already dug the cellars. He says he owns the ground on which the building is to stand, and that it is not restricted. He also says the flat house will be a handsome one and will cost $30,000. It will be four stories high. The plans have been drawn, the necessary building permits issued and the work will be commenced right away.

Got a Vanderbilt to Sell.

After negotiations extending over two months the New York Connecting Railroad Company, which is the link between the Pennsylvania tunnel and the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad at Port Morris, has purchased a large plot of land at Winfield owned by Emmett C. Vanderbilt, a distant relative of William K. Vanderbilt. Mr. Vanderbilt did not care to sell his property. He had lived on it for years, and his valuation was far beyond its actual worth. It is understood that the company paid him a remarkably high price.

The growth of population in New York is indicated in an interesting way by the redistribution of polling districts for election purposes. In Manhattan the number of districts is raised 168, in Brooklyn 140, in the Bronx 53, Queens 34, Richmond 3. A maximum of 500 votes is permitted to each election district. The outside boroughs are steadily gaining on Manhattan, and each year is having a more perceptible effect on election returns.

PRIVATE SALES MARKET

New Owners for the Powellton.

BROADWAY.—Benjamin Mordecai has bought the Powellton, a 7-sty apartment house at the northeast corner of Broadway and 97th st. The building occupies a plot about 100x150. The seller is Linda A. Painter.

Mr. Dowling Accumulates a Large Plot on Broadway.

BROADWAY.—Robert E. Dowling has bought from the estate of Rolph Marsh, through C. H. Bliss, the plot at the northeast corner of Broadway and 64th st, having frontages of about 175 ft on Broadway and 110 ft on the street. Mr. Dowling has also bought from the Realty Finance Co., through George R. Read & Co., three abutting lots on the south side of 65th st, 75x100, beginning 100 ft east of Broadway. The price paid for the combined plots, which contain nearly 23,000 square feet, or over nine lots, was about $500,000.

To Develop a New Residential Section in the Bronx.

EASTERN BOULEVARD.—Charles V. Halley, of Tremont, and Charles V. Gabriel, of Montclair, N. J., have purchased from the Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul the property consisting of about 500 lots on the Eastern Boulevard, opposite the Westchester Country Club, running from Willow lane to the Country Club road. This property has been in possession of the sisters since 1872. Westchester avenue runs through the tract, while the Eastern Boulevard, upon which the property has its largest frontage, connects the lower Bronx with Pelham Bay Park and City Island. The buyers intend to subdivide the property and develop it as a residential section. The sale was negotiated through Brokers Nichols & Lummis.

Western Electric Co. Sells.

GREENWICH ST.—The Charles F. Noyes Co. has sold for the Western Electric Co. the "Hamilton Building," a 10-sty fireproof structure covering plot 82.2x119.4, at the southeast corner of Greenwich and Thames sts. A syndicate composed of a number of prominent downtown business men are the buyers, and they will hold the property as an investment. The building was erected by Marc Eidlitz, and the cost of land and building to the sellers was $446,000. The building is but one block from Broadway, and the locality that has been extremely active during the past six months. Three large office buildings are now in course of construction in this immediate neighborhood.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

FRONT ST.—The Whitehall Realty Co. report the sale of 232-4 Front st, a 4-sty brick stable, on plot 36.6x73.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

Mr. Max Freund, who has spent the summer in Europe, will return on the 19th on S. S. "Kronprinz Wilhelm."

Large deals are under way again. The gentlemen who do such things are thus evidently back from their summer vacations.

Millard Veit leased for the Washington Life Insurance Co. the 6th loft of the building, 565 Broadway, southwest corner of Prince st, to Oppenheim, Baruch & Co., for a term of years.

A rumor is current in Newport that James Hazen Hyde is negotiating for the purchase, from Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, of the Marble House, which for years has been in charge of a caretaker.

The Polstein Realty and Construction Company has been incorporated with Joseph Polstein as President. The concern will continue to buy, sell and build tenement properties. The offices are at 198 Broadway.

E. V. C. Pescia & Co. have leased the following property: 28 to 32 West End av, also the adjoining corner of 61st st, four 5-sty double tenements with stores for a term of 5 years, at an aggregate rental of about $42,500, to a Mrs. Cannenalde.

The McVickar, Ballard Realty Co. has leased for Harry S. Houpt to the Aster Company, the store and basement at the northwest corner of Broadway and 48th st, to be used for the automobile business.

Changes of grade in different parts of the Bronx have caused damages to property, for which owners are presenting claims. William Waldorf Astor has presented a bill for nearly one million dollars, for injury to his property on Walton, Cromwell, River and Girard avenues.

William D. Bloodgood, of the firm of Bloodgood, de Saulles & Talbot, returned last Monday on the steamship Kroonland from abroad after an absence of five months, during which time he traveled through Italy, Switzerland, Germany, France, Belgium, Holland and England.

In Macomb's Dam Park seven lawn tennis courts have been graded. Grass courts were converted into clay courts. A new athletic field is now in course of construction, east of Cromwell's Creek, on which is being laid out a quarter-mile running track. The filling in of the low land under Central Bridge also continues.

After some years of litigation it has been left to Alton B. Parker to fix upon the amount of damages that each owner has sustained by reason of the subsidences caused by subway excavations on Park avenue. As the losses and annoyances in this case were severe, it is hoped that full recompense will be obtained.

Mr. Billings is greatly enlarging, if not quite rebuilding, his house on Fort Washington rd, by an addition of brick to the stucco main portion. He is also building a fine walled terrace on the edge of the bluff. Mr. Billings' neighbor, the Hon. Hugh Grant, is leveling the ground around his residence. Other than these, there is no building going on on Mount Washington, north of 171st st, and ground has been broken in but one other place anywhere on the Fort Washington rd.

Heil & Stern have leased, for long terms, the followig Broadway stores: For Mary M. Ward, 707-9 Broadway; for Weil & Mayer, 590 Broadway; for L. F. Post, 508 and 547 Broadway, and for Joseph Fox, 456 Broadway. The same firm has also leased 15,000 square feet of space in the building at 19-23 West 18th st, for the Hoffman estate; also 10,000 square feet of space in 122 and 124 5th av, for the Hoffman estate, and 14,000 square feet in 18 to 22 West 18th st, for The J. C. Lyons Building Co.

Edward H. Harriman, who already owns hundreds of acres at Arden, in Orange County, N. Y., has acquired a large tract of land on the western side of Greenwood Lake, to which he has arranged, according to report, to run a branch, ten miles in length, from the Susquehanna Railroad, for the purpose of developing it for villa sites, in the interest of New York City commuters. The situation is very pretty, but at present commercially inaccessible, though this is a fault which Mr. Harriman, as a railroad power, can no doubt correct. He is at present in Japan. His New York office is at 100 Broadway.

Some Cincinnati men are reported to have realized forty-five per cent. within two months from a Manhattan real estate deal, and have now invested in a large track on U and W streets, between the Gravesend race track and Ocean avenue. An immense amount of outside money is said to be coming into metropolitan real estate. Gold mines and oil companies are consequently losing their hold in the towns where they once flourished. For twelve years real estate operations in the smaller cities especially have been under a cloud, mainly because of slow movement due principally to high building costs. Signs multiply of a coming widespread renewal of interest, probably because it is now believed that costs will be no lower.

Negotiations which were pending through Geo. R. Read & Co. between Max Marx and the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, for the purchase of the two blocks bounded by Seventh and Eighth avenues, 144th and 146th streets, have been overruled and discontinued by Mr. Belmont personally, because of his dissatisfaction with the price which had been agreed upon, namely, $1,800,000. Thursday was the day set for the delivery of the deed. It is understood that Mr. Read's firm will take steps to collect the commission which they believe they have earned. Car yards now occupy the land, and it was Mr. Marx's purpose to remove these and sell it off in building lots, there being a great pressure for sites in that neighborhood, together with an immensity of flat building.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE, BUREAU FOR THE COLLECTION OF TAXES, NEW YORK, September 1, 1905.

TAXPAYERS WHO DESIRE TO OBTAIN THEIR bills promptly should make immediate written requisition (blanks may be procured in the borough offices), stating their property by Section or Ward, Block and Lot or Map number, making copy of same from their bills of last year.

If a taxpayer is assessed for personal tax, the requisition should also request bill for such tax.

Each requisition should be accompanied by an envelope bearing the proper address of the applicant, AND WITH RETURN POSTAGE PREPAID.

In case of any doubt in regard to Ward, Section, Block or Lot number, taxpayers should take their deeds to the Department of Taxes and Assessments and have their property located on the maps of that Department and forward to the Deputy Receiver of Taxes with the requisition a certified memorandum of their property, which will be furnished by the Department of Taxes and Assessments.

Taxpayers in this manner will receive their bills returned by mail at the earliest possible moment and avoid any delay caused by waiting on lines, as required in case of personal application.

The requisition must be addressed and mailed to the Deputy Receiver of Taxes in whichever borough the property is located, as follows:

JOHN J. McDONOUGH, No. 57 Chambers street, Borough of Manhattan, New York.
JOHN B. UNDERHILL, corner Third and Tremont avenues, Borough of The Bronx, New York.
JACOB S. VAN WYCK, Municipal Building, Borough of Brooklyn, New York.
FREDERICK W. BLECKWENN, corner Jackson avenue and Fifth street, Long Island City, Borough of Queens, New York.
JOHN DE MORGAN, Bay and Sand streets, Stapleton, Staten Island, Borough of Richmond, New York.

After receiving the bills the taxpayer will see that they are properly rebated, then draw check for the net amount to the order of the Receiver of Taxes and mail bill and check, with an addressed envelope with the return postage prepaid, to the Deputy Receiver in whichever borough the property is located.

Checks should be mailed as soon as possible after the bills have been received by the taxpayer.

All bills paid during October must be rebated before payment.

DAVID E. AUSTEN,
Receiver of Taxes.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Baragain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$50,000 ndicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before 2d figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

Sept 8, 9, 11, 12, 13, 14.

JUDGMENTS

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real name being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of the list.

Editor Record and Guide:

Referring to Mechanic's lien of $4,929 filed on the 13th inst. by William Henderson, against premises No. 305 East 23d st., I would say that after repeated requests Mr. Henderson presented a final bill on July the 24th for $2,126.66, of which $1,859.11 was for alleged extra work, the balance, $267.55, being the remainder of original contract. The extra bill was disputed, and Mr. Henderson offered and agreed to arbitrate pursuant to contract, but in violation of his agreement he has filed a lien for an exorbitant amount and it is my intention to contest the same.

Yours respectfully,
William F. Foley, Owner.

FROM the way the market is advancing it looks as if everything was being prepared for another sharp reaction. It is obviously desirable at present that no speculative movement should gain any great headway and call for any large amount of money; but the absence of selling pressure and the ease with which certain railway stocks can be advanced encourages speculators to advance them—in spite of the fact that prices are already very high and money for speculative purposes scarce. The news of the week has done nothing to impair the general strength of the situation. The reported intention of the St. Paul company to build to the coast does not, even if true, contain any threat to security values, because the traffic which originates in that region is beginning to justify another transcontinental line. The acquisition by the Erie of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad, while it adds nothing to the current value of Erie shares, is an example of profitable railroad consolidation and will in the end largely increase the possibilities of the Erie system. It is probable that this is the first of several announcements all looking in the direction of improved railroad and industrial organization. The current business year is also likely to be an active and important one in relation to railroad finance. Such financing comes generally somewhere towards the end of a period of business prosperity, and is designed for the purpose of enabling the railroad financiers to turn profits into cash. Enormous profits have certainly been made in the last year, by a number of railroads, and some means will be found to realize upon them without endangering the existing control of the roads.

THE demand for private dwellings continues to be a noticeable and satisfactory aspect of the current real estate market. While this demand is stronger on the East Side, it is not confined to that part of the city, but is well distributed throughout the West Side and in Harlem. It is so well distributed indeed, that it has not occasioned any considerable speculative demand in any one section; but if it continues the operators will participate in it more largely, and it will have a greater effect upon prices. Moreover, it will probably continue and even increase—not because there has been any change of condition respecting the economic availability of private dwellings compared to flats, but, because it looks as if just for the moment, the demand for residences, irrespective of their location, has overtaken the supply. That demand is unusually large at present, partly because the average business man is again very prosperous, and partly because the normal demand has been increased by special causes. The conditions are similar to those which caused the East Side movement in 1902. Then business men had made a great deal of money and were ready to lock it up in houses; and in the same year the purchases of the New York Central for terminal purposes, had both dispossessed many owners of private dwellings and provided them with plenty of money wherewith to buy new ones. Just at present there is no big railway company to accelerate by its purchases the demand for private houses; but the increased requirements of the wholesale and retail trades are having the same effect. The owners of residences along the line of 5th av. as far north as 46th st, are being displaced by business and are selling out at higher prices than any which they ever expected to get. This money is being frequently re-invested in houses further north. Throughout the whole of the current year, the demand, which arises from these conditions, will continue to be very large. In Harlem, also, many private dwellings are being torn down in neighborhoods which have become more available for tenements; but the people who are dispossessed from this cause do not receive such good prices for their property and probably the great majority of them go subsequently to swell the apartment-house population. On the West Side a similar displacement of private dwellings by flats would be taking place were it not that so many streets in that part of the city are restricted to that one class of improvement. The existing demand for dwellings is, however, good enough to warrant the increased construction of such buildings; and it is certain that in 1906 more money will be spent upon them than has been spent in any year since 1902.

EXCAVATIONS have been commenced for the combined apartment house and hotel which will be erected by the Astor estate on the block bounded by 78th and 79th sts, Broadway and West End av. Inasmuch as this will be a twenty story building, occupying a whole block, it will constitute both the largest and the tallest apartment house in New York or for that matter in the world, and in consequence every circumstance connected with the improvement has a certain interest Thus its location on Broadway emphasizes the growing importance of that thoroughfare in the busuiness economy of the West Side. For years it was neglected except for the erection of a few rows of five story flats. Then came the years in which so many seven story apartment-houses were erected, and in which the recent trade of the avenue was increasing. Finally, after the seven story tenement was killed by the new-law, fire-proof structures began to be erected on Broadway; and hereafter the new buildings will almost all be confined to that kind of improvement. The subway has made it the leading business thoroughfare on the West Side, and it will be used for both high-class residential and business purposes in a way which is unique in New York. It should be remarked also that this new building will be a combination both of apartment house and hotel, which is becoming a popular type of building. It will constitute in fact a larger and completer Ansonia, and will offer an enormous variety of residential accommodation. A building of this kind is even more difficult to plan than a large hotel; but if properly planned it has an even better opportunity of securing a permanently profitable set of tenants. There are not a great many new apartment houses now being erected on the West Side, but those which are being erected will cost a great deal of money. Plans have already been filed this year for four apartment houses, each to be twelve stories high and all to be erected at an aggregate cost of $2,350,000.

THE current demand for tenements and apartment houses is not confined to any one part of the city, but it is noticeable that Washington Heights is forging ahead as the district in which residential building is most active. The only section of Manhattan which competes with it is the area east of Central Park. Up to date plans have been filed for 356 tenements to be built on the upper East Side at a cost of $15,816,000, whereas the corresponding totals for Washington Heights are 296 and $15,467,000. It will be seen that while there are about 60 more tenements under construction on the East Side, builders have so far planned to spend the same amount of money in each district. But of late plans for new buildings on Washington Heights have been coming out more rapidly than plans for new buildings on the East Side. There will be over $20,000,000 spent on Washington Heights in 1905 and probably over $30,000,000 in 1906.

IT looks as if another pair of tunnels would be built between Manhattan and New Jersey. The announcement is made that the New York City Railway Company and the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey have between them agreed to seek a franchise for a new line of communication under the Hudson River, the Manhattan terminus of which is to be somewhere in the vicinity of Pearl st and Park Row. If the corporation which has been organized for the purpose obtains the franchise and takes advantage of it, New Jersey will be almost as well connected with Manhattan as Long Island will be. There will be three sets of tunnels under the river, one terminating at Greenwich and Cortlandt sts, one terminating at or near Chambers st and Broadway, and one having two terminal stations, one at Greeley sq and one at Astor pl. In this way every important line of transit across the river will be effectually provided for, and residents of New Jersey who wish to reach either the financial, the wholesale, the retail or the amusement districts will be furnished with excellent means of communication. The proposed new tunnel fills an obvious and important place in this system of interstate transit. In the first place it terminates at a point which will be very convenient for people doing business south of Canal st, and in the second place it will very much improve the machinery of transportation between Brooklyn and New Jersey. So far as yet arranged the only means of travelling direct from Long Island to the other side of the Hudson River will be furnished by the Long Island and the Pennsylvania Railroads. The proposed new tunnel will not —so far as the plans have already been divulged—bring into existence another direct line of communication, but it will make it much easier for a resident of Brooklyn to reach New Jersey, and it is probable that if this tunnel is ever constructed, it will eventually communicate directly with a tunnel to Brooklyn. It looks as if these trolley tunnels would in the end virtually monopolize what is now the commutation traffic to the suburbs in New Jersey. They will be able to offer a quicker, a cheaper one, and a more convenient service than the steam railroads. They will land their passengers at convenient central points without change of cars, and if the Jersey Central, the Lackawanna and the Erie wish to hold their own, they will have to combine so as to provide accommodations equally as good.

IT is a significant fact that the directors of the United States Realty and Construction Co. are now considering the payment of dividends on its stock—thereby affording another example of the rehabilitation of an important industrial corporation by means of better times and better management. This company is now by way of attaining a financial standing, which will enable it to conduct a real estate investment business in a very profitable manner. Its function obviously is to improve to the best advantage parcels of real estate which are too expensive to be handled by the ordinary speculator; and in order to conduct such operations its prime necessity is its ability to obtain fresh supplies of capital at a low rate of interest. At present its five per cent. bonds are selling at par which is better than the price at which they have sold hitherto. Eventually, however, the company will be able to borrow at 4 or 4½ per cent. on its own credit, and then it will be able to conduct its business in the most economical manner. Such a result can hardly be attained until after dividends on the stock have been paid for some time; but the existing policy of the company, which is directed towards the development of its present holdings as income producers will, when it is carried out, enable it to pay a fair dividend. Just now it is engaged in erecting the new Boreel Building and the new Plaza Hotel; and its income will be largely increased when these operations are completed. It may be added that the Realty Co. should soon be in the market as a purchaser of more property. It has now either pretty well consumed almost all the undeveloped real estate which it acquired under the former speculative management; and it will be obliged to provide the raw material for further operations.

Bolton Hall Favors Exemption.

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

In reply to your favor asking my views as to the proposal to exempt real estate improvements over and above the cost of the land to the extent of $3,000, I will say that it seems to me that any opposition to this must be based upon a misunderstanding of the proposition or of its effects.

Owners of realty naturally dislike any exemption that seems to leave an added burden to be borne by their properties, but it is clear that a small exemption of improvements would vastly increase the building of small houses, and these in their turn necessitate large stores, banks factories to supply the materials, etc., all of which furnish new subjects of taxation.

Some fear that to encourage the building of small homes would reduce the rents of tenements and apartments, and, therefore, oppose the exemption. Like most of the views of selfishness, these are also the views of stupidity. Were the proposition to exempt all improvements from taxation and to raise the deficit by taxing land values, there is no question that it would greatly hurt speculative values and thereby hurt speculators; but if we can build up around New York a great suburban community of well-to-do and contented people, it is easy to see what a tremendous increase it will give to our city land values.

Again, even the speculator in suburban lands suffers more from the large holdings of vacant land with which the owners do nothing than from any other cause. An important factor in the present rise in New York City real estate has unquestionably been the fact that the new plan of assessing real estate up to or near its actual value has shaken out a lot of dog-in-the-manger holders, has stimulated improvement, opened up opportunities for employment of capital and labor, and actually increased the value of the lands and buildings whose assessment has been increased.

It is perfectly clear to anyone who will think that any improvement, whether social, industrial, or even religious, in the condition of the city or of the country goes first and mainly to the owners of the city and of the country.

But there are not many who can think, and still fewer who will think, and we must, therefore, look for the usual opposition that comes to every improvement from that "brutish, measureless, human undergrowth," which is not always enlightened by the possession of some money or some influence. Yours truly,

BOLTON HALL.

THE WATER FRONT OF NEW YORK HARBOR

By HENRY E. NESMITH.

The United States census of 1900 gives the population of the country as 76,303,000; the same authority states that the people within twenty miles of Manhattan number 4,630,000, which is nearly one-sixteenth of the total. This enormous fraction, enormous when the comparative smallness of the territory is considered, is composed of both consumers and producers. It can certainly be said that these individuals consume as much in value as any of the other fifteen-sixteenths, and in all probability produce as much. The initial reason for the gathering of this mass is not far to seek. It is not only underlying, but is a continuous reason and is permanent.

It is the harbor of New York, and every other and succeeding cause of our growth is based upon the natural advantages of the great port. The railroads came because the harbor was here; the Erie canal was dug because New York looked out upon these waters. The simplest map is convincing. The lower bay with its sheltered entrance to the upper, and with the Raritan Bay and River at its back; the upper bay, the Kill von Kull and Arthur Kill; Newark Bay with its two rivers, the Hackensack and the Passaic; and last the two great rivers, the Hudson and the East, one of them a strait leading to a commercial sound. The port of New York is destined for no decay, for no loss of its steady growth. One kind of trade may leave it, like that of grain, owing to natural laws of trade or finance, but its growth goes on as healthy as ever. And as from our needs we demand ONE-SIXTEENTH of all the country requires, and as much more than that fraction of what is made and sold by the country comes to us on its way to the foreign buyer because we own the harbor, and very much more than that comes to us from abroad to our buyers throughout the United States for the same reason, the lands fronting on the waters of the harbor have had and will have a remarkable growth in development and value.

A commercial waterfront is merely the place where the method of transportation of men and merchandise changes. The process of changing from the land to the water and from the water to the land goes on here uninterruptedly; the work of discharging and loading the water craft seems unending. And in connection with that work structures of very many kinds, as we know, are built upon the waterfront. Manhattan Borough has its piers, its gas plants, its railroad transfer bridges, its ferry-houses and manufactories. Brooklyn varies this list by adding its warehouses and elevators, and shipyards, and the New Jersey shore by the addition of its great railroad terminals. Each of these items, except that of the grain elevators, is increasing in size and number.

The history of the development of each of the shores differs, partly on account of the different laws and ordinances, and partly on account of the movements of trade. That of Manhattan Island is the most important, and a short statement of pertinent facts in regard to it may be interesting. The city of New York was a municipal corporation when the English Crown by Governor Dongan granted to it in 1686 all the land between high and low water mark around the island, and jurisdiction over it. In 1730, "The Montgomerie Charter" covered a further grant of a strip of land, four hundred feet in width, beyond low water mark, extending from Corlear's Hook on the East River southerly around the island and northerly along the Hudson River to Bestaver's rivulet, or now the foot of Charlton street, excepting the land in front of the Battery. Acting upon these charters, the city gave parcels of land to private persons in many locations until 1807.

The grantees built West and South streets, and maintained them until 1798 and a width of forty feet. Then it was thought necessary to widen both streets to seventy feet, and the city found it could not compel the upland owners to complete the improvements, as the thirty feet to be added belonged to the State. Upon petitioning the Legislature, reciting the need for the change in width and the necessity of more piers and wharves, an act was passed authorizing the city to lengthen and extend the streets and wharves at the expense of the proprietors of land adjoining these in proportion to the breadth of their several lots; also giving the city the right to direct piers to be built, planned at its discretion, in front of said streets or wharves.

Under this Act and by resolution of the Common Council in 1803, various owners of water lots on the East River built piers which were held in joint proprietorship by them. The piers were so placed and the waterfront so divided that the owner of a water lot not directly behind a pier received his share, based upon the frontage of his lot, of the income of the pier. In 1807, an Act of the Legislature invested in the city the right of regulating and constructing slips and basins and wharves and piers, and authorized the Commissioners of the Land Office to grant to the city forever the land under water below low water mark; "from Bestavie's Killitie, or river, to the distance of four miles to the north along the easterly shore of the said North or Hudson River, and also all the land covered by water along the westerly shore of the East River, or Sound"—from the north side of Corlear's Hook to the distance of two miles to the north; "provided always that the proprietor or proprietors of the land adjacent shall have the pre-emptive right in all grants made by the corporation of the said city of any lands under water granted to the said corporation under this Act." An Act passed in 1826 completed the city's title to the remaining land under water, including that of the Harlem River.

Restricted in its natural commercial development by these laws, the city grew in trade and commerce notwithstanding for the advantages of the port were upbuilding all its shores. The increase in water transportation was so great that in 1856, a commission was appointed "relative to the encroachments and preservation of the Harbor of New York," which laid out boundary lines for the piers and bulkheads, which lines prevented further building into the rivers and limited and defined the scope of enlargement.

WHERE THE FIRST STEAMSHIPS BERTHED.

During these years the city had been building as well as its grantees, even, in the case of many piers, in connection with them, so that in 1857 the city waterfront including piers and basins, though much less than that owned by private persons, was valued at $5,823,000. Then there were few steamships; the best of the foreign trade that came to Manhattan (Brooklyn already was taking the larger vessels with inward cargoes) berthed in the East River below where the Brooklyn Bridge is now; so it is not strange to find the value of the city's piers and bulkheads on the East River estimated at $2,353,000 and on the North River at $1,853,000 and that the returns under the leases and the wharfage laws of that date were much larger from the East River property. To show the change in fifty years one item is illuminating: The largest proportion of income from the city's wharves came then from its ferries, the Fulton and Hamilton and South ferries paying together for three half piers and two bulkheads a rental of $35,000 per year. Therefore, the value of the waterfront used by the ferries was placed at $1,617,000.

Ten years after this condition of affairs, in 1867, the wharf property of the city had become so neglected that in the wording of the resolution of the sinking fund: "Whereas, over $100,000 was due on the 1st of January, 1867, for unpaid rents of wharves, piers and slips in consequence of the alleged failure of the city to make repairs, etc., and whereas the legislature passed an act appropriating $600,000 for repairs which failed to receive the Governor's approval, etc., hence no funds to repair, and many piers, wharves and slips became dilapidated, etc. Resolved, That three persons be appointed to report on the condition and the amount required to properly repair the same, and on the expediency of selling all the right, title and interest of the city in such wharves, piers and slips to the highest bidder, so as to secure by private enterprise what the municipal government has failed to accomplish, and that the Chamber of Commerce be invited to co-operate." The commissioners appointed made a detailed list of every piece owned by the city and reported that in totals the present value was $15,793,500; cost to repair and rebuild $1,119,185; value when repaired $18,707,400; cost of extending them as proposed $791,550; value when extended $20,377,100.

The city decided not to sell, and in 1870 the Dock Department was formed. Under the act of 1871 this department had exclusive charge and control of all the wharf property owned by the city and the exclusive government and regulation of all other wharf property. It was, besides, given the power to construct under the plans at that time approved by the Sinking Fund Commission, piers, bulkheads, etc., "without interfering with the property or rights of any other person, except so far as may be necessary to insure the safety" of structures to be built. It also had the right to acquire by purchase or process of law all the private water front.

Under this right the department in the following years bought private property on both rivers, and came into possession of many feet of water front by legal action. All property of this character is withdrawn from the market, as the city cannot sell its water front which is held as security for the bonds which are issued for its purchase, and are now called "Docks and Ferries." Between 1870 and January, 1902, the city spent in acquiring private water front, including various items of cost, $11,400,400.12. Since then large stretches of property on both rivers have been condemned; on the East River, nearly the remainder of private ownership between Whitehall st., and Corlear's Hook, twenty-two piers and half-piers besides the bulkheads; on the North River the private property between Gansevoort and West. 23d sts., of bulkheads and uplands which are now being improved into the finest stretch of water front in the city, called the Chelsea section.

In 1885, from Pier 1 at the Battery to West 11th st., on the North River, a distance of about 10,800 feet, the city owned 4,600 feet and private parties 6,200 feet. In 1896, from the Battery to Gansevoort st., 13,439 feet, the holdings of the city amounted to 8,089 feet, the railroads 1,917 feet, and private owners 3,433 feet. The use this section of the shore was put to is interesting. Foreign steamships occupied 1,779 feet, and coasting steamers 1,861 feet; the railroads 3,883 feet, the ferries 1,116 feet, and the inland steamers and miscellaneous commerce the balance, 4,800 feet. This was before the large piers in the Gansevoort section now occupied by the White Star, Cunard and Wilson lines were built. On the East River, from Whitehall st to the Brooklyn Bridge, a distance of 6,411 feet, in 1885, the city owned 3,753 feet; the private owners 2,658 feet; while now the private holding are reduced to about 400 feet.

The writer is one of the minority that does not believe in the public ownership of piers, knowing that it is not for the ultimate benefit of the commerce of the port; but as this policy has been carried so far on Manhattan Island, it is best that it should be completed there. We can rely upon the shore of New Jersey to correct the evils to natural commercial growth that may arise, as Brooklyn has been doing for years.

Taxes, Rebates and Penalties.

This year's taxes will become due and payable October 2. At the same time they become liens upon the real estate, in accordance with the Charter provisions that taxes shall be due and payable and become a lien on the property affected on the first Monday of October of each year. The Charter also provides that anyone paying his taxes before November 1st shall receive a rebate at the rate of six per cent. per annum, from the day of payment until December 1st. Taxes paid on or after November 1st, and until December 1st, are net to the city. On and after December 1st, and until January 1st, a penalty of one per cent. of their amount is charged on unpaid taxes, and thereafter they are arrears and subject to an interest charge at the rate of seven per cent. per annum from the day upon which they become due and payable. The longest period for which the rebate can be obtained this year is 59 days, and the shortest, as is the case every year, 30 days. Col. Austin, the Receiver of Taxes, has prepared and issued for the guidance of taxpayers a calculation of the rebate per $100 which can be obtained for any part of the period during when the privilege may be obtained, which is as follows:

| If Paid. | Allow. | Rebate per $100. | If Paid. | Allow. | Rebate per $100. |

Bridge Terminal Plan Criticised.

Mr. Poulson, in a published letter, criticises Commissioner Best's plan for the Manhattan terminal of the Brooklyn Bridge, saying: "Commissioner Best's plan calls for a terminal on the other side of Park row to cost $8,500,000, and will take years to build, but it will not give the desired relief, as the passengers will have even more stair climbing than they have now; the elevated passengers will have to climb twenty feet higher, as the elevated will be above the present Third avenue elevated and the terminal will be built on lower ground; the trolley service will be underground, so those passengers will also have stair climbing.

"On the other hand, if the terminal is located where it is now the whole service can be on the ground floor. The plans show that there is ample room on the ground floor for four elevated trains and five platforms; if the trucking is switched into Chambers street the platforms can be seventeen feet wide, but if it is left as it now is, the platforms will be reduced to twelve feet, which is ample. This plan is like the railroad plans used everywhere else, and there cannot, therefore, be any dispute as to its practicability and there is none. The only objection has been made by the Bridge Department, which says that only forty trains can be run per hour, whereas now they run sixty trains per hour. If this were true the plan, of course, would be useless, but it is easily proved by facts that the Bridge Department is mistaken."

—The New York School of Industrial Art takes the place of the School of Decorative and Applied Art, Miss Elisa A. Sargent, director. The new organization is located in the Fine Arts Building, 215 West 57th st, and is affiliated with the Art Student's League. Dr. James E. Lough, Ph. D., of the New York University, takes charge of the work in phychology and pedagogy, and Mr. T. S. Noble, of the Art Academy of Cincinnati, the landscape composition and the painting of interiors. A new feature of the instruction is the class in mural painting, under the criticism of Mr. Hugo Ballin, with lectures by Edwin Blashfield, H. Siddons-Mowbray and others.

Fifth Avenue and Union Square.

NO OVER-PRODUCTION OF LOFT BUILDINGS ON THE AVENUE, AGENTS SAY.

A NOTABLE migration northward from within the wholesale trade has seen its beginning and swelling into a very full tide in a brief period, fulfilling a prediction that was made when it became known that a certain prominent group of retail houses was moving from the region into which the wholesale trade is now in part tending. The prediction was that the obsolescence into which the business area north of Fourteenth street, on the West Side, seemed to have fallen would not long continue ere the departing retailers would be succeeded by wholesalers from the southern section of the city.

On Fifth avenue the movement has very plain tangibility at the present moment, as on six successive corners loft buildings of exceptional dimensions and finish are in course of erection. At Fifteenth street, the fifteen-story "Stuyvesant Building"; at Sixteenth street, the "Knickerbocker," also fifteen stories; at Seventeenth street, an eleven-story edifice to the order of the Hoffman estate; at Eighteenth, another fifteen-story structure, and at Nineteenth, the Lord & Taylor store. Some builders and brokers expect to see in their time every available plot of ground between Broadway and Sixth avenue, and Fourteenth and Twenty-third streets the site of a commercial building.

It is customary to say that a building movement such as Fifth avenue holds is due to the insistence of commerce, but most often speculative builders provide the space first, and then wait for the insistence. It is a matter of judgment with these enterprising, if not daring, capitalists, in foreseeing the course of trade and preparing for it in advance of its actual arrival. Trade, in the modernity of metropolitan life, is far more likely to be a lessee than a builder. In this sense, the expansion of business territory as well as the residential, is to be credited to our builders rather than to our merchants; they are the men who really take the chance of misjudging locations in respect to business advantages.

It is their judgment that lower Fifth avenue first, and eventually Union square, will be centers not only for great wholesale firms occupying lofts, but of a multitude of lesser ones requiring office accommodations merely. They perceive that New York is becoming more and more a clearing-house for the whole country, and that for many interests situated elsewhere it is becoming more and more essential to have metropolitan representation. It is for a national as well as a local migration, then, that provision in this region is being made.

Some very important firms have arranged to move into the new buildings on Fifth avenue. The J. L. Mott Company has leased the eleven-story building which the Hoffman estate is erecting, intending to occupy half and rent out the rest. This concern, for many years in Beekman street, recently sold their property there to the J. L. Linde Paper Company. A great lace house has leased the store and basement of the Knickerbocker Building at Sixteenth street for ten years, and the American Wool Company will occupy half of the fifteen-story building going up at the Eighteenth street corner. Many business houses in the same line with these named are expected to follow.

Mr. Anthony Lo Forte, who is the renting agent for the Stuyvesant and Knickerbocker Buildings, is led to believe from his personal experience in the neighborhood that there is absolutely no danger of overbuilding. "To the contrary, the available space of this locality being so limited, the demand will by far exceed the supply," added Mr. Lo Forte. "The two new fifteen-story office and loft buildings being erected on Fifth avenue, the "Knickerbocker" and the "Stuyvesant" are renting rapidly. The lofts in the "Knickerbocker" have an area of over seventeen thousand square feet; in the "Stuyvesant" nine thousand three hundred square feet, which extend to the eleventh floor of each building, and from there they are divided into offices of various sizes, which plan is carried out through the remaining five floors. These buildings are the result of the very highest art in modern office construction. The large concerns are establishing themselves in this section, and where they locate the others are bound to follow. Fourteenth street will be the center of travel and crossing for all subway and surface lines, therefore Fifth avenue in this locality will naturally be the leading proposition."

Below Fourteenth street, Fifth avenue is still locked in dreams of a transition to a higher sphere of popularity and values. Under the present trend of trade, University place is being preferred, though Macmillan is taking in another building, and there is expectation of a future development along the lines already established there. In the opinion of brokers in the vicinity, Union square would respond adequately to such attention from builders as Fifth avenue is receiving, and which they believe it is certain in time to receive.

"I am a bull on Union square," said a business man of high standing in the neighborhood this week. "We have been in a state of transition such as repeatedly passes over a great city, but the building movement now centering on Fifth avenue will reach us very soon. No firm over there on Fifth avenue but would prefer to be on Broadway. It is true that Tiffany, Gorham and Reed & Barton have left, but Sloane, Arnold & Constable and Vantine will stay. We shall see no such a string of Christmas shoppers as in the past, but there will be a recompense for that in time.

"Stores will rent for less perhaps, but there will be a far stronger demand for lofts and offices. In evidence of this, take the new Bank of the Metropolis Building, where every room but three is rented. The Hartford, Spingler and Lincoln Buildings, are also well occupied. Brill Brothers are among the new arrivals, and the Whiting Company will move into the building vacated by Gorham. Tiffany's old place is to rent.

"I expect to see a pronounced extension of the loft building movement, not only on Fifth avenue and the cross streets, but also on Union square. I believe a combination of stores, lofts and offices would do well. Firms carrying almost all kinds of lines are to be found in the section, and many are the representative houses of the world. Unquestionably the wholesale trade is firmly intrenched in the section, and continued growth is bound to create further demand for space.

"There is a boundless inquiry for lofts, but it is true that there is reluctance to pay the higher rates which the section demands. Owners hereabouts may find it advisable to make concessions, in order to encourage the northward movement, and at the same time firms will probably see their way clear to make the increased expenditure which the better location requires."

—The Union Railway Company has asked permission from the Board of Estimate to lay tracks in twenty or more streets of the Bronx. On general principles real estate interests are satisfied to have transportation facilities for new sections increased, but maintain that care should be exercised in granting rights of way, so as (1) to obtain for the community the best equipment and the best service, (2) adequate compensation for the privileges extended, having in mind that the wealth which will come from operating the lines will be created by the public which also created and still owns the highways, only the vehicles, so to speak, belonging to the petitioning company; (3) that a requirement should be entered among the conditions for an immediate service in those streets where permission to lay tracks is obtained, and (4) that routes should be selected with discrimination, so that while every section will be reasonably served, quiet residential places will not be unnecessarily disturbed by the clatter of car traffic. It has been disclosed in the proceedings that all the transportation facilities in Manhattan and the Bronx are controlled by a single trust. The Union Railway, says the Bureau of Franchises in the Comptroller's office is now a part of the New York City Interborough Railway Company's system and the latter, though hitherto posing as an independent corporation, is now allied with the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, which in turn owns both the Underground and the Elevated. This is a concentration of authority and responsibility which real estate interests should fully understand.

Hudson River bricks have maintained a level price list for several weeks, but manufacturers are confident of a rising market as the season advances from this stage, and some have expressed their intention of holding their material back.

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Building Operations.

Contract for $300,000 Residence Let.

51ST ST.—J. F. DeBaun' 1368 Broadway, has just obtained the general contract to build the 5-sty fireproof residence, 30x100, which E. Rollins Morse, 100 Broadway, will build on the north side of 51st st, 221 feet east of 5th av, at an estimated cost of $300,000. Ogden Codman, Jr., Windsor Arcade, 571 Fifth av, is the architect.

Toch Brothers Building in Long Island.

Toch Brothers have recently purchased plots, 50x100, on 9th st, between West and Vernon avs, Long Island City, across the street from their works on which they will erect an additional plant. They are also erecting a building on 8th st, Long Island City, in the rear of their present plant, which now gives them a total plot of seven lots.

Elevator Apartment House for West End Avenue.

WEST END AV.—Charles E. Birge, 5 West 31st st, is making plans for the erection of a 12-sty high class elevator apartment house, 90x75.11, for 25 families, with two families on a floor, to be situated on the northwest corner of West End av and 106th st, at an estimated cost of $275,000. The Stanley Court Realty and Construction Co., 78 William st, are the owners.

Hot water heat, electric lights, hardwood trim, and floors, etc. No contracts let.

Alterations.

101ST ST.—Maximilian Zipkes is drawing plans for alterations to 194 E 101st st, for Jacob Lintz, to cost $2,000.

11TH ST.—Maximilian Zipkes is drawing plans for alterations to 227 East 11th st, for Dr. M. Muldberg of 44 St. Marks pl.

Heins & LaFarge, 30 East 21st st, have awarded to S. F. Quick & Sons, Yonkers, N. Y., the general contract for a $75,000 addition to the residence of George W. Perkins, 146 Broadway, at Riverdale-on-Hudson.

Churches.

CRESTON AV.—The Amsterdam Building Co., 41 West 24th st, has obtained the general contract to build the new Bath Eden Baptist Church, at the southwest corner of Creston av and 189th st, in Fordham, from plans by W. H. Sears, 7 Wall st. The Rev. C. H. Sears, 396 East 184th st, is pastor. The congregation now holds its meetings in a hall at 2404 Jerome av, near Fordham road.

Miscellaneous.

A. J. Manning, 7 East 42d st, New York, is taking bids on a 3-sty stable 90x35, for M. S. Beltzhoover, of Irvington, New York, to be erected at that place

Schools.

Plans are under way for a new building in one of the most congested districts that will have eight stories and seat 5,000 children. This is the highest public school ever planned for New York. It will have elevators and escalators, and a playground on the roof.

The new school in 19th st, Brooklyn, is the first of the H type to be finished in Brooklyn. This type cannot have its light and air shut off by the biggest factory or the tallest apartment house, unless they are built on the street itself in front of the schoolhouse. The H type protects its own light and air. The blank walls without windows all face the outside, where adjoining apartments may be built regardless and harmless.

Stables.

PARK AV.—John Wanamaker, Broadway, and 9th st, is taking bids on a new brick and stone stable building, for himself, to be erected at Park av, and 175th st, at a cost of $100,000.

17TH ST.—James S. Maher, 1267 Broadway, has completed plans for a 3-sty and basement brick stable to be erected at 230 West 17th st., and will start construction on same about October 1st. No sub-contracts have yet been awarded.

Estimates Receivable.

The President of the Borough of Manhattan will receive bids on Thursday, Sept. 28th, for regulating and repaving with wood block pavement on concrete foundation the roadway of Broadway, from Vesey st to Battery pl.

SOUTH WILLIAM ST.—Edward L. Tilton, 32 Broadway, has plans ready for figures on $10,000 worth of alterations to No. 17 South William st, for Henry Schaefer, 8 South William st, on which no contracts have been issued.

WEST END AV.—Chas. A. Rich, 320 Fifth av, is ready for figures for extensive alterations to the 4-sty stone residence situated at West End av, and 89th st, for C. A. Braman, of 70 Worth st, to cost $50,000.

1ST AV.—The Trustees of the Wiener Estate, 261 Broadway, will make extensive alterations to Nos. 1206-1212 1st av, for which Edward I. Shire, 22 Pine st, is architect. Plans now ready of figures. No awards made. Cost, about $10,000.

A. Embury, 40 Cedar st. New York, is taking figures on the general contract for a 3-sty fireproof bank building, 35x60, which the Palisade Trust Co., Englewood, N. J., will erect at Park pl, and Dean st, that place.

100TH ST.—Gillespie & Carrel, 1125 Broadway, are taking figures on a 5-sty fireproof factory, 50x100, to be erected at 32 West 100th st, for Schinasi Bros. (Cigarette Mfrs.), 309 West 120th st.

Eidlitz & McKenzie, 1123 Broadway, are still taking bids on the general contract for the 3-sty fireproof office building, 30x44, which the New York & New Jersey Telephone Co., 15 Dey st, will erect at Erie and Bay sts, Jersey City, N. J.

Merriam, 117 West 79th st, on which no contracts have been issued. C. V. Tennant, 17 Broadway, will superintend the work. New plumbing, tubs, entrance, and rear addition.

23D ST.—Bids are wanted on electric wiring, on the new $300,000 office building, which E. W. Bliss, Inc., 312 East 23d st, will erect at Nos. 304-310 East 23d st, from plans by William W. Knowles, 1133 Broadway. Building will be 12-stys, 70x100. The Andrew J. Robinson Co., 123 East 23d st, has the general contract and Lewis Harding, 118 East 13th st, the carpentry.

17TH ST.—No contracts have been awarded for the 7-sty store and loft building, 25x83, which O. C. Olsen, 1117 Fox st, will build at No. 37 West 17th st, from plans by C. Abbott French, 627 Columbus av, at a cost of $45,000. One old building will be demolished. Plans specify a front of brick and limestone, plastic slate roof, galvanized iron cornices and skylights, steam heat, electric lights, etc.

Bids for the construction of a power house to be built on the grounds of the United States Naval Medical School (the old naval observatory site) Washington, D. C., were opened at the bureau of supplies and accounts, Navy Department, on Sept. 10. There were but two bidders—the Ambrose B. Stanard Co., of New York, and Charles D. Collins, of Washington. It is stated that the Collins Co. are lowest bidders.

AMSTERDAM AV.—The Central Realty Co., 900 7th av, general contractors, and Mulliken & Moeller, 7 West 38th st, architects, are taking subbids on mason work, carpenter, heating and ventilating, plumbing, elevators, electric wiring, etc., for the new $800,000 apartment house to be erected at the southeast corner of Amsterdam av, and 73d st. The Hay Foundry & Machine Co., 141 Broadway, have the structural steel work.

Contracts Awarded.

The contract to build an addition to the hospital at Ellis Island has been awarded the Northeastern Construction Company of New York at its bid of $100,000.

22D ST.—John C. Gabler, 84 Cortlandt st, has obtained the contract for alterations to the 3-sty residence 120 East 22d st, for Mrs. R. B. Minturn, 109 East 21st st, from plans by Messrs. Howells & Stokes, 100 William st.

Reed & Stem, 7 East 42d st, New York, have awarded to G. R. Dickinson, Syracuse, N. Y., the general contract for the New York Central & Hudson River R. R. Co., passenger station, to be erected at Auburn, N. Y., at a cost of $175,000.

Marc Eidlitz & Son, 498 Fifth av, New York, have obtained the general contract to build the 8-sty fireproof office building, 144x200, at Hartford, Conn., for the Travelers Insurance Co., of Hartford, from plans by Donn Barber, 24 East 23d st. (Reported in issue of Aug. 26, 1905.)

WASHINGTON ST.—W. K. Benedict, 11 East 42d st, has awarded to J. T. Hunt, 27 East 22d st, the contract for electric wiring in the new school for the Roman Catholic Church of St. Veronica, at Washington and Barrow sts, estimated to cost $75,000. C. H. Peckworth, 415 Hudson st, is general contractor, and Patrick Walsh, 420 West 25th st, has the carpenter work.

5TH AV.—The Murphy Construction Co., 5 East 42d st, has obtained the contract for $50,000 worth of alterations to the 11-sty bank and office building, northwest corner of 5th av and 21st st, for the Hudson Realty Co., 135 Broadway, from plans by Jacobs & Heidelberg, 322 5th av. New safe deposit vaults will be installed. (Mentioned in issue of July 22, 1905.)

BUILDING NOTES

Values firm and steady.

To-morrow? Why not now?

"A square deal," the cry of the era.

Builders and contractors have never been any busier.

Some joy on the journey of life is quite as good as a prize at the end of it.

Announcement of an exceptionally stiff addition to the price of North Carolina pine is expected from the association in a few days, following a meeting of the members at Norfolk this week.

Mr. Townsend, of the firm of Wight-Easton-Townsend Co., 603 West 45th st, is now associated with the firm of Milliken Bros. (Iron and steel), of 11 Broadway, in charge of the contract department.

The G. Bickelhaupt Skylight Works have made a perfect scuttle opener of their already most valuable device. It can be locked, unlocked, raised or lowered, opened or shut, partly or completely, from the floor, by the simple pulling of a single cord.

John R. Smith's Son, 421 East 103d st, has the cut-stone work on the following buildings: The Crescent Athletic Club, Brooklyn, Frank Freeman, 132 Nassau st, New York, architect. The American Savings Bank Building, 42d st, Charles E. Reid, 105 East 14th st, architect. And the New Rochelle High School, New Rochelle, N. Y., George K. Thompson, 66 Broadway, architect. This firm also did the stone work on the recently completed rectory of the Church of the Incarnation, Edwin Pearce Casey, 1 Nassau st, architect.

Excavating was commenced on Wednesday of this week, for the new 20-sty elevator apartment house, which William Waldorf Astor will erect on a plot 200x250 ft, on the block bounded by Broadway, West End av, 78th and 79th sts, from plans by Messrs. Clinton & Russell, 32 Nassau st. It will be recalled that plans were completed and ready for the new building about fifteen months ago. But operations were delayed. The plans show that the smallest regular apartment will consist of four rooms, and the largest of eighteen, all having every modern convenience and many innovations that have not heretofore been placed at the disposal of hotel guests. A mezzanine floor will be so arranged as to provide for spacious banquet halls and ballrooms, and the rest of the building will be given to apartments. On the Subway level in Broadway there will be a restaurant, cafe, palm rooms and lounging rooms similar in some respects to the ground floor arrangements of the Hotel Astor and Waldorf-Astoria. There will be main entrances on Broadway and West End av. Canavan Bros., of 518 West 56th st, have the contract for excavating, but no other contracts has yet been awarded.

Organization of Classes in Estimating & Building.

A series of classes which should prove of interest to all men in the building trades, is now organizing. The scope of the classes is to teach general building construction, estimating and drafting to superintendents, foremen, clerks, mechanics, etc. A set of illustrated lectures on construction will be given, to enable men to thoroughly understand every part of a building. These talks will not be highly technical, but sufficient for general work and most illustrations will be from actual building. Groups of not over twenty men will be in charge of practical estimators and will take up the work of the various building trades. Plans and specifications and working drawings of actual buildings will be used. The course is to be under the direction of Mr. L. E. Jallade, architect, and he has engaged as assistants the following men: Charles E. Hume, General Building, of Alfred Beinhauer, Builder; Joseph W. Cody, Excavating and Shoring, ex-Emergency Chief of the N. Y. Building Dept.; Charles E. Stanton, Sheet Metal Work, with A. J. Ellis Company; Louis Kreis, Cut Stone, with John R. Smith's Son; Edward Raque, C. E., Steel, with Post & McCord; Jacob M. Kraft, Plaster, with McNulty Bros.; Alfred W. Morris, Carpentry, with Robert Kellough & Co.; J. F. Burrowes, Ornamental Iron; with J. B. & J. M. Cornell; Charles R. Ten Eyck, Terra Cotta, with N. Y. Architectural Terra Cotta Co.; John Dalglish, Hardware, with Yale & Towne; Henry H. Ritter, M. E., Heating, with Francis Bros. & Jellett, Inc.; J. R. Shields Electric, with Francis Bros. & Jellett, Inc.

Groups for other work will be formed as requested. A drafting class will meet the needs of men who desire instruction in drafting. This will not be an architectural school, but is to enable men to present their ideas on paper in a rapid way. This class will be in charge of Mr. L. P. Hutton, architect.

These classes were opened for the first time in New York last year, in September, at the 57th Street Branch of the Y. M. C. A., with an enrollment of 80 pupils. They proved very successful. The classes this year based upon the experience of last year will be of greater value. Prominent architects, engineers and builders have promised to give the classes short talks on interesting subjects, so the entire course should interest architects as well as builders and mechanics.

The classes open on October 2, at night, and will continue for four months at the Y. M. C. A., 318 West 57th st, Manhattan.

Traction Magnates to Fight for Queens.

The recent evidences of a close connection between the Long Island Railroad, a branch of the Pennsylvania system, and the Belmont people in an active campaign for the control of Queens county and all of Long Island suburban traffic has aroused the Brooklyn Rapid Transit people to a sense of their impending danger of being strangled by a tight cordon of lines all about Brooklyn, which shall be feeders for the present and proposed subway lines which the Belmont interests will make a strong effort to acquire.

The contest for the prospective rich territory of Queens will soon be opened up, and the first great battle, it is generally supposed, will come before the Rapid Transit Commission, when the letting out of the contracts for the projected new subways is to take place. The company that secures the contract for these will largely dominate the situation in Brooklyn and Queens, as

THIS illustrates the bronze Marquise of Hotel St. Regis, New York, Messrs. Trowbridge and Livingston, Architects, considered by connoisseurs to be the finest of its kind in the world. Over twenty tons of bronze were used in its fabricating, the massive brackets alone weighing a ton each. This wonderful achievement in art metal work is but one of many for which this firm is famous and of which they are the pioneers and leading manufacturers in this country.

The Hecla Iron Works is recognized as the first and foremost concern in the manufacture of Architectural Metal Work in the World. Its plant is the largest and most complete, and the quality of its work is considered the standard, the world over.

North 10th, 11th and 12th Sts., from Wythe Ave. to Berry St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

the north and south line through Greenpoint will form a rapid transit connection between all the bridges, including Blackwell's Island Bridge and the control of the proposed subway under the East River at Fourteenth street insures the shortest line to Jamaica and the proposed extension by way of the Eastern parkway will tap some of Queens most paying territory west of Richmond Hill and in the Woodhaven district.

When the Long Island Railroad and the Belmont syndicate bought, jointly, the Long Island Traction Company's line, extending from the Brooklyn line at Liberty avenue, out to Freeport and Hempstead, and from Hempstead to Jamaica, they got a big advantage over their rivals.

The approaching completion of the big Pennsylvania tunnel and the electrifying of all the Long Island Railroad lines in Queens Borough and a part of Nassau county, has given both the New York City and the B. R. T. system reason to take notice.

Under such circumstances there is little wonder that streams of money are finding channels in the local real estate markets in which to expend its cumulative energy. It is not surprising to learn that the last farm has been sold in Flatbush; that the market gardener is disappearing from Kings; and that realty in Queens is rising in value by leaps and bounds.

It is true, there yet remains a vast acreage of virgin soil in the borough, innocent of the touch of the city lots surveyor's instrument and chain. But, it too, is rapidly vanquishing, and the generation is born that will point to blocks of buildings standing on land now in its primeval condition of verdure and natural landscape topography.

The building for the Manhattan terminal of the Brooklyn Bridge will be erected from plans by Carrere & Hastings, and cost, exclusive of land, $3,000,000. The design is in keeping with the Hall of Records, and the walls will be constructed of similar material. The longitudinal axis of the main building will extend north and south (at right angles to the bridge) the bridge end being carried across Park Row and Centre st in the form of a place facing on one quarter the terminal building, and on the other the bridge. Structurally, the building will be of the steel cage type, with fireproof floors, tile roof. Above the track floor the interior finish will be of marble and tile besides plastered walls and ceiling and other masonry.

Edgemere Land Sale.

A. E. and E. A. Karelsen report the sale for Mr. Richard H. Stearns, proprietor of the Hotel Navarre, of the two blocks of land between Jamaica Bay and the Atlantic Ocean, at Edgemere, L. I., and immediately adjoining the property of the Lancaster Sea Beach Improvement Co. The land has been held by Mr. Stearns for many years and was recently graded by him at a cost of over $10,000. The purchaser is Mr. Leo Rosengarten, a real estate operator of Manhattan, and a large owner at Arverne. It is reported that he will erect a hotel and cottages on the property, which consists of about 150 lots. The purchase price is reported at about $100,000.

Wyckoff Farm at Jamaica Sold.

The Henry L. Wyckoff farm, comprising about 21 acres, has been sold to Philip Steingotter and Chas. Stutz. The property is situated in the westerly part of Jamaica, extending from Brooklyn's Forest Park on the north, to Jamaica av on the south, and about a mile east of the Brooklyn line. It has a frontage of 557 ft on the north side of Jamaica av and about 645 ft on the south side of Forest Park. A purchase money mortgage of $70,000 was given in part payment. Price is reported at $100,000.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

A. & C. Levis, real estate brokers and agents, have removed their office from 452 Seventh av to the Atlantic-Mutual Insurance Building, 49 Wall st, suite 317.

P. T. Canavan, real estate broker and agent, is now located at 109 8th av, near 15th st. Mr. Canavan has on his books some choice parcels of 9th and 16th Wards which should command the attention of builders.

Harry B. Cutner has leased for John Davis the store and basement at 18 to 22 West 20th st, through to 21 West 19th st, for a term of years, at an aggregate rental of $90,000, to Joseph Ullmann.

Mr. R. A. MacCrum, for thirteen years associated with the real estate firm of M. & L. Hess, is now connected with the McVickar, Gaillard Realty Co., at 537 Fifth av, in the brokerage department.

The Fleischmann Realty Company and the Fleischmann Construction Company of 170 Broadway, have been merged into the Fleischmann Realty & Construction Company with an increased capital of $1,250,000. With the same board of officers in control and continuing at the same address, the company hopes to continue its success along the same lines and to extend its business throughout the United States.

An opportunity to get into a new section in an advantageous manner is offered by L. J. Phillips & Co., who will put 181 lots of the Varian estate at auction in the real estate salesroom on October 3, which will be a week from next Tuesday. Lying near Van Cortlandt Park and the Mosholu Parkway, the property is handsomely situated and should go well. The terms that will be offered will be easy for purchasers. Maps can be obtained from L. J. Phillips & Co. or from Wilbur L. Varian, opposite Bronx Park station.

Irving Bachrach, of the firm of Schmeidler & Bachrach, real estate operators, at 203 Broadway, has just returned from a three months' vacation at Long Branch, and wishes to inform the brokers that the above firm is in the market for the purchase of four and five-story old tenements. His firm also have a complete list of very choice improved and unimproved property for sale, which they mail upon request. Applications for list can also be made by 'phone by calling No. 2784 Cortlandt and No. 8386 Cortlandt.

Tunnel projects are abounding. One that has been lost sight of crosses under the Hudson at Fourteenth street, and extends under that street to Broadway. Several years ago the consents of property owners were obtained for this, on condition that the surface of the street should not be broken up. The latest scheme is for a tube under the Hudson at Chambers street, and extending to the Bridge, by the Interstate Tunnel Railway Company, which is to connect the lines of the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey with the lines of the Metropolitan.

L. Tanenbaum, Strauss & Co. have closed the following long term leases: for Henry Corn, 3 lofts covering 34,000 square feet in building southeast corner of Broadway and 20th st; for Mrs. Mary M. —The underground railroad builders appear to be through with the surface of Broadway between Vesey street and Bowling Green, so that all obstructions which they had put there have been removed, the railroad tracks readjusted and the surface made ready for the next improvement, which will be a wood pavement. Bids for the paving are being advertised to be opened on September 28. When the roadway is finally re-establishd on the new and noiseless basis, not to be disturbed again we hope for many years, this stretch from Vesey to Bowling Green, lined by palisades of skyscrapers all the way, will be the most imposing avenue of business in all the world.

Building Operations.

Bids Opened.

Bids for the new Long Island City Democratic Club building, when opened, disclosed the following: John T. Woodruff, $24,158; F. G. & G. T. Van Riper, $24,827; Joseph Geiser, $25,470; James A. Stevenson, $26,242; C. Curtis Woodruff & Co., $26,647; H. F. Quinn & Son, $29,788. The site is on the Court House Plaza. The committee consists of Borough President Cassidy, chairman; M. J. Goldner, treasurer; William Woodhill and Luke A. Keenan.

Contracts Awarded.

J. H. Flick & Co., sub-contractors under J. P. McDonald, who was lately awarded a million dollar contract by the New York, Westchester & Boston Railway Company, are putting four steam shovels, a number of steam engines, and steam drills at work on the line of the road in The Bronx. Capt. Wm. A. Pratt, Chief Engineer of the company, has completed plans for bridges to be erected in The Bronx, and work is about to start on the masonry of bridges over White Plains road, Allerton av, Wilson av, Sawmill lane, Wickham av and 222d st. These bridges will all have heavy abutments, the superstructure being of steel. Besides these plans, others are being prepared for a number of street crossings as fast as the city authorities decide on the openings.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE, BUREAU FOR THE COLLECTION OF TAXES, NEW YORK, September 1, 1905.

TAXPAYERS WHO DESIRE TO OBTAIN THEIR bills promptly should make immediate written requisition (blanks may be procured in the borough offices), stating their property by Section or Ward, Block and Lot or Map number, making copy of same from their bills of last year.

If a taxpayer is assessed for personal tax, the requisition should also request bill for such tax.

Each requisition should be accompanied by an envelope bearing the proper address of the applicant, AND WITH RETURN POSTAGE PREPAID.

In case of any doubt in regard to Ward, Section, Block or Lot number, taxpayers should take their deeds to the Department of Taxes and Assessments and have their property located on the maps of that Department and forward to the Deputy Receiver of Taxes with the requisition a certified memorandum of their property, which will be furnished by the Department of Taxes and Assessments.

Taxpayers in this manner will receive their bills returned by mail at the earliest possible moment and avoid any delay caused by waiting on lines, as required in case of personal application.

The requisition must be addressed and mailed to the Deputy Receiver of Taxes in whichever borough the property is located, as follows:

JOHN J. McDONOUGH, No. 57 Chambers street, Borough of Manhattan, New York.

JOHN B. UNDERHILL, corner Third and Tremont avenues, Borough of The Bronx, New York.

JACOB S. VAN WYCK, Municipal Building, Borough of Brooklyn, New York.

FREDERICK W. BLECKWENN, corner Jackson avenue and Fifth street, Long Island City, Borough of Queens, New York.

JOHN DE MORGAN, Bay and Sand streets, Stapleton, Staten Island, Borough of Richmond, New York.

After receiving the bills the taxpayer will see that they are properly rebated, then draw check for the net amount to the order of the Receiver of Taxes, and mail bill and check, with an addressed envelope, with the return postage prepaid, to the Deputy Receiver in whichever borough the property is located.

Checks should be mailed as soon as possible after the bills have been received by the taxpayer.

All bills paid during October must be rebated before payment.

DAVID E. AUSTEN,
Receiver of Taxes.

YOUR SYSTEM OF RECORDS?

BETTER USE OURS

It costs a dollar a mile to go to Chicago in a Special Train, but only a few cents a mile on the Empire State Express. The same is true of the RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY. Each subscriber receives for Twenty Dollars a year a service that would cost him thousands of dollars.

A system of records is as necessary to a real estate broker as the "ticker" to a stock broker. Conceivably a man might get along without either, but he would suffer immensely both in person and estate.

By means of the RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY, which occupies only a few square inches on a shelf or a desk, the real estate man is put in possession of a system of records in which he could find any particular transaction, be it conveyance, mortgage, auction sale or lease, as easily as he can find the name of one of his clients in the telephone book. It is permanent in form, ever ready and available. It does not go "out" like the office boy, or make mistakes like the stenographer.

The annual number of the RECORD AND GUIDE QUARTERLY contains ALL the legal records for the past year concerning real estate and projected buildings, arranged alphabetically and numerically, with invaluable annotations.

These are supplemented by tables of important transactions, with typical prices, covering the past quarter of a century or more, accompanied by expert comments.

THE stock market has behaved during the past week in a normal and sensible manner. It has been dull, and moderately weak. The weakness has not amounted to liquidation, but it has served to reduce or at least to prevent any increase of the use of money for speculative purposes; and that is the important thing at the present juncture. If the market can clear the period of high money rates without any liquidations or loss of confidence, the way will be prepared for a further rise of prices next winter. Just what such a rise will amount to will depend partly upon the course of business during the next three or four months, and partly upon the methods adopted of financing the requirements of a number of railroad and industrial companies. But whatever the rise amounts to, its only chance of appearance depends upon the maintenance on the stock market throughout the fall of steadiness, without any marked movement in the direction either of higher or lower prices. Higher prices are a luxury which cannot be afforded. Lower prices might undermine public confidence, and give the whole situation a black eye. At present this situation still looks fundamentally sound and encouraging; but it never requires very much to convert general hope and expectancy into apprehension and uncertainty.

THE doubts which any observer may have felt about the prospective activity of the real estate market during the approaching winter and spring must have been dispelled by the showing which it has recently made. During the past week the number of sales has been phenomenal. They have indeed been much more numerous than they were during the corresponding week a year ago, and if they afford any indication of what we have to expect a few months later, it must be predicted that during the current season the volume of real estate transactions will exceed the enormous totals of the winter of 1904-5. Of course, the speculation in vacant land in the Bronx and on Washington Heights did not get under way last year until November, and a decisive comparison cannot be made until a few weeks later; but there is every reason to believe that the volume of real estate business transacted will break the record. It will consist, however, of a larger proportion of improved property than it did a year ago. There is little speculation at pesent in vacant land. Property of that kind is being sold in considerable quantities; but it is sold for immediate improvement. The bulk of the operations are confined to flats and tenements to the north and east of Central Park—the demand for private dwellings not being as good as it was a few weeks ago. This is accounted for by the extraordinary renting conditions which still prevail. Vacancies are as scarce as ever and when one tenant moves out, another can be found in a few days. Landlords of all kinds, but particularly of residential property, are more prosperous than ever; and the investment demand for tenements is far better than it used to be. All this provides an opportunity for speculative transactions, which the multitude of professional operators are not slow to seize; and as these underlying conditions will prevail throughout the year, its resulting activity can hardly show any considerable diminution.

IN spite of the apparently assured re-election of Mayor McClellan, the municipal campaign this fall has assumed an extremely interesting and significant character. It will serve to test with great accuracy the amount of popular support which the several municipal parties can command. On the city ticket Tammany will be able to exhibit what its full voting strength is under the most favorable circumstances. Its only opponent will be a candidate who will receive the regular Republican vote, assisted by whatever strength the radical Hearst men can bring to the ticket. It will be possible, by analyzing the returns, to infer with some precision just what is the strength of the party, which stands for municipal ownership of public utilities at any price. The Record and Guide does not believe that the strength of this party in its alliance with the Republican machine will prove to be very considerable. The cause of municipal ownership is a good one, and little by little it will increase in popularity; but the attempt to dispossess the corporations operating public franchises immediately either by purchase or by competition would be the height of futility and foolishness. Moreover, the men who are heading this party do not command any general public confidence. But if, on the city ticket, Tammany will have the field practically to itself, that organization will on its ticket for New York County meet with a much stiffer resistance. The latest reports are that Tammany will not re-nominate Mr. Jerome, and that the Citizens' Union will concentrate all of its energy upon the re-election of that gentleman. It will not be a bad thing in case the situation assumes this shape. No doubt Mr. Jerome's re-election will be imperilled; but the contest will give him a much better chance to show his metal, and to assert vigorously his political ideals than he would have in case he received the support of Tammany. He is much more at home in leading a fight than in presiding at a love-feast, and it will be a very good thing for the city that he should be in a position to talk candidly and vigorously about the whole political situation. He will have a chance of keeping the reform movement alive and kicking during a period of overwhelming Tammany predominance, and it looks as if the leaders of that organization, in giving him this opportunity, had made a mistake which in the long run may prove to be costly.

POLITICIANS who believe that a party platform looking in the direction of immediate municipal ownership of public utilities will obtain much popular support are utterly mistaken. The people of this city do not at present feel any very profound resentment against the public service corporations, because they have not suffered as much from the abuse of franchise privileges as have the citizens of Chicago and other cities. In many cases, undoubtedly, extortionate profits are made, and the first duty of any public-spirited municipal administration should be to obtain in one way or another better service for the public at a lower price; but the immediate and forced municipal ownership, as a means to this end, is not practicable and would not be popular. The local franchise companies give to the public, as a rule, a very fair service. Some of them, such as the Telephone Co., give what is probably the best service in the world. The transportation companies do not pander to the public any more than necessary; but, on the whole, they are tolerably efficient—at least in Manhattan. The consequence is, that, while there is a certain atmosphere of discontent, and a general wish for better and cheaper accommodations, this discontent is not actual and aggressive enough to shake men out of their ordinary habits of voting; and, as we have intimated, it is well that such should be the case. The city has not at present either sufficient money, power, or public integrity to embark upon a wholesale policy of municipal trading. There is very much more to be gained by constantly pressing the corporations to give the public better and cheaper service, and it is at least possible that in this way they can eventually be converted into good public servants. The Record and Guide has always believed that as a means to making a better bargain in any particular negotiation the city government should have the power and the resources to enter into aggressive competition with the franchise corporations; but this power should only be used as a last resort.

Arbitration proceedings in the case of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers have resulted in a full and final settlement between the employers and their journeymen concerning wages. An agreement was made which will continue without change until January 1, 1908, and not then unless notice is given by either party prior to June 1, 1907. If no such notice is given before the first of June in any twelvemonth, the agreement will continue from year to year. Four associations of employers were included in the settlement, namely, the Employers' Association of Roofers and Sheet Metal Workers, the Association of Steam and Hot Water Fitters, the Manufacturers of Metal Covered Doors and Windows, and the Metal Ceiling Manufacturers. By the agreement the journeymen receive $4.50 a day, instead of $4, except the metal ceiling men, who will be advanced by stages to $4.50 in one year. The journeymen waived their demand for further restrictions of the number of apprentices, and agreed to an increase in the scope of work that may be done by apprentices.

Future Demand for Building Material.

The filing of plans for new buildings continues this September at a remarkable rate. In Manhattan and The Bronx the number of filings last week was 114, against 44 for the corresponding week of last year; and in Brooklyn 150, compared to 98 in the corresponding week in 1904. To manufacturers and dealers in building materials, and especially to the brick trade, the record of plans filed is significant of the quantities required for the immediate future, and is particularly important in the fall of the year, when the brick trade is looking forward to the end of the manufacturing season, which is about Thanksgiving time.

Following the cessation of manufacturing there is a period during which the river continues open, so that supplies may be shipped, and it is then a matter of judgment how much to send down for use in the winter and during the mild weather preceding the opening of navigation, and how much to carry over in the yards for the building in the spring, before the new brick can come in. During the period beginning with the resumption of bricklaying in the spring, up to the very day when the first tow arrives from Haverstraw, brick rise to their maximum price. At that critical stage this year the wholesale price touched the ten dollar mark. Again, later on, when the supply of old brick runs low, and the new stuff has not yet begun to flow, another wave of high prices may be expected; so that there is a period from Tranksgiving until the first or second week in June when the market must be supplied with material to be manufactured between this time and Thanksgiving. Hence it is a matter of importance to the trade how the record of plans filed reads from now on. Most of the buildings for which plans have thus far been filed will have their walls up before freezing weather sets in, but from now on the filings will represent in whole or part winter work.

Until this present era the supply of common brick has, as a general proposition, kept ahead of the demand. Especially was this true during the two decades preceding last year, a period which witnessed a great expansion of manufacturing plants, following upon a migration of large manufacturers from the lower Hudson to new claybeds along the central and upper reaches of the river. Last fall the demand caught up to the supply, and this summer the two have been traveling at even speed. Which will come out ahead when the balance is struck next spring, is doubtful enough to be considered debatable. In some respects this has not been a typical year for brick building; rather has it been an extraordinary one, because of the conjunction of four very necessary forces, which have rarely, if ever before, been so close together: Peace in the trades, good weather, commanding necessity, and plentiful money.

Not in thirty years has real money been so loose in New York City. There has been nothing to do but work, and earn and spend it. The building trades have made money coming and going. Bills are being met more promptly than at any time since the Civil War. For these very reasons this is not a typical year, but there are other reasons which raise a presumption that the demand for building material will continue in future years at a rate which, while not equaling, will approach nearer the present rate than is generally supposed. During the current year living accommodations are being provided in the several boroughs of New York City for about 250,000 new inhabitants, and at this rate over-production of living-room will not result for at least a year, if the advance census report is near what the final figures will be, the report indicating an annual increase in population of about 160,000. If, as has already been said in these columns, the population of New York is increasing at the rate of almost five per cent. a year, and if such an increase is to be continued until 1910, it means that when the next national census is taken New York will contain about 5,250,000 inhabitants; and that in 1920, even allowing for large diminutions in the rate of increase, the population will not be far from 7,000,000, or twice as many as in 1900. A colossal task consequently confronts the builders of the city to provide house room for 2,750,000 people, as well as to supply the new business structures that will be needed.

The subject has numerous ramifications which cannot be entered into here, but it is conceivable that manufacturers of brick will find during the coming years a demand that will not only greatly exceed what they hitherto have been accustomed to, but will justify a decided enlargement of plants. Until the first fruits of this addition appear in the market, quotations are expected to continue at an average higher than has ever before prevailed. While a natural limit to the quantity of brick that may be annually produced on the Hudson is not within the realm of vision, there is a limit to the number of clay beds, and therefore a possible limit to the number of proprietors and manufacturers, which, it is thought, will eventually result in an unbreakable monopoly of the trade, not unlike that which controls lum-

Housing Problem In the Bronx

INVESTIGATIONS OF THE BOARD OF TRADE

Early this month a committee of the North Side Board of Trade, of which Mr. Albert E. Davis is chairman, sent to 200 real estate agents in the Bronx an inquiry as to the character of the demand for housing accommodations in the Borough, with the object of obtaining guidance for investors and builders. There were two series of interrogations, one under the head of renting and the other under the head of selling. Some of the questions were: For which do you receive the greater number of inquiries, private dwellings or flats? In what ratio? Are you able to supply the demand for flats? For private dwellings? What rents are offered for flats? For private dwellings? What prices do purchasers offer for flats? For private dwellings? This week the committee reported the results of its investigations.

Of the replies received under the head of "Renting," fifty-four per cent. stated that the greatest number of inquiries was for flats in an average ratio of five to one; thirty per cent. stated that the greatest number of inquiries was for dwellings in an average ratio of two to one, and sixteen per cent. either stated that the demand was equal or did not answer this question. Fifteen per cent. are able to supply the demand for flats, while but three per cent. are able to supply the demand for dwellings.

Rents offered for flats range from $12 to $50, the average range being from $16 to $28. A number stated the rents offered were $4 to $5 per room per month. Rents offered for dwellings range from $20 to $100, the average being from $28 to $50.

Of the replies received under the head of "Selling," fifty-four per cent. stated that the greatest number of inquiries was for dwellings in an average ratio of 16 to 1; forty-two per cent. stated that the greatest number of inquiries was for flats in an average ratio of 8 to 1, and four per cent. did not answer that question. Thirty-six per cent. are able to supply the demand for flats, while twenty-two per cent. are able to supply the demand for dwellings.

Prices offered for flats run from a minimum of $4,500 to a maximum of $100,000, the average range being $14,000 to $34,000. Prices offered for dwellings run from a minimum of $2,800 to a maximum of $25,000, the average range being from $4,600 to $11,500.

Several interesting letters have been received from which we quote the following:

From J. P. Axelsen, 1247 Union Avenue.—One person in twenty asks for a house. Fifteen out of twenty ask for five and six rooms in two or three-family houses. Not being able to obtain them, as the demand far exceeds the supply, the majority are forced into the regular apartment houses, leaving standing orders for notification of vacancies in two or three-family flats. The majority of applicants want four and five rooms, are not particular about steam heat, but want hot water; willing to pay from $16 to $30, the larger proportion under $25. There is no demand for private dwellings. Eighteen out of twenty for two or three-family houses, especially brick. For frame they are willing to pay from $5,500 to $8,500; for brick up to $11,000. We have very little demand for the high class new law apartment houses. We have an excess of these for sale. Our applications in the main are for apartment houses, with hot water supply, but no steam heat, four or five rooms to an apartment. Purchasers seemed disposed to buy these on a ten per cent. gross rent value basis. For this class of houses the demand is far in excess of the supply. In all the new apartment houses which are now being filled, the owners we have come in contact with will advance the rents from $1 to $2 per flat when steam is turned on. Applicants for the purchase of two and three-family houses are beginning to insist on a full lot, with at least one side detached.

PLANS FILED.

The report continues:

Supt. Patrick J. Reville, of the Bureau of Buildings for the Borough of the Bronx informs us that from January 1st to September 1st, 1905, plans have been filed for 135 one-family houses and 634 two-family houses, or a total of 769 dwellings, ninety-one per cent of which are in course of erection or completed. The three-family house is classed as a tenement house. The foregoing will provide for 1,403 families.

Supt. Wm. B. Calvert, of the Tenement House Department for the Borough of the Bronx, informs us that from January 1st to September 1st, 1905, plans have been filed for 601 new tenements, 221 of which have been already completed. The foregoing will provide accommodations for 5,842 families.

Thus, for eight months of the year housing accommodations have been planned for 7,245 families, which at an average of five persons to a family would add 36,225 to our population. And if the same ratio is continued to the end of the year provision will have been made for an increase of 10,867 families or 54,337 additional to the present population. And as this is given, in advance rumors of the State census, as 365,000, we shall early next year have housing accommodations for a population of 420,000.

While the inquiries were directly almost wholly to the Bronx, a few were sent to Harlem firms to ascertain the nature of applications they received from people desirous of crossing the river into the Bronx, from which it appears that their desire is for dwellings at $25 per month. Being unable to secure these, they locate in flats with instruction to agents to advise them of the first vacancies in dwellings; or move to Long Island or New Jersey.

DEDUCTIONS.

The results deduced by the committee are:

1. There is an active demand for flats and a good supply of same on hand; the demand for low priced flats, $16 to $20, exceeds the supply; the supply of high class flats exceeds the demand. Builders and investors who prefer flat property will do well to give their attention to the former. Purchasers do not want steam heated flats.

2. The greatest unsupplied demand is for one, two and three-family houses, with the two-family house in greatest demand of all. Neither for renting nor selling does the supply equal the demand. Builders and investors will be safer in building this class of buildings than high class flats for the next year or so.

Bedford Park Values and Prospects

Two Fine Parkways to Add to Its Attractions— A New Section to Be Opened Up :: :: ::

Rents are high and the demand for housing keen. Nothing new for Manhattan surely, but the condition being intensified, the suburbs hold a stronger interest for New York business men than ever before. Besides this a new interest in the outlands is plainly arising among the wealthy, and is expected to manifest itself in a transformation of magnitude. In most other cities the society of the wealthy is found in the suburbs, nestled amid lawns, hedges and shade trees; but here business treads on the very skirts of society and clamors in its ears. An opinion is strengthening among real estate men that suburban estates will soon enter upon an era of great popularity, in which the automobile and electric train will play an important part. For a less wealthy class the Subway lines will also make possible individual and separate homes.

Instead of the poor being pushed to the outskirts, many observers think that on account of the new rapid transit facilities, and particularly on account of the example that the Pennsylvania Railroad will set in developing Long Island, there will be a reversal of the time-long policy of the town. However, for the present time the greatest interest for homeseekers centers in the Bronx. One of the interesting sections is Bedford Park, at the terminus of the Third Avenue Elevated. Fronted by the Botanical Gardens, almost surrounded indeed by parks, and with two of the projected parkways running through it, Bedford Park has a charming situation to which the future will bring only greater distinction.

Mosholu Parkway, the Grand Concourse and Jerome avenue, destined to be three of the finest residential avenues of the century, are a particular possession of the Bedford park section. Van Cortlandt Park, as well as Bronx Park is close at hand, and also two large reservoir parks. For the most the section is occupied by detached dwellings which have a very agreeable appearance to people from downtown, but building operations are not so numerous as might be expected. The auction sale of 181 lots from the Varian estate, next Tuesday, is expected to be the beginning of a distinct real estate movement in the vicinity. Unprofessional report says that values have risen enormously in two years, and that the public is waiting for them to come down. Messrs. Vanderlinden & Selig quoted building sites at fifteen hundred to two thousand dollars per lot, and rents, for apartments, at twenty-seven to thirty-five. Mr. Sonneborn, of Sonneborn & Co., said:

"From our eighteen years' of business experience in this section, we naturally have seen many changes, but are gratified to say that at any time during this period Bedford Park has been on the increase, not alone in numbers but in quality, and to-day we do not hesitate to say we think it as desirable a suburb as will be found in Greater New York. The originators of Bedford Park were conservative as to its future, and in selling property did so in parcels known as villa plots which were restricted for a period of years, this feature established a certain personnel which has been maintained to this day.

"Then, Bedford Park has many beauty spots, such as the Botanical Gardens, Mosholu Parkway, and the Concourse, the last two are particularly adapted for residences, and in time will be improved with handsome private residences, which will add to the value of property in the adjacent streets. Jerome avenue we believe to be the main artery from the west side, and in view of the expected facilities for transit, will no doubt be greatly in demand for high class apartments and stores.

"In some instances owners are asking prices in excess of the market value, but in general the prices asked for property is in keeping with the market, and then again it must be considered that we have good roads, a splendid sewer system, plenty of good water and electric as well as gas-lighted streets, which the present property owners have paid for. It would appeal to me, and I think to almost any homeseeker who contemplates securing a home, to prefer to pay a fair price for a house with the assurance that it will increase rather than depreciate in value, than to secure a remarkably cheap house in an undesirable locality."

VALUES.

Lots in this section are selling from $1,000 to $5,000 per lot, price governed by nearness to transit, to wit: Villa avenue, 25x89, $1,000; East 205th street, 25x121, $1,200; Hull avenue, near 205th street, $1,500; Decatur avenue, near 207th street, $1,800; 198th street, $2,700; East 201st street, $3,000; Jerome avenue, $4,000 to $5,000; Webster avenue, $5,000 to $8,000. One-family houses are selling from $4,000 up, to wit: Perry avenue, near 207th street, 7 rooms, improvements, lot 25x84, price $4,000; East 205th street, 8 rooms, lot 25x130, $5,000; Briggs avenue, near 198th street, 10 rooms, lot 25x100, $6,000; 201st street, 9 rooms, lot 25x100, price $7,500; Decatur avenue, near 200th street, 9 rooms, lot 50x120, $10,000.

Two-family houses, 205th street, near Concourse, 13 rooms, lot 25x100, $5,000; 207th street, 11 rooms, lot 25x100, $7,500; Decatur avenue, near Woodlawn road, 15 rooms, lot 25x100, $8,700; Hull avenue, near 207th street, 15 rooms, lot 50x100, $10,500.

There is considerable building going on in the section, especially in the two-family houses, which are very much in demand, Mr. Houlihan, Burkhart & Co., Mr. Lunny, Mr. Kingston and Stubenvall Bros., having a number of very attractive houses in the course of construction.

This section offers a homeseeker good transit facilities, every street improvement, many advantages in the way of parks and parkways, fine boulevards, which are not found in such profusion in other sections, and many styles of one and two-family houses, to suit almost every taste as well as pocketbook. Some desirable small houses are offered from $4,000 to $5,000 with $500 cash, balance on installments or mortgage and $1,000 cash, for two-family houses costing from $6,000 upwards.

Sonneborn & Co. are offering a small detached house on Villa avenue, containing 6 rooms and bath, all improvements, lot 25x89, at $4,000, $500 cash; 202d street, near Briggs avenue, 6 rooms and bath, semi-attached, lot 33x100, $4,500; $500 cash; Perry avenue, near 207th street, 10 rooms and bath, lot 25x100, price $5,500, $800 cash.

In two-family houses, Villa avenue, 13 rooms, lot 25x100, price $6,000, $1,000 cash. On 202d street, 11 rooms, lot 25x100, price $6,500, $1,000 cash; Hull avenue, 13 rooms, lot 25x100, price $7,700, $1,500 cash; 198th street, 11 rooms, lot 25x100, price $8,000, $1,000 cash; Hull avenue, 15 rooms, lot 25x100, price $8,750, $1,500 cash; Briggs avenue, 13 rooms, lot 25x100, price. $9,300, $2,000 cash. Houses have all improvements, bath, heat, ranges, hot and cold water and sewer.

Tree-Planting in the Bronx.

The efforts of the North Side Board of Trade in behalf of tree-planting are beginning to tell. The following resolution has been approved by the Corporation Counsel and submitted to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and although not yet adopted by that Board, it is believed that if it is made evident that public sentiment backs it, it will receive their approval:

Resolved, in pursuance of the provisions of Chapter 253 of the Laws of 1903, that the consent of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment be and hereby is given to the Park Board to plant trees where required in the following named streets in the Borough of the Bronx: Cedar av, from Burnside av to Fordham pl; Aqueduct av, from Kingsbridge rd to Washington Bridge; University av, from Aqueduct av to Sedgwick av; 183d, or Hampton st, from Jerome av to Sedgwick av; Andrews av, from Fordham rd to University av; Loring pl, from Fordham rd to University pl; Washington av, from 160th st to Pelham av; Park av, from 172d st to 177th st; Prospect av, from Crotona Park south to 149th st; Prospect av, from Crotona Park to 179th st; Hughes av, from Pelham av to Tremont av; 177th st, from Jerome av to the Grand Boulevard and Concourse. Resolved, that the cost and expense of said improvements shall be paid for by assessment in the manner prescribed by the said act.

Hudson River Real Estate.

Though natural advantages multiply themselves together in behalf of the cities and towns on the Hudson, ever since the era of railroads began the region has been lying passive, if not quite sleeping. The historic estates along the beautiful shore roads, the farms farther back and the several cities, which are unrivaled in the country for situation, and some of them, such as Poughkeepsie and Newburgh, having unexcelled public works and institutions, present with minor exceptions the same general aspects of real estate conditions as they did fifty years ago. Intimate observation and acquaintance disclose changes; a few more houses here, and certain foundries and warehouses missing yonder; but in the main the littoral zone is in no wise different to the river traveler from what it was two generations ago, except for the desecrations committed along the edges of the river by the railroad builders, in cutting off the toes of mountains, the noses of little promontories and filling in romantic coves and glens—"where the river, as it moved along, paused on the shore to ripple a song." Where the railroads run, the graceful littoral curves are gone; scarcely a beach is left for an eventide idling, or a pretty nook or glen into which one may push his boat in a holiday's sailing.

Only now are river people coming into a full realization of the irreparable damage and injury done to nature, to property and to the industries by permitting the steam railroads to seize upon the river edges and run their cars thereon, thus cutting off town and country for all time from the rights and privileges of the waterside. Had the companies been compelled to keep a mile back from the shore everywhere, their lines would also have better served the places through which they pass. They could have provided better conveniences for freighting and switching, and they would have rendered unnecessary the hard teaming up the terraces from railroad to factory. Nor would they have ruined such a large share of the river commerce.

Before the railroads came—the Erie, Harlem and New York Central among the first—the Hudson River cities were extremely busy and wealthy places, in all respects self-centred, and each the shipping and market place for a large section of country. There was a time when everything produced west of the mountains found tide water at Hudson or Poughkeepsie, while for the central and western parts of New York State, as well as portions of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, Newburgh was the ultimate entry port and mecca of stage lines. Men are not long dead who remember an ancient sign post in one of the main streets of Newburgh bearing the legend: "This way to Ohio." All this trade the railroads cut off from the Hudson River cities and brought through to the gates of New York.

Since the war the Hudson River towns have lived within themselves principally and upon what the manufacturing interests have brought in. Commerce having departed, their hope is in manufacturing; but in some places it would seem as though the chief industry of the "leading citizens" were politics. Real estate interests have been dormant for a dozen years, rents low and new building operations almost a lost art. Tax rates are steadily increasing and now are close to the limit allowed by law, owing not so much to expenditures for new public works as to the lack of building within the assessible boundaries. Corporation limits in some cases have not been extended for a hundred years, because of the objection of suburban property interests. In the outskirts of nearly all the city corporations are large and wealthy populations which claim the conveniences and facilities of the municipality, but escape its taxes, and are not numbered in its census tables.

Indications of a change of policy and revived interests in real estate and building are coming to hand. In Poughkeepsie, as we are informed by the Secretary of the Board of Trade, some New York business men residing there contemplate opening up a large property between the city and Vassar College, and laying it out for a residential park, which ought to be eminently successful. Announcement is also made of the sale of the Bech estate, situated just north of the corporate limits of Poughkeepsie, to the German Potteries and Stoneware Works of Berlin for an American branch factory. The tract taken comprises sixty acres. The output will be a high class of acid proof stone ware, mainly designed for chemical and electro-chemical uses. The parent company in Germany was formed by the consolidation of four other concerns—those of Ludwig Rohrmann at Krauschwitz, Ernst March Soehne at Charlottenburg, Thonwaarenwerk at Betenhausen and Deutsche Thonroehren & Chamottefabrik at Munsterberg. To these they have added a fifth. The works to be erected at Poughkeepsie will have both river and rail facilities.

The rebuilding of the United States Military Academy at West Point will be in full power next year, and will give employment to a thousand or more mechanics from the surrounding country. Excavating for some of the buildings has begun. In general, it may be said that building operations have been backward along the Hudson owing to the cost of labor, which is so much higher than before the unionizing processes of the last decade, and also because of the high cost of material, especially of lumber. But as the fact is gradually being pressed home that these items are to be no less, the inevitable is being accepted, and building will gradually spring up again.

For manufacturing the Hudson River towns are exceedingly inviting and advantageous especially from the viewpoint of New York men, who each succeeding year find themselves more circumscribed, for room and light, and their percentage cost of production constantly increasing. Sites where water frontage can be had in combination with railroad switches are innumerable, and can be purchased almost for the price of farm land. Male help is plentiful in all the towns, and obtainable at country prices; coal is dumped direct from cars into the factory coal bins at a much cheaper tonnage than obtains in New York. Assessed valuations being only a fraction of what they are here, taxes are exceedingly low; building materials are much cheaper, brick costing at least $2 less per M, as in some places they are brought direct from the brickyard to the building by your teamster. Rents are trifling compared to New York; fifteen dollars for a single family dwelling, eight dollars or less for a floor. Lots in cities sell for $400 in good locations; old dwellings from $2,500 to $3,000, it being cheaper to buy at the present time than to build. Water carriage for freight from any of the landings to the metropolis is cheap and expeditious, and railroad rates are the same as from New York.

Plans for Hudson and Manhattan Terminal Building.

The Record and Guide is informed that the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad Company, of which W. G. McAdoo, 15 Wall st, is president, has commissioned Messrs. McKim, Mead & White, of No. 160 Fifth av, as architects to prepare plans and working drawings, for the new 20-sty stone and marble terminal building soon to be erected on the two blocks in the west side of Church st, between Cortlandt and Fulton sts, at an estimated cost of about $3,000,000.

The structure will be 200x250 feet in dimensions, and it is proposed that the Hudson River tunnel loop and an underground passage will extend from the building to Broadway, connecting there with the Interborough Subway.

Proceedings under the law of "Eminent Domain" have been instituted through Lawyers Stetson, Jennings & Russell against Katharine Jackson, et al, in an action to acquire title to the following properties: No. 32 Cortlandt st, Nos 38-39 Dey st, Nos. 34 to 40 Cortlandt st, Nos 40, 41 and 42 Dey st, and Nos. 196 to 200 Fulton st. Title for the remainder of the necessary site is now held by the company.

Built with Pennsylvania Money.

The new United Presbyterian Church in West 108th street, Manhattan, which was dedicated last Sabbath, is a consequence and effect of the Pennsylvania improvements. Though the congregation was organized but six years ago, it enters this new temple without owing a dollar, and with a large sum in the treasury besides. The site, which has a frontage of fifty feet, cost $11,000 two years ago; the foundations, which are very deep, $20,000; the superstructure, $121,000; and the organ and furnishings additional sums. Previously worshipping in Thirty-fourth street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, the congregation disposed of its property there to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for $228,000.

The new edifice is commodious and handsome. While not departing in its main lines from conventional ecclesiastical architecture, the construction embodies many modern inventions. The facade is built of white Indiana limestone; the other walls of brick. The site being midway in the block, near Central Park West, the beauty of the church is internal. The cathedral glass windows are particularly large and fine. A hanging gallery, without supports, is a pleasing feature, and the woodwork is all of antique oak. The dome is lighted by a great sunburst of electric lights. The heating and ventilating system is constructed on modern principles, the apparatus being 26 feet below the curb. The color scheme is a peculiar greenish gray and gold, the pulpit ornamentation being exceedingly handsome.

Architect, Frank E. Wallis; general contractor, William Crawford; building committee, Rev. T. W. Anderson, John Elliott, Samuel Grier, Robert Sloane, William Neeley (died December 27, 1904).

An Attractive Circular.

The J. H. Mead Company 41 East 21st st, New York, has issued an exceedingly attractive six page circular, entitled " Free from the Cares which Weary and Annoy." The circular illustrates and describes the Mead Gas and Steam Radiating Heater, which combines the desirable features of an open fireplace and steam radiator, from which has been eliminated the objectionable features of such appliances. It is a practical gas and steam radiating heater, free from all possibility of odor from the gas in combustion, no chimney or flue being required. The combination of a vapor vessel in connection with the large radiating surface—over 25 feet—produces a perfect circulation of moist, uniform heat. A complete catalogue will be sent free to all interested parties by mentioning this paper.

The F. W. Dodge Company (Dodge Reports) has removed to the Metropolitan Annex Building, 11 East 24th st, Manhattan.

A New Catalogue of Contractors' Tools.

The Terry & Tench Co., Inc., 131st st and Lexington av, New York, have issued a handsome 74 page catalogue devoted to erection tools, derricks, rigging, heavy forgings, etc., a line of tools for erection work which they manufacture and which heretofore have been difficult to obtain in any market. Many of their devices have been designed to meet special requirements, which their own experience has suggested. Many of which have proved to be so meritorious that they have taken out letters patent for them.

The "Terry" derrick, both guy and stiff leg, which is being used by many is fully explained in the pages of this catalogue.

The New York "A" frame derrick, general known as a Jinniwink, is another of their specialties and is fully described.

They also illustrate several travels as a matter of general interest.

A copy of this catalogue will be sent upon request by mentioning the Record and Guide.

Development of East Elmhurst.

The Bankers' Land and Mortgage Company, which consists principally of J. Parker Sloane and Charles Louis Sicardi, is having a successful experience at East Elmhurst and Elmhurst Heights. Messrs. Sloane and Sicardi had a conviction that inasmuch as the New York and Connecticut and Long Island shores of the Sound were absolutely controlled by large estates and wealthy families, a demand existed among home seekers for a development of shore privileges within half an hour of Herald Square by trolley for a five cent fare. As it would have been impossible to give each of the 2,000 lots a direct shore front, the plan that became so popular was evolved of dedicating a beautiful waterfront park in the centre of the property for all lot owners.

A pier 350 feet long was also erected, and the stipulation made that each inside lot should have forever all boating, bathing and fishing privileges. Besides this, the whole shore front was carefully restricted against business or nuisance, so that there would be for all time a superb waterfront, with picturesque views of Sound and bay from all parts of East Elmhurst. The result of this far-seeing and liberal method of procedure has been found to be financially successful.

On July 1st, 1904, work was commenced in laying out streets, grading, constructing cement sidewalks, laying water and gas mains, planting shade trees.

Anticipating the time when all their property would be sold, the Bankers' Corporation have secured a large tract of land on Woodside avenue, at Elmhurst, Queens Borough, to be called Elmhurst Heights. The property has been carefully graded and streets made; cement curbs, sidewalks and gutters laid, water and gas and shade trees will be on the tract. The trolley passes through the property, which is but 1,000 feet from the projected Union Depot of the Pennsylvania and Belmont tunnels.

The completion of the Blackwell's Island bridge will make this property practically a part of Manhattan. Elmhurst Heights will be carefully restricted. No flat roofs, each dwelling on two lots, setting back twenty feet from the street line; no fences except green hedge or flowers, and nuisances of every kind strictly prohibited. All of the first and second sections have been sold, the third and last section has just been opened and the unprecedented sales make it certain that there will be no more lots in the market by December 1st.

The F. W. Dodge Company (Dodge Reports) has removed to the Metropolitan Annex Building, 11 East 24th st, Manhattan.

Title Passed on the Ditmars Farm. in Brooklyn.

Title was passed this week at the office of the Lawyers' Title Insurance Company to a portion of the "Ditmars" Farm, which was sold recently through the firm of Ernestus Gulick Company to "Estate Agents," a real estate corporation, in which Messrs. Timothy L. Woodruff, William H. English, Ernestus Gulick and George J. Smith are largely interested. As this farm had been in the hands of the original owners for over a hundred years, the surveys were very difficult to determine. The farm formerly belonged to the late James Ditmars, who divided his property into six equal parts of the highland and six equal parts of the lowland, making twelve distinct and separate parcels to be surveyed. As soon as the title is completed, "Estate Agents" will proceed to cut streets through from Vanderveer Park and develop the property.

Obituary Note.

Henry Franklin Kilburn, architect, with offices at 156 5th av, this city, died on Thursday, Sept. 28th, aged 60 years. Mr. Kilburn was a resident of White Plains, New York, was a member of the Architectural League, Washington Post, G. A. R., the Larchmont Yacht Club and the New England Society. The funeral takes place to-day.

Removal—Dodge Reports.

The growth of our business having necessitated a large increase over our present quarters, we shall remove on Sept. 30th, 1905, to the Metropolitan Annex Building, 11 East 24th st, where we will occupy the entire thirteenth floor, and shall be pleased to receive our friends and patrons at all times.

Bids will be received about October 4th, at the office of R. F. Almirall, 51 Chambers st, New York, for the erection of eight institution buildings (reinforced concrete construction) at Mount Loretta, Staten Island, for the Mission of the Immaculate Conception.

Contract Let for Yale Dormitory.

NEW HAVEN, Ct.—Architect Charles C. Haight, of 452 5th av, New York, has just awarded to Messrs. Sperry & Treat Co., of New Haven, Conn., the general contract to build the new 7-sty fireproof dormitory No. 2, 53x117 ft in size, for the Yale University School of Science, to be erected at Grove and Prospect sts, New Haven, Conn., estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. Reported before in issue of Aug. 26th, 1905.

Ralph H. Reid to Build 134th St. Church.

134TH ST.—Ralph H. Reid, 62 Amsterdam av, has just obtained the general contract to build the 1-sty and attic concrete and stone church and dwelling, 50x99.11, for the Mercy Seat Baptist Church, 60 West 134th st, to be erected at Nos. 45-47 West 134th st, at an estimated cost of $50,000. James J. F. Gavigan, 1123 Broadway, is the architect. As soon as plans are approved and a building permit obtained work will be pushed rapidly.

More High-Class Apartments for Seventh Av.

7TH AV.—Neville & Bagge, 217 West 125th st, have been commissioned to prepare plans for the erection of five 6-sty high-class apartment houses, 39.11x90 and 40.6x187, with apartments for sixty-five families each, to be erected on the east side of 7th av, from 145th to 146th sts, at a total cost of $400,000. E. Lowenthal, of No. 99 Nassau st, will be the owner. Light brick and limestone exterior plastic slate roof, terra cotta, tile, marble, hardwood trim, steam heat, electric lights, best open nickel plumbing, mosaic work, etc.

R. H. Casey Gets Lord & Taylor Contract.

5TH AV.—John H. Duncan, 208 5th av, has awarded to R. H. Casey, 109 West 30th st, the general contract to build the 8-sty department store and loft building for the City Investing Co., 111 Broadway, Messrs. Lord & Taylor lessees, on the northeast corner of 5th av and 19th st, having a frontage on 5th av of 46 ft and a depth of 100 ft, and covering the abutting plot at No. 3 East 19th st, 25x92. The site is numbered 119 and 121 5th av. The cost is placed at about $350,000. M. Wasserman & Son, 26 Stanton st, had the contract for tearing down the old building, and the O'Rourke Engineering and Construction Co., the excavating.

Contracts for Clyde Residence.

C. P. H. Gilbert, architect, of No. 1123 Broadway, New York, has awarded the contract for all the interior cabinet work, ornamental iron work, furniture, hangings, rugs, etc., and in fact all complete interior furnishings and finish of the residence for Mr. William P. Clyde, at No. 5 West 51st st, to Messrs. Theo. Hofstatter & Co., under control of the architect, amounting to about $150,000.

The construction work, which is now under way, was awarded to Bunn & Nase, the cut stone work to Jas. Sinclair & Co., and the structural iron to Thomas Dimond. The contracts for the plumbing, electric and heating work have not yet been awarded. The total cost of the building operation will be about $400,000.

Plans Being Refigured for New Arts Club Building.

19TH ST.—George B. Post & Sons, 33 East 17th st, are taking new figures for the general contract from revised plans for the new 7-sty Arts Club and studio building, 59x83, to be erected at 119 East 19th st by the Arts Realty Co., 54 William st, to cost about $200,000. Alterations are to be made to the Tilden Mansion abutting on Gramercy Park, Nos. 14-15, which will connect in the rear with the new structure. The building is four stories with basement, and has a frontage of 59.3⅓ and a depth of 95 ft. When the house was built by Governor Tilden it was considered palatial, and it is well adapted to become the home of a large club such as the Arts Club. But few alterations will be necessary, and aside from this the club wishes, for the sake of its historic associations, to alter the structure as little as possible. The 19th st building will be fireproof, and similar to the well-known studio building in 67th st. It will be for the exclusive use of club members. (See Record and Guide, April 15, 1904.)

The F. W. Dodge Company (Dodge Reports) has removed to the Metropolitan Annex Building, 11 East 24th st, Manhattan.

If you want to see the nicest booklet published about tiles send to the Trent Tile Co., Dept. C, Trenton, N. J.

The F. W. Dodge Company (Dodge Reports) has removed to the Metropolitan Annex Building, 11 East 24th st, Manhattan.

In the section which includes Longwood, Prospect and St. John's avs, Dorsett, Fox and Beck sts, and the Southern Boulevard, in the Bronx, there have been completed, or are being finished this year apartments for 4,500 families.

Bolton Hall has offered the Piscataway (N. J.) Township Board of Education, Plainfield, New Jersey, a plot of land and gift of $500 for the erection of a new school house at the corner of Rushmore av and West 4th st, in that town.

The firm of Small & Schumann, architects for many years, located at 265 Broadway, has been dissolved. Franklin M. Small will retain the offices at 265 Broadway and Charles H. Schumann has opened offices at 280 Broadway, he desires samples and catalogues.

The Edinburgh Architectural Association announce an exhibition of photographs and drawings lent by the Brooklyn (U. S. A.) Museum, in the rooms of the Scottish National Portrait Gallery (Queen st), beginning on September 7 and to continue for two months. This collection, which apart from its special purpose is probably the finest photographic exhibition ever shown, illustrates architectural refinements, especially in French and Italian churches, and for the first time places before the public a full representation of the researches of Professor William H. Goodyear on this subject.

Long Island Estates in $500,000 Deal.

S. Osgood Pell & Co. have sold the entire estate of William P. Douglas, together with the Grenville Kane holdings, at Douglaston, L. I. The properties cover the entire peninsula of Little Neck, about 200 acres of land, with over two miles of water frontage. The tract will be developed in the near future, and probably be put on the market in acreage plots. For nearly a century the Douglas property has been in the hands of that family. Lately it has been leased to Benjamin Guinness and Hugo Baring. The amount involved in the present transaction is said to be about $500,000.

Removal.

Owing to the steady growth of the business of "Dodge Reports" we have been obliged to remove from our present quarters, and on Sept. 30th, 1905, will occupy the entire thirteenth floor of the Metropolitan Annex Building, 11 East 24th st.

Turning Toward Queens.

If the Pennsylvania Railroad, into whose hands the Long Island Railroad Company has happily fallen, means to do for Queens and the suburbs of Brooklyn what it has done for Philadelphia, the housing problem for New York City will be handsomely solved. The Pennsylvania Railroad, more than any other agency, has made Philadelphia a city of homes. Instead of the people being crowded together in tenements, apartment houses and apartment hotels, and nearly every family paying out a larger portion of its income for rent than it ought, they live comfortably in small dwellings in the true American style. The suburbs spreading for miles are filled with the detached villas of the well-to-do, and almost everywhere outside of the business section the population is so distributed, and land values are so reasonable, that families of average means may have their own or separate dwellings if they so desire.

It is said that the interior of Queens Borough will some day be a repetition of the suburbs of Philadelphia, filled with detached dwellings of handsome appearance but modest cost. But for the poor railroad facilities the consummation would not have been so long delayed; but now the rivalry between the Belmont and Pennsylvania interests is likely to hurry improvements along. A satisfactory start has already been made. Anyone who will drive out from the city line toward Jamaica and on to Belmont Park will not fail to see that the dreams of the ambitious home builders of New York City are coming true.

Until Jamaica is reached there is almost a continuous chain of building operations, especially at Richmond Hill. If it happens to be a Saturday afternoon you will most likely pass at least one auction sale of lots. Level, luxuriant and pleasant to the eye, the country is well adapted to refined living, and it is said that the prospector quickly falls into the purchasing mood. The most popular route to this region has been by the elevated and the trolley in combination. But now the third rail system of the Long Island Railroad is in operation to Jamaica, and from there trains are running in to the Flatbush Avenue station in twenty-three minutes. Next week the electric system will be in operation to Belmont Park.

Long Island City, of which the first impression is usually unfavorable, will see a great forward movement from now on. The Borough President is opening twenty-four more streets, beginning work upon a comprehensive system of sewers in the Maspeth section, and projecting an enormous amount of other work. Already the rate of growth in Queens is larger than for any other borough. Among the young men of the older sections of the city there is a surprising interest in the progress of Queens, the general belief being that while prices will always be moderate there, at the same time the restrictions on property will keep it from becoming ragged.

A PRIVATE CHAPEL IN WESTCHESTER.

Mr. Bossert Sells.

Charles Heinsheimer, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., bankers, of Manhattan, has purchased the residence of Louis Bossert, the well-known manufacturer of sash blinds and general woodwork, of Brooklyn, situated at Breezy Point, in the Bayswater section of Far Rockaway. The tract contains nearly five acres of ground, and projects into Jamaica Bay. It has been in the hands of Mr. Bossert for the last fifteen years. The purchase price is reported at $50,000. Mr. Bossert recently purchased the country seat of James H. Hyde.

THIS illustrates the bronze Marquise of Hotel St. Regis, New York, Messrs. Trowbridge and Livingston, Architects, considered by connoisseurs to be the finest of its kind in the world. Over twenty tons of bronze were used in its fabricating, the massive brackets alone weighing a ton each. This wonderful achievement in art metal work is but one of many for which this firm is famous and of which they are the pioneers and leading manufacturers in this country.

Sewer System for Newtown.

NEW 15-FT. PIPE AND LATERALS TO RUN THROUGH RIDGEWOOD AND MASPETH.

At the last meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment action was taken by which the drainage of that area of the old Second Ward of Queens, comprised within the boundaries of Ridgewood and Maspeth, is now assured. The Board adopted a map for the St. Nicholas av tunnel, an improvement feature in connection with the new drainage system. The tunnel will be about 18 ft. in diameter.

Borough President Cassidy has had this matter of the institution of a proper system through Ridgewood and Maspeth under way in the Sewer Department of Queens for months past. He has recognized the importance of this improvement, and the engineers and draughtsmen of the Sewer Department have been at work for a long time preparing the plans and detail drawings.

This new system will extend over an area of over 3,000 acres. Much of this land is undeveloped. A portion, however, that on the south, adjoining Brooklyn, is thickly settled.

The construction maps are completed, and are on file at the office of the Sewer Department in the Borough Hall. A glance at these important papers will give a clear idea of the magnitude of the work about to be inaugurated. The extent and detail of these maps testify to the vast scope of the improvement.

It will be one of the most extensive drainage systems in all Greater New York. The main trunk sewer will be 15 ft. in diameter. The lateral sewers will connect with this main line, which will be the largest single sewer in Greater New York. The introduction of this sewer system means the building up of the entire country in the vicinity of those places.

The F. W. Dodge Company (Dodge Reports) has removed to the Metropolitan Annex Building, 11 East 24th st, Manhattan.

Building Enterprise at Astoria.

Concerning the plans of the Wolcott Construction Company at Astoria, Mr. C. Steinmetz, of 60 Liberty st, Manhattan, the architect, in an interview for publication, said:

"We have already purchased about seventy acres of land. There being about twelve lots to the acre, there are altogether from 800 to 900 lots. The land is bounded by Hallett st on the west, Wolcott av on the north and Lawrence st on the east. Each of the forty-six houses we are to build here will cost $5,000, or, altogether, $220,000. The apartment houses on the avenue will be like those on many of the new thoroughfares of New York. We are, however, going to build not less than 300 houses there; maybe more, if we see that the field is there for it. We propose to create a settlement that will be a pride to Long Island City because we have the field all to ourselves, and believe we are capable of creating a neighborhood that would not possibly be otherwise built up. We can set the pace there for the character of improvements.

"There will be from ten to twelve designs altogether," he added. "All the houses on the streets will be frame houses of Colonial design, and on the avenues there will be apartment houses.

"The apartment houses along Ditmars and Van Alst avs will be three and four stories in height, and will cost from $7,500 to $11,000 each. Altogether," said Mr. Steinmetz in conclusion, "we are beginning operations that are to cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $2,200,000."

"And who are the members of the company?" he was asked.

"They do not wish to be known," said Mr. Steinmetz, promptly. "Mr. Thompson is the president. He is a Manhattan real estate dealer of known repute. All the other members of the company are Manhattan men, with but one exception.

"The forty-six houses with which we are to proceed at once will be on Goodrich and Chauncey sts, between Wolcott and Ditmars avs.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Baragain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 ndicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before 2d figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

September 22, 23, 25, 26, 27, 28.
